John Haynes Holmes Tells Community Forum That World Faces Serious Crisis

Says Present Civilization May Be Doomed and Either Fascism Or Communism Will Follow in Most Countries

Advancing the startling thesis that our present civilization is doomed, John Haynes Holmes, nationally known speaker, electrified a large audience last Sunday afternoon in the Newton High School Auditorium, at the successful launching of the Newton Community Forum.

"We live in one of the critical phases of world history," said the speaker, "and we should have to go back to the fall of the Roman Empire to find a time of equal uncertainty. I am not sure that we are not headed toward a repetition of the Dark Ages. It is indeed possible that our civilization may break up and our culture disappear. Today the world is on the threshold of another great war of even greater intensity than the World War of twenty years ago. It may come within two or three weeks. My own conviction is that it may be postponed for three or four years but will then be inevitable.

"This crisis is the third great crisis since the opening of the Christian Era. The first was the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, when a magnificent civilization, reaching the zenith of human happiness in the time of the Antonines, fell to pieces and the whole fabric of civilization vanished.

"Next came the civilization of feudalism. This was a natural social growth and held Europe together for 600 to 800 years. Its collapse, the second great crisis of history, was marked by 200 years of great wars and destruction.

"The third period of civilization was ushered in by the Renaissance and the Reformation. It developed into our modern industrial system.

"Now we are confronted by the third great crisis. Owing to forces more fundamental than the Great War, but hastened by that conflict, capitalism has collapsed. Our western industrialism has gone to pieces and no one can do anything to save it. It has served its purpose and must give way before the advance of a new type of civilization.

"The change will be difficult and may involve untold suffering. Yet I am not a pessimist. The job will have to be done in the next generation or so. You and I and our children have got to do it. Industrialism has done its work. It solved the problem of production. That was its great achievement—the substitution of a surplus in the world's goods, instead of the deficit of former times.

"But, having solved production, industrialism can solve nothing else. Only a new civilization can raise mankind to a new plane by solving the problem of distribution."

Contending that Russia had already solved this problem, and is now providing the spectacle of a gigantic laboratory experiment in the development of a new type of civilization under the brilliant statesmanship of Stalin, Mr. Holmes nevertheless condemned communism for the three grave defects of violence, dictatorship and materialism.

Amelia Earhart At Channing Church Dec. 13

Famous Aviatix Will Relate Experiences

America's most distinguished "First Lady", or, perhaps better, a "Lady of Firsts", comes to Channing Church, Newton, next Dec. 13th.

No woman today has had more "firsts" to her credit than Amelia Earhart.

This slim American girl, whose mop of tousled blonde hair has become so universally known to newsreel and newspaper audiences, seems to have something of a complex for doing a thing the first time.

"Of course, it is fun to try something new," Miss Earhart says, "I suppose that's the thrill of exploration—the joy of pioneering, of seeing for the first time from the sea or from the air a land that no one else has seen. Consciously, or unconsciously, it is that feeling which drives men like Wilkins, Byrd and Stefansson to far ends of the earth. And men like Picard and Settel into the stratosphere 50,000 feet, above us and Beebe, in his steel diving ball, a half mile below the surface of the water. Everyone of them is doing something that has never been done before."

When questioned about her own string of records, Miss Earhart was characteristically modest in deprecating them. She always says that many others, with proper equipment, can do as well. She stresses the fact that almost everything she does or tries to do is "For the fun of it" which, by the way, is the title of her book describing her own flying experiences and the work of women generally in aviation together with an account of her historic crossing of the Atlantic.

Miss Earhart's records of "Firsts" is diversified: Beginning at the beginning, her first flight as a passenger in California twelve years ago was made with Frank Hawks, the famous speed pilot of today. She says that from the moment she left the ground she knew she would have to fly herself. Incidentally, she learned to fly before she learned to drive a car. It is also interesting to note that she took a job in the office of a telephone company in Los Angeles.

Temperley Holds Up Renewal Of Bus Franchise

Raises Charter Objection At Aldermen's Meeting

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday night. Aldermen Bowen, Cronin, Floyd, Goddard and Melcher were absent. The meeting was called to order at 8:15 by President Gordon. A "short" recess was taken at 8:29, the open meeting was resumed at 9:53 and adjourned at 10 o'clock. The feature of the very short open meeting was a charter objection raised by Alderman Temperley against rushing through a renewal of the bus franchise of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition to have a sewer and drain laid in Paulson rd., a new street which runs from Gordon rd. to Evelyn rd., Waban. This is in the area between Beacon and Chestnut sts. Arthur K. Reading appeared to favor the petition. He said he is president of the New England Homes, Inc., a company which has already built 6 houses on Paulson rd., and intends to erect a total of 45 residences in the development. He said the enterprise is giving employment to many, will add to the tax revenue of the city, and modern sanitation facilities are required. Mr. Reading said that a large parcel of land has been purchased from Henry B. Day and title to another large parcel is about to be taken from G. Howard Frost.

Alderman Temperley asked Reading if Newton men are being employed on the many houses which have been and are to be erected? Reading answered that he could not promise that Newton men will be employed. He said the workmen were hired on the basis of their skill. Later in the meeting $623 were appropriated to build the sewer in Paulson rd. It was explained that $3200 of this sum will eventually be repaid to the city through assessments on property owners.

A supplementary list of election officers appointed by Mayor Weeks to fill vacancies in the previous appointments was received and those submitted were confirmed by the Aldermen. They are—Ward 3, Precinct 2: Clerk, Thomas F. McGough, Democrat, 1407a Washington st. Ward 3, Precinct 2: Inspectors—J. Ellis Bowen, 24 Parsons st., Republican; Patrick (Continued on Page 12)

Candidates For Aldermen Tell of Qualifications

Have Only Few Minutes To Do So At Rallies

Candidates for the Board of Aldermen have been attending rallies the past week and have met with varying degrees of success in their efforts to tell of their qualifications. At some of the rallies they have been permitted to speak until they saw fit to voluntarily conclude their remarks. At other rallies they have been quite limited in time. At the rally held in the high school auditorium on Wednesday night under the auspices of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, the candidates for Mayor were given but a scant 7 minutes, and candidates for Aldermen were abruptly interrupted when they had spoken for only 3 minutes. Alderman Benjamin Bowen was drafted as timekeeper, and he was kept busy telling the speakers to stop. Mrs. J. E. Parker was chairman of the meeting. On the same night another open rally was held at the Underwood School under the auspices of the Ward 1 Improvement Association. Miss Eleanor Mulcahy was chairman of this meeting, and all who spoke were allowed as much time as they desired.

Waldo Weldon, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 1, said he is a life-long resident of Newton, knows its people and its needs and aspires to serve in the Board as did his father 30 years ago. Frank T. McCabe, present Alderman from Ward 1, said he has endeavored to serve his constituents efficiently the past year and will continue to do so if reelected. He mentioned his efforts to have the old school buildings in his ward replaced. Henry I. Morrison, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, said he is not receiving the support of the clique which has been dominating Newton's politics in recent years, and which hand picks candidates. Morrison said those selected by this group must obey orders and cannot properly represent the people as a whole. He told of his experience in the Malden city government, and promised that as an experienced business man and lawyer, he will work for the interests of all the people, if elected, and endeavor to assist in keeping tax rates low. Morrison read a letter of endorsement from John Gordon, president of the Aldermen, as follows:

Dear Mr. Morrison: I am glad to see that you have become so interested in our fine city. Since our law school days when I greatly admired your pluck and determination coupled with your many duties, I have had the pleasure of seeing that that determination and ability as disclosed then, has brought forth the fruits of your labors in your law practice, in your civic associations and in your family life. It has been my pleasure to know of the progress made by your sons through Harvard and your daughter in Radcliffe and I know that you (Continued on page 12)

Childs, Holden, Needham, Speak At Many Rallies. Drake Out Of Fight

Childs' Record Criticized by Needham Supporters—Ex-Mayor Praised by Former Supt. of Schools Wheeler

The various candidates for Mayor and Aldermen have been busy this week attending numerous rallies in various parts of the city. On Tuesday night at the Auburndale Club the four candidates for Mayor and many of the candidates for Aldermen spoke. Ex-Mayor Childs refuted the claim which had been made by Needham supporters that he had not given sufficient attention to Newton's schools. Mr. Childs told of the many new schools erected in the city during his administration, of the improvements made in older schools, the introduction of the junior high school system. He read a letter signed by former Supt. of Schools Ulysses G. Wheeler, in which Mr. Wheeler lauded Childs for his cooperation in advancing the standard of Newton public schools. Mr. Wheeler also praised Childs for not attempting to use political influence in the conduct of Newton's schools and in appointments of teachers.

Paul Harris Drake, the fourth candidate for Mayor has virtually withdrawn from the contest by publicly urging his supporters to vote for Edwin O. Childs.

General Daniel Needham at rallies this week reiterated his assertions that if elected Mayor he will not turn the police and fire departments upside as has been rumored, but that if he finds any department needing reorganizing, he will do so. He said that he feels that whatever success he has had is due to the fact that he has been known as a "square shooter", and that any city employee who does his work properly, will have nothing to fear from him.

Mr. Needham said that the argument against him "that he has lived in Newton only 12 years is about the worst argument that can be offered, as he is proud of the fact that he selected Newton as a home and has lived here sufficiently long to become thoroughly imbued with the Newton spirit, and intends to reside here the remainder of his life. He stated that Mr. Childs has held the office of Mayor for 12 years, and this is long enough for any man. Younger men should be given the opportunity to serve and prove their worth."

At the rally under the auspices of the Women's Clubs in the high school auditorium on Wednesday night, Mr. Needham commented on Mr. Childs' slams at Jim Depsey. Inasmuch as Depsey is going to terminate his duties at City Hall on December 31st, Needham said Childs could not fire him and he should not be made an issue in the campaign. Needham strongly endorsed the policies which have characterized Mayor Weeks' administration. He commended Weeks for having work done by city employees instead of by contractors, thus giving a maximum amount of employment to Newton men and relieving the pressure on welfare aid. He said that citizens of Newton are proud to live in a city which has the lowest tax rate of any city in this State, and whose credit is such that it recently borrowed $300,000 at an interest rate of 15/100 of 1%.

Mr. Needham said he is deeply grateful for the confidence placed in him by the thousands of Newton citizens who have been supporting him, and that he will keep faith by carrying on the good work of Mayor Weeks and make Newton even more outstanding in this Commonwealth.

At the Needham rally in the F. A. Day School on Tuesday night Alderman Charles Floyd said he would take up Childs' debt to state in the open the criticisms of the former Mayor which have been made in parlor gatherings. Floyd said that Childs is affable and honest, but lacking in executive ability. He claimed that Childs twice vetoed the zoning ordinance when it was proposed in 1922. He said that 16 years in office is long enough for any man and there should be rotation. Floyd argued that the fact there was an unexpended balance in the city treasury when Childs retired, showed the taxes had been too high. He said Childs was noted for approving the budget recommendations of department heads including salary increases, and then left the Finance Committee of the Aldermen to make necessary reductions.

Sydney Holden reassured that no matter who is elected Mayor, the tax rate must be increased at least 90 cents next year to repay the $150,000 borrowed this year on tax titles by Mayor Weeks so that he could keep the tax rate for 1935 low. Holden announced a program which he would put into effect. It includes the replacing of old, wooden schools; establishment of municipal parking areas in the various business sections; supervision at public playgrounds after schools open in September until cool weather stops the use of the playgrounds; revision of the building code to conform with the proposed changes in the zoning ordinance; eliminating the performance of traffic duty by boys and the appointment of more policemen to assist in this and other needed police work; resurfacing of streets and sidewalks and better lighting of streets; appointing Newton men and women to public positions in this city, instead of giving such jobs to non-residents. He said that the tax rate can be kept down by efficient management and by careful supervision of city expenses.

Ex-Mayor Childs said his opponents on the Needham side argue that he held office too long. He commented that his political opponents had made the same criticism all during his term of office; that the first two years he served were too long, according to them. He said Leverett Saltonstall and Sinclair Weeks have both been in office about as long as he was, but their supporters do not claim they have been holding office too long. He referred to a statement made by former Alderman Roy Collins at the Day School rally the night before. Collins had said that Childs has no executive ability. Childs replied by saying that Collins was first elected to the Board of Aldermen in 1921 as a Childs supporter in the campaign when Leon Rogers was a candidate for Mayor, and that Collins for years after lauded Childs as an efficient Mayor. Childs said that he doesn't blame Collins for his change of attitude but (Continued on page 12)

THE END OF THE TRAIL

The end of the trail is at hand as the campaigns for the offices to be filled at the city election come to a close this coming week-end and the voters go to the polls next Tuesday to cast their ballots. Once again we would remind the voters of Newton that it is not only their privilege but their duty to vote on Tuesday, in order that the true wishes of the majority shall prevail in the selection of those men who are to govern the city in 1936. Once again we feel that it is desirable that we state our policy in regard to the discussion of politics. As a news medium we strive continually to place before our readers all the facts and during election times, as far as publicity is concerned, strive to treat all candidates without fear or favor. As a newspaper striving for what we believe to be the best interests of the city we have for many years followed the policy of taking a definite stand on matters of importance and upon candidates for major offices. We also adopted the policy of "laissez faire" with writers whose articles in our columns appear under their names, and reserving for this column the policy and attitude of the paper itself. We have been criticized, condemned, and even threatened with the cancellation of a few subscriptions because we have taken this stand. However, we will continue to strive to interest the people of Newton with a newspaper of interest to all; we will continue to uphold our policy of not suppressing the views of members of our staff, even though they differ at times, and we will continue to take a definite stand upon issues and candidates in the interests of the common good of the entire city.

THE MAYORALTY

The mayoralty campaign now drawing to a close has been one of the most interesting in many years. There is, in some instances, a wide difference of opinion, yet we are impressed by the friendly spirit which for the most part seems to prevail. As usual in Newton the campaign has been reasonably free from the political "mud-slinging" that is characteristic of politics in other places and which, especially in Newton, rouses a feeling of disgust upon the part of every citizen interested in good government.

In the past two weeks we have emphatically expressed our opinion that General Needham is the best qualified of the mayoralty candidates to carry on the business administration that the city of Newton, with nearly a five million dollar budget, needs. In this connection we would point out that it seems significant that only one of nine aldermen who served as chairmen of the Committee on Finance during the sixteen years of Mayor Childs' administration is actively supporting the former mayor. On the other hand at least four of these nine men who had a part in the financial affairs of the city are urging the election of General Needham. We believe, in addition, that the election of Daniel Needham will bring new viewpoints and new aggressiveness which will mean progress in our municipal government. Like many others we have a sincere feeling of friendship for Edwin O. Childs and are fully appreciative of his honesty and faithfulness while serving the city for sixteen years. Alderman Sydney B. Holden has proved himself a valuable servant during his years as a member of the Board of Aldermen. It is hardly to be expected that he can approach the personal popularity of the two major candidates, and we feel that he unwisely chose to become a candidate at this time. We do not condemn any candidate for seeking to serve the city as mayor, and in some future campaign may gladly and enthusiastically endorse his candidacy. The announced fourth candidate, Paul H. Drake, has withdrawn from the race. There is but once choice the voters should make in selecting their next mayor—General Daniel Needham.

THE ALDERMEN AT-LARGE

There are seven aldermen-at-large to be elected, one from each ward in the city. Alderman Benjamin B. Bowen of Ward 3 is the only candidate unopposed, giving the voters throughout the city an opportunity to make their decisions in the six other wards. In Ward 1 Alderman Frank T. McCabe is running for re-election, after having served one year of the unexpired term of the late Alderman Howlett. Alderman McCabe received our support a year ago and we believe that he should be re-elected over his opponent, Waldo S. Weldon. In Ward 2 the retirement of Alderman Grebenstein causes a vacancy which is being sought by Donald M. Hill, Ward Alderman for the past four years, and Henry I. Morrison, attorney, and formerly active in Malden politics some twenty years ago. Alderman Hill has served Newtonville conscientiously for four years and last year graciously stepped aside in favor of the election of Alderman Albert M. Lyon as the other Alderman-at-large from Ward 2, retaining his seat as ward alderman during this year. Mr. Morrison has waged an active, intelligent campaign and is an individual with high ideals and sound judgment. We believe, however, that Alderman Hill's experience during the four years of difficult problems will be of great value to the incoming mayor, whoever he may be, and that Alderman Hill is entitled to the seat as Alderman-at-Large.

In Ward 4 a three-cornered contest is being waged for the seat held by retiring President John H. Gordon. Ward Alderman Dennis M. Cronin is seeking promotion and is opposed by George A. Bacon and Rev. John Shade Franklin. We have frequently disagreed with Alderman Cronin's views, although we like his attitude in standing up for the things in which he believes. Mr. Bacon has lived in Auburndale for many years and will undoubtedly view the problems of his community and of the entire city with understanding and judgment. Mr. Franklin has a considerable acquaintanceship throughout the city, but in our opinion is not representative of the city, nor has he the training or knowledge of the city which we expect from our aldermanic candidates. Mr. Bacon is our choice as the candidate who would bring sounder judgment to the Board of Aldermen.

Alderman-at-Large John Temperley is being opposed for re-election from Ward 5 by George W. Cashman, an energetic young man of good standing. We urge the re-election of Mr. Temperley, whose knowledge of Newton is equal if not greater than that of any member of the Board. He has served Ward 5 conscientiously and faithfully and has frequently uncovered facts in relation to particular problems which have resulted in wiser action by his associates than might otherwise have been the case. In Ward 6 Alderman Paul M. Goddard is seeking the seat as alderman-at-large being vacated by Mayoralty candidate Sydney B. Holden. Mr. Goddard is being opposed by Roger J. Gardner, a well-known man whose business contacts in Newton are wide. We know of no reason why Alderman Goddard should not be advanced, and neither do we know of any reason why Mr. Gardner should be defeated. Mr. Goddard has served two years and has always had the interests of the people at heart. Mr. Gardner would undoubtedly do likewise. In this contest we have as yet reached no decision and may not do so until we mark our ballot on Tuesday.

In Ward 7 Alderman-at-Large George E. Rawson is being opposed for re-election by James M. Manning. Mr. Rawson has long been active in city affairs and should receive the overwhelming endorsement of the voters of the city. We have long admired his judgment and greatly pleased that he was available to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of former Alderman Joseph J. Murray a little more than a year ago.

With the election of Aldermen McCabe, Hill, Bowen, Bacon, Temperley, Rawson, and either Goddard or Gardner, we believe that the city would be provided with a Board of Aldermen in keeping with the high standard of those that have characterized the city for many years.

THE WARD ALDERMEN

The voters of the various wards are also confronted with the task of making selections in the various parts of the city of seven Ward Aldermen. In each ward there is a contest, with four candidates on the ballot in Ward 2 and two candidates in each of the other wards. In Ward 1 Alderman James P. Akins is opposed for re-election by Pasquale DeLuco. The voters in this section of the city are somewhat divided in their opinion as to the merits of the candidates, with the advantage going to Alderman Akins because of his successful campaign of a year ago. In Ward 2 Alderman Hill's decision to seek the seat as Alderman-at-large has brought considerable interest in the selection of his successor. The four candidates are Harold W. Jones, W. Clarence Lodge, former Alderman Daniel O'Connell and Carl F. Schipper, Jr. Mr. Jones is probably the least known of the three. Mr. O'Connell served as Ward alderman for four years some time ago. Mr. Lodge is well-known and personally popular. Mr. Schipper has been active in political and civic affairs and is among the outstanding lawyers of his generation. Two years ago we supported Mr. Lodge in his candidacy for alderman-at-large. In the present campaign, however, Mr. Schipper was the first to announce his candidacy, while Mr. Lodge did not enter the field until the last day or two before the time expired for filing nominations. Our support has been given Mr. Schipper for several months, with a knowledge of the capability he possesses we are pleased to endorse him.

In Ward 3 a strenuous campaign is being waged by Algeron W. McCarthy to unseat the popular Alfred R. Guzzi, candidate for re-election. Mr. Guzzi has been considerably active in behalf of his West Newton constituents during the past year and has many friends throughout the ward. The voters in this ward have been acquainted during the campaign with all the arguments that they need to make up their minds and there is nothing we can add to the situation other than the hope that "may the best man win." In Ward 4 the voters have been acquainted thoroughly with the qualifications of the two candidates, John F. Brockelsby and Ralph D. Weston, seeking the seat now held by Alderman Dennis M. Cronin. Here again, "may the best man win."

Alderman Clifford H. Walker is opposed for re-election in Ward 5 by Robert H. Quint, an unsuccessful candidate at a previous election. Alderman Walker should and probably will be elected, as he has been a faithful and conscientious servant.

In Ward 6 the two candidates are Gilbert C. Burns and Harold R. Keller. We know of nothing which will cause the voters of this Ward to be displeased over the selection of either and believe the voters there are acquainted with all the necessary facts.

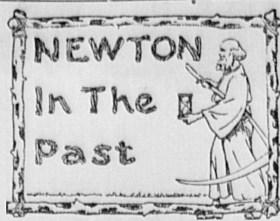

Alderman James B. Melcher is being opposed for re-election by Ellis Sutcliffe, a former unsuccessful candidate. Alderman Melcher has gained the respect of the voters of the ward through his service for the past two years and in his capacity as a bank official brings valuable training to the financial affairs of the city. The voters can make no mistake in re-electing Mr. Melcher.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

There are four members of the school committee to be elected, but in only one case is there a contest. The contest is for the seat as school committee member from Ward 1 where School-Committeeman Franklin E. Smith is being opposed for re-election by Francis P. Frazier. Mr. Smith has served one term of three years and is, we believe, entitled to re-election. His opponent is basing his campaign largely upon the fact that he has the requisite training for the office through his position as a submaster in a Boston school. We believe that the administration and supervision of the school activities by the school committee is more efficiently handled by persons who can regard their task from angles other than that of the faculty.

THE NEWTON FORUM

The Newton Forum series opened last Sunday should rapidly develop into an important community function. A large audience was greatly interested in the views of John Haynes Holmes on current trends in America although far from being in unanimous agreement with him. The range of questions which followed Dr. Holmes' address showed a wide understanding of the underlying causes and an appreciation of the problems affecting the nation and the world at large. As the speaker pointed out—"we learn by experience" and only through education can we develop the best methods. The Forum has something to offer citizens of Newton in all walks of life. We trust that they will accept the opportunity offered them to learn and discuss the problems presented interpolated by the various speakers in an even greater manifestation of interest than was given last Sunday. If you were not present, plan to attend the next Forum.

Newton Republican, Dec. 9, 1876

The city election on Tuesday passed off very quietly. The vote thrown was less than that at the Presidential election last month, which was 1713 for Hayes and 835 for Tilden; 2603 in all. The highest vote this time was for George S. Bullens for Alderman of Ward 7; he received 1607 votes. Mayor Speare received 1437 votes. Only four members of the first city government (1873) who have been in continuous service were re-elected: Messrs Barnes, Keith, Allen and Edmunds. Three of the aldermen elected have not seen service in that Board. Eight of the Councilmen are new members. Wards 1, 2 and 5 send all new Councilmen. The School Committee has two new members from Ward 2.

The great popularity attending the entertainment to be given in Eliot Hall on Wednesday evening next is seen in the fact that the committee of ladies who have canvassed Wards 1, 2 and 7 have met with grand success in selling tickets, and if those whom they have not been able to see, will purchase tickets at one of the Apothecary stores where the tickets are on sale, there will be added to the treasuries of the Girls Orphan Home and the Boys' Home, money that will help very much toward relieving their wants this winter.

W. P. Perry of West Newton manufactures some of the best harnesses in use.

Collier & Perkins have an excellent stock of goods for the holidays. It will pay to look at their stock of albums and photographs.

50 YEARS AGO

The result of the city election on Tuesday was the defeat of the head of the Republican ticket, and a second victory for the Citizens' movement which succeeded two years ago in electing for the first time their candidate for Mayor. The majority given Mayor Kimball two years ago, 214, was increased to 266, and the friends of the Mayor are jubilant. A large demonstration was made on Tuesday evening at his residence on Washington Park, Newtonville. The vote on license was 1176 votes to 165 votes. Mayor Kimball received 1291 votes, and his opponent, Dwight Chester, 1025.

The question of increased accommodations for the high school has been under consideration for some time. There have been several conferences between the Public Property Committee of the City Council and the Buildings Committee of the School Board. The prevailing feeling of the conference committee appears to be in favor of a brick building, capable of accommodating 800 pupils; which can be built by sections, one section to be built now and the others to be added later. At the last meeting of the committee a vote was passed to request Newton architects to furnish rough sketches for such a building without cost to the city. The present high school lot is about 325 by 138 feet, level with the street. It is possible that additional land may be obtained to make the lot 138 feet wide.

A grand benefit concert will be given at Eliot Hall on Tuesday night for the benefit of the Newton Cottage Hospital. The program will be by J. P. Cobb's Vocal Club assisted by J. Howard Richardson's Orchestra, augmented to twenty pieces.

Newton Graphic, December 9, 1910
Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, one of the most noted women of the century died at her home in Chestnut Hill last Saturday night at 10:55. Mrs. Eddy was born in Bow, New Hampshire, in 1821 and had resided in Newton since 1908. She had been indisposed for about nine days, but had been up and dressed, and as late as Thursday transacted business with one of the officials of the Christian Science Church. Saturday night she quietly fell asleep, and those around her could hardly realize at first that she had gone. Her thought was clear until the last, and she left no final message.

An interesting meeting was held at the Newton Club on Saturday evening on invitation of Hon. George Hutchinson and William M. Flinders, the Newton members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce Committee to consider a Greater Boston. About 150 gentlemen were present and showed their interest by staying until a late hour. Mr. Hutchinson read a report prepared by the expert employed by the committee as to the different plans which would bring about a Greater Boston, including annexation, close federation and loose federation. He believed there are some advantages to be gained, if they have been magnified. He questioned the advisability of metropolitan police and fire departments, and parks, and favored metropolitan sewers and water. He favored a plan similar to the London County Council. Mayor Hatfield favored a federation which would not lose our individuality and right to govern ourselves. He was opposed to political annexation and to metropolitan street lights, police and schools.

Powers' Paragraphs

The only contest for School Committee at the coming election is between Franklin E. Smith and Francis P. Frazier as member from Ward 1. Both are men of high character and ability. We have known Mr. Smith and his father, the late S. Curtis Smith for over 30 years. Mr. Frazier has been our friend for many years. Months ago when Mr. Smith, who has creditably served one term, informed us he would be a candidate for re-election, we told him we would support him, and we are doing so. Were Mr. Smith not a candidate, we would deem it a privilege to vote for Mr. Frazier.

We inquired this week of Mrs. Margaret L. Spear, secretary of the Republican City Committee, as to whether or not this political organization will endorse candidates for Mayor and Aldermen this year. We were informed that no meeting of the committee has been called to take such action, and it is assumed that there will be no endorsements by it. We are pleased to learn that the Republican City Committee is this year refraining from injecting partisan politics into Newton's non-partisan elections. In recent years the committee has been severely criticized for indulging in such endorsements. One result of the committee's past interference in local elections was the introduction of a bill in the Legislature this year which sought to change the method of conducting elections in Newton. Although this bill was defeated, we believe that the agitation had some influence in causing a change of attitude on the part of the Republican City Committee.

The writer was one of the sponsors of the bill referred to. We were impelled to urge this bill largely through the action of the Republican City Committee last year in endorsing a young man who was a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 1, after the majority of the members of the Ward 1 Republican committee had endorsed another candidate. The candidate who was turned down by the Republican City Committee was Major Frank T. McCabe. We had suggested to Mr. McCabe that he become a candidate for the Board of Aldermen and took an active part in his campaign. Mr. McCabe was not widely known in the city and therefore did not know many persons whom he could ask to endorse him. He did know Hon. Edwin O. Childs, asked the latter for an endorsement, and was outspoken in his expressions of appreciation when Mr. Childs consented in discussing with Mr. McCabe the names of other prominent citizens who might endorse him, we suggested General Needham, because of the fact that Mr. McCall had served honorably many years in the United States Army and had not long before been retired with the rank of Major. Mr. McCabe replied that he did not know General Needham well enough to ask him.

Early last January Mr. McCabe informed Mr. Childs that he was being urged to endorse Mr. Needham for Mayor and he asked Mr. Childs if the latter would be a candidate. Mr. Childs stated he had not definitely decided at that time. Since then Mr. McCabe has not only endorsed Mr. Needham, but he has allowed the use of his name in other ways in furthering Mr. Needham's candidacy. Mr. McCabe has an absolute legal and political right to pursue such a course. But, when we observe Mr. McCabe ally-ing himself in Newton politics with men would not openly support him last year, we do not admire his lack of loyalty to Mr. Childs who aided him in his candidacy for Alderman twelve months ago.

One of the most spirited contests in the city is that for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4. The candidates are Dennis M. Cronin who has served as Ward Alderman the past 3 years, George A. Bacon and John S. Franklin. Mr. Bacon has been active in civic affairs in Auburndale during his 30 years residence and is a past president of the Auburndale Community Club. Mr. Franklin, although a new resident of Auburndale, is widely known because of having been pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church at West Newton. Mr. Cronin has been quite energetic in his efforts to improve conditions in his Ward while Alderman. While we have at times criticized Mr. Cronin for some of his views, we favor his candidacy for the reason that he insists on knowing the details on matters on which he votes, and he brings out into open meetings facts which otherwise would have been kept concealed as a result of the practice of the Board of Aldermen in spending more of its time in secret sessions. Some men of his type are much needed in the Board of Aldermen.

The contest for Ward Alderman in Ward 4 is also lively. Ralph D. Weston, who has been a resident of Auburndale for 10 years, and John F. Brockelsby, a life-long resident of the district, are candidates. The latter has been active in obtaining improvements for Auburndale, and because of his knowledge of that section has many supporters who believe he would be an efficient Alderman.

A real battle is being waged for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2 between Donald M. Hill and Henry I. Morrison. Mr. Hill has the advantage of having been Ward Alderman for 4 years, and has the support of the Weeks machine. But, Mr. Morrison, a man of likable personality, able and aggressive, has been conducting a vigorous campaign and is recognized as a contestant to be reckoned with.

Some city employees residing in the Nonantum district were sent letters asking them to serve as ushers at a rally to be held in the Stearns School tomorrow night for Daniel Needham. They were instructed to fill out an enclosed postcard, signing their names, and also to sign their name at the head of a Needham nomination paper which was enclosed. The card and nomination paper were to be returned to the Mayor's secretary within a week. And we are told that we have a "non-political" government in Newton.

In a Newton newspaper yesterday was an advertisement inserted by Paul Harris Drake which attacked the candidacy of Daniel Needham. Ostensibly this advertisement was written by Drake to benefit Edwin O. Childs. But, Drake will have a difficult time convincing friends of Childs, including the writer, that the ad was for Childs' benefit. That part of this advertisement referring to Holden splitting the Needham vote in the Newton Centre seemed too obvious. We don't wonder that Mr. Drake deemed it necessary to state at the bottom of the ad that he paid for it exclusively.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Will St. Nicholas Agree?

Now that it has become practically obligatory to do Christmas purchasing and mailing early, and sooner if possible, I hasten to announce my compliance with the edict. Indeed, I am ready to go further and decide upon my list for the night before Christmas. Unless thwarted by circumstances, I intend to lie in wait for Santa Claus and thumb a ride around Newton, hanging on the back runners of his sleigh. All my life I yearned to ride behind reindeer. I do not expect him to refuse me that bit of fun but if he does it will prove that he is not the jolly old fellow so often pictured.

"Number, Please"

A great deal of stress appears to be laid upon the subject of etiquette. You will find not only newspaper syndicates featuring the daily writings of some recognized authority, but you will also observe bookstalls with volumes by these and other famous arbiters. I haven't seen anybody take up the etiquette of the telephone booth. The rest of us find ourselves forced at times to call from one of these contraptions. My experience has been that they are always occupied by people who cannot express their thoughts under 30 minutes. I remember seeing a woman in a booth for so long a period that, with my imagination keyed by numerous detective stories, I began to wonder if a murder had been committed and the body thrust into the booth.

It has often struck me that the telephone company might make money if it established an automatic lunch in connection with each pay station. And I know I have seen both men and women, on different occasions, snoozing away. Life being what it is, none of these things surprises me, but I do get sore when, after waiting 15 or 20 minutes, a man steps out of the booth and, instead of making way for me, says, "I've got another call to make. Have you got two nickles for a dime?"

They're Never Satisfied

If you have ever watched the fire department of a city in action you know they go to things systematically. This is not saying that firemen are unskilled but they do occasionally get rattled and do foolish things. Therefore, let's stick to the town because this story concerns a good-sized city. What I want you to agree to is that when firemen chop at the roof or squirt the extinguisher they know what they're at.

You'd think the people whose property they are trying to save would grasp the idea. But they don't. Whatever the firemen do and no matter their success in making what is known as a "quick stop," some householders fail to show gratitude. The prize as the champion glow, I should say, goes to a Boston woman, who, after the firemen had made short work of what promised to be a nasty fire in her home, fumed and fretted until they left. Not a word of thanks did she utter, but, gazing sourly about the living room said, "I think they might have put the furniture back where they found it."

Fair Day for Voting

When I came to look for my copy of the 1935 almanac to ascertain what kind of weather we may expect next Tuesday, it was missing. I am sorry but blame myself. There was only one month's prognostications left and I was probably careless the last time I consulted it, satisfied that December is likely to bring blizzards and what-not.

May I still hope for clear skies and clean streets when I make my way to the polls. Incidentally, I always walk to assert my right to life, liberty and the pursuit of suffrage. Although some indifferent persons may (Continued on page 12)

An Open Letter to Sydney B. Holden, Candidate for Mayor

Hon. Sydney B. Holden
17 Institution Avenue
Newton Center, Mass.

Dear Mr. Holden:

In my opinion, and I feel certain the average voter will agree with me, that there is no comparison between a Municipal and National election.

When a President is to be elected we do not vote for the man but for the platform he stands for. In an election for Mayor it is not a question of platform but of a candidate's fitness for the office.

By training and experience you are best qualified to manage the affairs of the City of Newton for the next two years, and with this in mind, it seems to me that you should be the choice of the majority of the voters in the election on December 10th for Mayor.

The Cities that have the most efficient government where the taxpayers' interests are considered paramount, are cities where the Chief Executive is chosen for his personal individual qualifications as an executive. The Cities that have the City Manager type of executive, whose position depends on his efficiency, have proved to be the best governed.

Your experience as a member of the Newton City Government during the last six years has furnished you with a training that qualifies you better than any other candidate for the position of Mayor of the City of Newton. Your experience on the Board has given you intimate personal knowledge of the way the City's business has been conducted and your advance to the position of Chairman of the Committee on Claims and Rules is a tribute from your fellow members to your judgment and ability. You are seeking the votes of the citizens on your record as a public servant of the City of Newton and you are not obligated or compromised by any promises or obligations.

I cannot help but compare the coming election to the situation of a large business enterprise which is to choose a Manager for its business for the next two years. Would they pick a man who knows nothing about the business and whose only recommendation for the position is that a friend who knows him well believes he probably would be able to handle the job? Would they pick a man who had been out of business during the depression but who had held a similar job in years past, or would they select as the person best qualified to run their business, a man who had started with the company at the bottom, learned the details of the business through actual service on the job and by sheer force of ability had, in six years, been promoted to a responsible position in the business?

As a shareholder and voter in this enterprise, which is equivalent to being a voter and taxpayer in the City of Newton, I feel that my interests are being safeguarded by having you as Mayor of the City for the next two years. I hope many of your friends will be governed in voting on December 10th, by the reasons expressed above and elect you Mayor of the City of Newton.

Cordially,

CHARLES R. DAVIS, 138 Arnold Rd., Ward 5

The Mayoralty Campaign

City Officials Endorse Needham

Indicating that they desire a continuance of efficient and economical municipal government, low taxes and humane treatment of welfare recipients and unemployed residents, fifteen members of the present Board of Aldermen and all seven members of the School Committee of the City of Newton today addressed a public statement to the residents of the city, urging the election on next Tuesday, Dec. 10th, of General Daniel Needham, former Commissioner of Public Safety, as Mayor, to succeed Sinclair Weeks, who is retiring.

Such action, unprecedented in Newton, is said to show the overwhelming support which Mr. Needham has attracted to his candidacy. None of the 22 public officials issuing the statement receive any salary for the

Holden Campaign Waxes Strong

The keen Mayoralty campaign led by Alderman Holden is now nearing its goal; namely, next Tuesday, December 10th, when the citizens of Newton will go to the polls to vote for their Mayor.

Alderman Holden, having represented the south side of Newton for four years on the Board of Aldermen, and for the past two years the entire city as Alderman-at-Large, cast his hat into the Mayoralty ring several months ago.

His long record of service in civic affairs gives him a deep insight into the management of this four million dollar corporation. Mr. Holden has been covering the entire City of Newton, speaking at many rallies and various civic functions. Through his

Childs Stands On His Record

Today ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs issued a statement regarding the closing days of the mayoralty campaign. The statement follows:

"The campaign begun last January is fast drawing to a close. Opposing candidates for mayor on the public platform have set forth their views on matters concerning the government of this city. Friendly relationships, long standing have been maintained. Whatever happens on election day there will be little to regret. My campaign has been made on my record and I cannot go behind that. Friends and volunteer workers have been most helpful. I appreciate fully their efforts and the fine and fair things in approval of that record, which people have said. It is an actual record and is to be compared with pre-election promises of others. However, I do not fear such comparisons.

"People know me and the record and know whether they want or do not want me for Mayor. There will be no last minute literature, no surprises at the end. All that can be said has been said. What the result will be no one can predict. We are living in days of uncertainty. No one can deliver the votes of any particular group. People do their thinking and vote in secret. My only regret is the 'ad' of an opponent who now seems to be favorable to me. I urge all to vote rationally or shine, convenient or inconvenient, and I shall be satisfied with the result. If I am elected, I shall be Mayor of all the people, and how any individual or group of individuals voted will be of no concern to me."

CHILDS RALLIES

The closing rallies arranged by the Childs Volunteer Political Committee will be as follows:

Friday, December 6—Weeks Jr. High School, Newton Centre. Saturday, December 7—West Newton Armory. Monday, December 9—Stearns School, Nonantum.

Mr. Childs will also address the voters of Newton over Station WNAC December 9th, at 6:30 p. m.

City Officials Endorse Needham

service they are giving to the city and they declared their sole purpose in seeking support for Mr. Needham is to insure a continuance of business-like administration of Newton's affairs by the use of General Needham's executive experience and administrative ability.

The statement, brief but to the point, was addressed particularly to "property owners, school teachers, policemen, firemen, and other city employees," and is as follows:— "General Daniel Needham, former Massachusetts Public Safety Commissioner, is an executive and administrator of state-wide reputation and because complex governmental problems of the present day require the leadership of a man of courage and capacity and the will to work, we urge every voter of the City of Newton to follow the leadership of Mayor Sinclair Weeks and to vote next Tuesday, Dec. 10, for the election of Daniel Needham as Mayor. Only by the election of Needham can Newton be assured of a continuance of low taxes, economical administration of municipal affairs and humane treatment of welfare recipients and unemployed."

The 22 city officials endorsing Needham are:

School Committeemen: Walter R. Amesbury of Auburndale, Franklin E. Smith of Newton, F. Marsena Butts of Newton, Harry E. Bryant of Newtonville, Mrs. Margaret H. Woods of Waban, George H. Fernald, Jr. of West Newton and Prof. Kirtley F. Mather of Newton Centre.

Aldermen: Frank T. McCabe, John E. Barwise, George W. Grebenstein, Albert M. Lyon, Donald M. Hill, Benjamin J. Bowen, Maynard Hutchinson, Charles B. Floyd, Donald D. McKay, Clifford H. Walker, Henderson Inches, Paul M. Goldard, George E. Rawson, Clarence C. Colby and James B. Melcher.

PUZZLO DIRECTIONS

Starting with any letter or number on the chart, draw a continuous line connecting Sixty Squares, containing as many letters representing advertisers and as many of the largest numbers as possible. Your line must not connect more than four squares or less than three squares in any one direction and must not include the same square twice. The line must not cross itself and must change from horizontal to vertical or vice versa as in sample chart. Draw a circle at each end of the line when completed. The sample chart below illustrates all of the above rules clearly. Only one solution may be worked out on a chart.

PUZZLO SOLUTION

To figure out your solution add all the figures in the squares connected by your line. To this sum add 99 for each letter the line passes through representing an advertiser. From this last total subtract 99 for each letter the line passes through which does not represent an advertiser. Convert this final result to dollars and cents. This is your solution to the puzzle and should be inserted in the space provided directly under the chart you have completed.

Send your chart to the Graphic Office with the blank properly filled out. Make a purchase at the store of one of the advertisers and obtain his signature in order to be eligible for a double value prize.

READ

EXPLANATION

The object of Puzzlo is to work out a solution showing the largest amount of money you can save during an imaginary shopping tour, calling on as many of the advertisers as you can. Each advertiser on this page is represented on the chart by a different letter, which is duplicated in their advertisement for identification. All other letters on the chart should be avoided to obtain the best solution. LOOK FOR THE LETTER IN EACH ADVERTISEMENT!

ELECT TWINS TO
CAPTAIN ELEVEN

Athletic history was made this week at Newton High School with the election of twins as co-captains of the 1936 orange and black football eleven. Not only does the selection of co-captains set a new precedent in the gridiron sport locally but the choice of brothers is generally rare and the choice of twin brothers probably not duplicated anywhere in the country. Still another item of interest is the fact that an older brother led the Newton football team as captain a few years ago. The twin brothers, captains-elect for 1936 are Allison and Bradford Thompson, sons of Dr. C. A. Thompson of Walnut st., Newton Highlands. The older brother, captain in 1933, Charles Thompson is now at Dartmouth.

Allison Thompson played as full-back in most of the Newton games this season and showed promise of being one of the coming dependable ball carriers. Bradford Thompson, like his brother Charlie, was a center. He divided much of the playing time with Jim Packard who had a year's edge as Charlie divided much of the time in his junior year with Dick Francis.

With the twin captains playing center and full back next year and backing up the line together it will provide Coach Sanborn with a nucleus for a strong defense. In addition to the Thompson brothers there are seven other lettermen expected back for the 1936 team. The nine includes four backs, two ends, a center, a guard, and a tackle. The backs in addition to Co-captain Al Thompson are Paul Forte, Jimmie Joyce, and Edward Johnston. The latter is one of three sophomores who received their 1935 letters. With Brad Thompson in the center of the line Coach Sanborn could have Howard Gross at a guard position, Bob Whelden a tackle, Paul Robey and Ernest Colantonio as ends, starting the season. Of the linemen the two ends are sophomores giving promise of experienced wingmen for the next two years.

Newton Highlights

Al Carvelli of West Newton, a sophomore at Boston University, proved to be a great first night performer as B. U. defeated M. I. T. 6-5 in the opening hockey game of the local intercollegiate season Tuesday night at the Arena. The Terriers' first forward line is comprised of sophomores Carvelli, Desrosiers and Woodward, who scored four of the six B. U. goals. Carvelli himself got credit for two goals and one assist. Dick Muther of Newton Centre was right wing on the Tech second line, and Bob Van Patten-Steiger of Auburndale was goalie for Tech in the latter half of the game.

FALL SPORTS AWARDS
AT SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Adam Walsh, football coach of Bowdoin College and formerly captain of Knute Rockne's undefeated Notre Dame team of the four horsemen, spoke to all the boys of the Newton High School on Wednesday morning at the annual assembly when presentation of the awards for athletic participation on the school teams was made. Mr. Walsh spoke on how athletics shaped his own life by interesting experiences with athletes and in athletic contests.

Principal Paul E. Ellicker announced the award winners totaling 114 boys who participated in the fall program of sports. Captain Ernest Savignano received a beautiful trophy for the school from Dr. Oscar Martin, President of the Suburban League, for winning the Suburban League Championship in football. Walter Taylor, tennis coach, presented a cup to Roy Merchant, winner of the fall tennis tournament.

Mr. Ellicker reviewed the entire year of athletic participation and stated that 16 men of the faculty were coaches or managers in Newton's program of sports for boys, including football, baseball, hockey, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf and basketball. During the year nearly 600 boys participated on the school teams, and outstanding records were made by the basketball, hockey, track, and tennis teams.

Newton Highlights

Warren Huston, former all-scholastic star and three-sport captain at Newton High, has been elected to captain the 1936 Springfield College football team. For the past two seasons the Newtonville youth has been outstanding as a triple threat in the gymnastics backfield.

Newton High fared poorly in the annual post-season all-scholastic football balloting until Captain Ernie Savignano, energetic triple-threat back, was placed as quarterback of the Greater Boston Globe eleven. Savvy, whose style was cramped by a leg injury almost from the start, was picked ahead of a regiment of very fair field generals whose teams had more imposing records. Howie Milner "made" the Traver third team, and Paul Forte was listed for honorable mention by that paper.

It's too bad that the people who have charge of the Suburban League can't ring in at least one more suburb. At present, the loop comprises Cambridge Latin, Rindge Tech, Brookline and Newton High schools, and applies to football, basketball and baseball. Newton High has the football title and shares in a three-way tie for the basketball championship. The difficulty of introducing a new member is that nearly all desirable schools have their own leagues, feuds or traditional rivalries. This probably would bar Watertown, Winchester, and perhaps Waltham.

Northeastern University awarded letters and class numerals to a number of Newton youths. James Cahill, reserve quarterback, received a varsity football letter. Bob Kiley of Newton, Matty Billings of Newtonville and Jesse R. Hale of Chestnut Hill received freshman football num-

HOCKEY SEASON TO OPEN ON DEC. 21

The opening of the Greater Boston Intercollegiate Hockey League is less than a month away, and Coach Oscar Martin is busy shaping a team from a veteran squad at Newton High. Current regular practice consists of sidewalk shooting at the goalie candidate, supplemented by whatever skating the boys find time for at the Boston Arena. The team has already had one workout on the Boston Garden ice, and will skate there again Monday night.

Although Doctor Martin is not exactly besieged with real hockey talent, he has lost very few of the players of last season's fair team, which finished in third place in the eight-team circuit, behind Arlington and Melrose. Captain Gus Castoldi, Bill Page and John Elliott have graduated, and goalie Burt Woodward will have passed the league age limit before the season commences. But there are twelve boys returning who played varsity hockey last year at one time or another.

MacLeod Earnest Captain

Right wing Ernest MacLeod, who came through the late-lamented football season unscathed, is Newton's captain. MacLeod is not a particularly smooth skater, but plays a reckless, spirited game of hockey at all times, and will be a fine example for the less aggressive younger forwards on his team. He ranked second in the league individual scoring record last season, being outscored only by Ray Chaisson of Cambridge Latin.

MacLeod's effectiveness will depend greatly on what sort of a forward line he will work with. Judging from past performances, John Boddgett and Bill Daniels are very likely to be MacLeod's mates on the first line, although Daniels has lately developed water on the knee, an aftermath of the football season, and this may retard him somewhat.

Other forwards returning who played more or less last year are Jack Herrick, Bob Minor, John "Mayo" Fitzgerald, John Harrington and Allan Turner. The last three comprise last year's sophomore line, and it will help the team immensely if they come up to expectations.

Whitehead Back Again

However, the crucial section is behind the blue line again this year, where Doc Martin has to place one good goaltender and one good defense player. George "Bud" Whitehead, who started Newton's first league game last year teamed with Castoldi on defense, was badly hurt in that game and did not play again all season. He is ready to go again this year, rugged as ever and a fast skater, and is likely to become one of the big guns of the league.

What to do for another defense man is something for Doc Martin to worry about. Howie Milner and Minot Chandler are great prospects, just as they were last season, but are both indifferent skaters. If these boys improve rapidly, Newton will have a well-balanced team; otherwise, Jack Herrick or some other forward may be called back to strengthen the defense. A great goalie prospect, sophomore Bill Johnstone, has apparently cast his lot with basketball, leaving the Newton nets virtually unprotected, although John Buttrick and Bud Conant are working hard to fill the deficiency.

New Playoff System

An interesting change has been made in the schedule of the Greater Boston league this year. With the intention of bringing back the days of the so-called round-robin playoffs, with heightened rivalry and wider interest, the league directors have planned for a seven-game round-robin, followed by a three-game round-robin for each division of the league.

In this way, Newton will play each other team in the league once during the regular series of seven games. Then, if Newton finishes among the first four teams, it will face the other three first-division teams in the playoffs. Points will be cumulative, and the winner of the first division will gain top ranking by adding points earned in all ten games of the season. The move is bound to enliven the league race from start to finish, the officials feel.

The Newton league schedule, with all but one game being played at the Boston Garden is as follows:

Dec. 21—Newton vs Medford.
Dec. 28—Newton vs Rindge Tech.
Jan. 1—Newton vs Arlington.
Jan. 4—Newton vs Melrose.
Jan. 11—Newton vs Stoneham.
Jan. 18—Newton vs Belmont.
Jan. 24—Camb. Latin at Arena.

erals and Allen Freeman of Waban was awarded freshman cross-country numerals.

At Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn., James A. Jones, Jr., of California st., Newtonville, was awarded a football letter. He has played on the Wesleyan team for three seasons but was handicapped this past year with an injury which kept him out of the game somewhat. Roger Maynard of Newtonville received his letter as captain of the cross-country team.

At the annual fall sports banquet held at New Hampton School, New Hampton, N. H., last week, two Newton boys were awarded letters. Fred A. Whiting, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Whiting of Mt. Vernon st., West Newton, received his junior varsity football letter, and Thomas R. Covey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Covey, of Fenwick rd., Waban, received his reserve football letter. Both boys spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents.

The monthly meeting of the club was held on Monday. The Hubbard Drug Company, through Wilfred Chagnon, presented the club with a loving cup for winning the city league championship the second year. New All-American Home
Being Built in Waban

Bradley & Jones of Newton are the builders of an All American Home on Nehoiden rd., Waban. The house is now in process of construction and will be finished the latter part of the month. It is being built for Mr. James T. Trefrey of Nehoiden rd., Waban. This new modern home is of the French Provincial type in architecture, containing 8 rooms, 3 baths and a two car garage connecting.

One of the features of the house is the use of Cinder Blocks in its construction, which is finished in light buff with a seam-faced granite effect. Another feature is the all General Electric kitchen furnished by the N. L. Thompson Co. of Boston. A built in electric range, dishwasher, sink, refrigerator, fans, clock and all steel cabinets are the last word in convenience.

The house is completely insulated with glass wool, a new product, which is claimed to be much more efficient than any other insulating material. The house is air conditioned and heated by a General Electric, latest approved oil, down draft system. The air is humidified and circulated to all rooms by an electric driving fan in the basement.

The architect is Edmund I. Leeds of Newton. Mr. Leeds, it will be remembered, designed the Newton Y. M. C. A. and the F. A. Day School, as well as other well known buildings in Boston.

Newton Boys Win Honors
At Nichols Jr. College

Bernard F. Eames, a senior at Nichols Junior College, appears on the scholastic Honor Roll for the first ranking period, as announced recently by President Conrad. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Eames, 84 Atwood Avenue, Newtonville. Albert W. Billings, a junior, at a Sports Banquet held at the college just previous to the Thanksgiving vacation, was awarded the College Football Letter for his participation in that sport. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter J. Billings, 19 Indiana ter., Newton Upper Falls.

Obscured Number
Plates, Fined $50

Patrick Hegarty of 62 Brookside rd., Wellesley, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday for driving a truck without the number plates having been properly displayed. He was also fined $20 for driving without proper lights. Overcaution was the cause of Hegarty's capture on the night of Nov. 16. Two Metropolitan policemen observed a truck being operated on Grove st., Lower Falls, without lights. As the truck went by it was observed that no rear number plate was showing on it. The police followed the truck and stopped it. They found it contained parts of a large still. Also that the front number plate on the truck had been reversed. Hegarty and a man riding with him were placed under arrest. They are also charged with violating the United States revenue laws and were arraigned on this count in the Federal court in Boston this week.

Building In
Newton Picks Up

A renewal of the building boom in this city, the most promising since the depression started several years ago, was evidenced during November when 71 permits were issued, the estimated cost of the work to be done under them placed at $341,130. Thirty-one of the permits were for single dwellings to cost $290,000; 11 for private garages to cost $3390; 1 for a religious structure to cost $20,000; and 16 for alterations on dwellings to cost $20,325. For the eleven months of 1935 the permits totalled 633 and the cost of the work under them was estimated at $2,300,140. During the corresponding period in 1934 the permits totalled 540 and the valuation $2,112,021; in 1933 the total permits were 539 and the value $1,532,193.

Writers' Club

One group, whose Friday evening meetings have engendered a fine companionship and much enjoyment, is the "Writers' Club." This group, which interests itself primarily in the practice of expression by the written word, has nevertheless found time for some very entertaining talks by its own members, whose experiences range from "Bronco busting" in the Far West, to escapes from sinking ships, at sea. The "Newton Y. News," the Association's news organ, is a product of this group's activities. Men in the Newtons who would like to become connected with the Writers' Club, are invited to leave their names at the "Y" desk.

Debating Club

The coming debate upon the question "Should the United States send a team to the next Olympic Games in Germany?" is attracting much interest, both among those interested in the Debating Club, which is sponsoring the event, and among members of the physical activities groups, to whom the topic has a timely appeal. The debate, which is to take place on Monday, December 16th, will present Messrs. Henry C. Pierce, Coach of the "Y" track team, and Charles G. Miller, for the affirmative. The wide and excellent reputation of Mr. Pierce in track athletics lends particular interest to the event. The negative side will be ably represented by Messrs. Frank A. Paquin and Chester S. Hopkins. The evening's program will be open to all "Y" members and their guests.

Salvation Army Annual Appeal

Residents of the Newtons were urged to come to the aid of the Salvation Army in an address over WAAB, Friday afternoon, by J. Leonard Johnson, 29 Merrill road, Newton Center, chairman of the Citizens Committee Appeal for $5,000 to support the humanitarian activities of the Salvation Army in this area. Mr. Johnson is president of the Metropolitan Coal Company.

"As an individual strongly convinced of the worthwhile and praiseworthy nature of that organization's character-building relief efforts," Mr. Johnson said, "and also as chairman of the sponsoring Committee, I count it both a privilege and a duty to give my personal endorsement to this appeal."

Mr. Johnson pointed out that the demands to assist in the relief of the less fortunate are numerous today, and will grow more numerous in the future, according to the Federal government's survey over to private charity the obligations it assumed during the worst of the depression. Therefore, he declared, "the great charitable organizations making these requests need our support as never before, and if we wish to see less governmental charity we must furnish that support."

He continued, "Since there are so many demands upon us, it follows that any organization asking for our help must expect a searching scrutiny of its right to ask that help. The Salvation Army welcomes such scrutiny, and its books are always open to examination by responsible parties. As a matter of fact I do not know of another large-scale organization which comes so close to giving one hundred per cent of charitable relief for every one hundred cents that is bestowed upon it for that purpose. The Salvation Army has a reputation that has remained untarnished in the fifty years of its history of service in Greater Boston. The salaries it pays its officers are exceedingly low, and moreover, these devoted officers make of Salvation Army work a life mission. In that mission they are trained carefully and receive the benefits of a long tradition of similar work."

Mr. Johnson pointed out that although the Thanksgiving and Christmas activities of the Salvation Army are much in the public eye at this time of year, it is an all-year-round organization, busy with its good works holidays and Sundays, as well as on week days, and with its officers on duty or subject to call twenty-four hours a day.

In conclusion, he declared, "Work such as this requires more than the nickels and dimes and quarters, welcome as they are, which represent so much of the public support of the Salvation Army. The Salvation Army is deeply grateful for the spirit that prompts so many of these small contributions from people with pitifully meagre incomes. But on the other hand, the work the Salvation Army does cannot be maintained on a nickel and dime basis, and I urge you to remember this when you are given the opportunity to contribute."

An impressive programme which expressed the true spirit and great beauty of Christmas was presented for the Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church in Newtonville on Wednesday, December 4th.

M. Reed, contralto; Mr. Randolph S. Merrill, baritone and Mr. Joseph R. Ludwigson tenor. Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, pianist and Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings violinist. ## Rotary Club

The Newton Rotary Club observed Ladies' Night Monday evening at the Hartwell Farm, in Lexington, where 65 men and women sat down to a chicken dinner amidst the old-fashioned surroundings and with only candles for light. Charles Spaulding was chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment which parodied one of the Amateur Hour broadcasts of Major Bowles. He was ably assisted by Louis Haffermehl, who coaxed music out of a somewhat dilapidated portable organ, by Harold Bachelord, who furnished the "mike" and other paraphernalia, by Jack Hiller, as Major Bowles, and by six or eight other members of the club who were "amateurs" indeed. One member, dressed in maidenly attire and outfitted with a cello built out of a string, a stick, and a box created a great sensation as "Mlle. Horsefeathers" winner of a soap-box "cello derby"; and each of the other contestants brought salvos of applause and laughter with his clowning. The "applause machine" proved however, that Dr. Fred Love was decidedly the winner of the contest and he found his prize—a huge lolly-pop—inside a dozen odd boxes of dim-inishing sizes.

When "Major Bowles" faded off the air the group broke into two sections according as to whether the interests of the individuals lay in bridge on the one hand or in dancing and corn-husking on the other. While the latter party was the more demonstrative, it was very evident that each group was thoroughly enjoying itself and it was eleven before those who planned to leave early realized the late hour.

Lodges

Entertainment and refreshments were enjoyed. Frank J. LaBelle, district Supervisor, spoke on Moose activities and hoped that the Newton Lodge would continue to grow and try on to success as it now had a good start. Many other speakers addressed the meeting. Events were planned for the future.

Another class will be put on in the near future as a campaign for new members is in progress. Musical selections were rendered by Joseph Antonelli, Thomas Biggin and Alfred Quinan.

The following committee were in charge: A. C. Moriarty, chairman; Patrick H. Ford, John O. Russo, Santo Viccolazzo, George Devine, Joseph Burke, Charles Miller.

At a meeting of Div. 35, A. O. H. held at Bay State Hall, Newton the officers for the ensuing year were installed: A. C. be procured, the firemen, in their time off, called for them. The annual collection to help defray the expenses for this Party was taken by Betty Ann Burgess, Carol Lindquist, Sylvia Rice, Joyce Steacie, and Jean Webber, small daughters of Club members.

The program speaker, Mrs. Cecil Scheibe, who is chairman of the committee of Literature and Drama in the State Federation, outlined brief sketches of several books and gave a list of many others in the various classifications of biography, history, fiction, etc., which might be suitable for gifts. Her particular advice in using books as gifts was to know the tastes of the recipients and to know the contents of the books. Mrs. Scheibe read excerpts from several books and recited a poem in French-Canadian dialect, demonstrating her easy transition from humor to pathos in her recitation.

THE FINEST GIFT

From the time the star appeared over Bethlehem and the wise men came from the East, we have humbled ourselves before our God and given praise for the advent of His son. Christmas as we know it holds for us all the reverence and love that we as humans are capable of. It brings together our loved ones, either in person or in thought. What better time to consider that "Their names shall live." It is no mere sentiment to those prompting we respond when we erect a memorial. It is the solemn urge of survival, breathed into us in the beginning, that calls us to the lives of those to whom our debt of comradeship must ever remain unpaid. The need to remember is vital and pressing. Whether we are able to set apart for memories a silver margined island or consecrate only the smallest plot matters little. But dedicating some tribute filled with deep meaning and devotion keeps us true to them and ourselves. No finer gift can be given, than in planning an enduring memorial in this holy day.

Pithado Memorials, 1106 Beacon St., Newton Centre, with one hundred years of Memorial Service behind them, will gladly submit designs along lines you may suggest, or if you prefer will bring their portfolio of photographs to your home, to be examined in private, at your leisure, and without obligation.

Aldermen Meet

Roche, 41 Adams ave.; Stanislaus Fitz Gerald, 154 Cherry st., Democrats. Ward 3, Precinct 3: George Neagle, 20 River st., Democrat. Ward 5, Precinct 1: Edward F. Kelly, 170 Oliver rd., Republican. Ward 5, Precinct 2: Harvey Carmichael, 140 Oliver rd., Republican. Ward 6, Precinct 3, Henry E. Goodnow, 17 Charlotte rd.; Thomas B. Powers, 59 Oxford rd., Republicans. It was also announced that a number of auxiliary election officers would be appointed to assist at the polls on the night of election day.

Alderman Hill, reporting for the Franchises and Licenses Committee, recommended that the Board of Aldermen authorize the Mayor to make a contract between the city and the Middlesex & Boston Company for the extension of the present 10 year contract which expires December 31st and which gives the M. & B. the exclusive right to operate busses in Newton for intracity traffic. Hill explained that the only difference in the new contract would be that instead of the number of school busses being limited to 8, as under the present contract, as many school busses as necessary will be provided. The new contract would extend for 10 more years. Alderman Temperley said conditions have changed since the present contract was made 10 years ago, that this matter should have further consideration, and that such hasty action on so important a matter was never taken before. Temperley raised a question of charter objection, and the matter had to be laid on the table until the next meeting of the Board.

A petition was received from the Suburban Bus Company asking for a franchise to operate busses from Oak Hill to Newton Centre. Alderman Hill said the M. & B. wants the first option on such a bus line. Alderman Holden asked if the M. & B. now has such a franchise? Alderman Hill replied that he did not know. The M. & B. did operate such a line for several months a few years ago under an agreement with Oak Hill residents whereby the latter subsidized the line. When the Oak Hill residents ceased supporting the line, the patronage was so small that the M. & B. discontinued it. A hearing was assigned for the next meeting of the Board on this petition.

Appropriations made by the Board included—Health Department, care and prevention of disease, $3976.82; Law Department, miscellaneous expenses, $550; Public Welfare Department, Mothers' Aid, $3000; Relief of Poor, $4000; Soldiers' Relief, $4000; Street Department, auto maintenance, $2500; Water Department, bill owed Edison Company, $84.20; main in Sylvan rd., $2030, main in Carl st., $200; sewer in Paulson rd., $9263; sewer in Commonwealth ave., $480. Law Department, payment for land taken from Barry estate at Oak Hill for parking area, $966.60. The Health Department appropriation is to pay for bills now owed. The amount asked by the department in the annual budget for this year was cut down by the Mayor and Aldermen, and the figures named by the department proved more correct. Land for the parking area at Oak Hill was donated by several owners, but the Barry land had to be seized.

The Board voted not to grant the petition of F. Barnicoat for a gasoline filling station at 732 Walnut st., Newton Centre. This locus is opposite City Hall and in a single residence zone.

John Haynes Holmes At Community Forum

President Roosevelt, said the speaker, has done what he could to hold things together and has worked out a semblance of success through a policy of deliberately creating a period of arbitrary scarcity. "But," said Mr. Holmes, "you can only make the existing system work in terms of high prices, and these can be maintained only while an artificial economic scarcity can be preserved. This dilemma is the end of capitalism, even though for the next few years we may enjoy comparatively better times."

"Europe has gone much further. The present system is visibly breaking up and new forces are moving in, Communism and Fascism. The one is dedicated to the pressing problem of our time, distribution; the other is the last desperate struggle of capitalism to save itself. Nazism is the quintessence of our industrial system. It will capture France in the next few years. A duel to the death between Communism and Fascism is coming, and I pray to God that Communism will win the fight. Christianity and Democracy are dead on the Continent of Europe."

"Democracy will survive in England, and with it the industrial system, although it will be modified by parliamentary measures and constitutional procedure. England will move constructively to a new and higher civilization—what we call socialism—which will place the ownership of all means of production and distribution in the hands of the government. It will be a light burning in the darkness of the world."

"We also have a chance to do what England is doing. The prospect is not so sure here as in England. We have not learned to reverence and obey the law. We are a violent people. I am not so sure that we may not go the way of Europe, when I reflect on the unthinking millions who drink the words of men like Father Coughlin. Fascism is our great danger; we have nothing to fear from Communism."

The talk was preceded by a short musical program, including numbers by Coleridge-Taylor, Burleigh and Brahms, and capably rendered by a trio consisting of Mary Pucarelli, violin, Ruth W. Masters, cello, and Mary Barr Snyder, piano. After the talk Prof. Mather conducted a question period, in the course of which the speaker introduced a sardonic commentary on England's imperialistic motives by quoting from a news dispatch to the effect that "England is moving regiments of native Indian troops to Ethiopia to liberate the Ethiopians from the wicked hands of Mussolini." England, concluded the speaker, will destroy Mussolini as a menace to her own world empire.

Holden Campaign Waxes Strong

efficiency and service he has achieved a widespread recognition.

Thousands of circulars have been delivered throughout the City which cover his record and platform, proving beyond a doubt that he is fully capable of being Mayor of Newton. During his campaign he has given out no political ballyhoo nor any false promises, but on the other hand has endeavored to point out the inner workings of our City Government, appealing to the voter from the standpoint that the Mayor's job is one of an executive managing a large business.

Other political aspirants have been predicting various outcomes to Mr. Holden's campaign, but have not and do not deny his rapidly increasing popularity amongst the voters of the City of Newton. In every section indications show that the political weathervane is pointing toward the south side of our City in the Mayoralty battle.

Upper Falls Man Killed By Auto

Duncan S. McMullin, 42, of 1137 Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls, was fatally injured Friday night while crossing Boylston street near his home. He was hit by a car driven by Joseph Fay of Farm road, Sherborn. Mr. McMullin was hit by the left front door handle and dragged for a considerable distance under the car. He received a fractured skull and other injuries which caused his death at Newton Hospital early Sunday morning. Fay reported that he did not see McMullin until the car was almost on top of him.

Mr. McMullin was born in Newton Highlands, the son of Mrs. Jessie A. (Blue) McMullin and the late William B. McMullin. He attended Newton High School and during the World War served in France with the tank corps. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum. He is survived by two children, Doris and Burton McMullin; his mother; and two sisters—Mrs. Edwin T. Ramsdell of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. James A. Jowders of Fort Wayne, Indiana. His funeral service was held at his late home on Tuesday afternoon; Rev. Ben Roberts officiated. Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Red Cross Asks Book Donations

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross is asking for its annual collection of books to be sent to men in Veterans' Hospitals. It is not necessary to have current fiction, but only a type to be diverting—of adventure, mystery or of travel. Please leave them at the Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville as soon as possible as they are to be sent at Christmas to hospitals in New England.

Local Red Cross work is well known as the largest part of Chapter funds is used for the benefit of the people of Newton. What is spent outside of the city goes to provide comfort and cheer for service men. The U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Bedford has a ward furnished and maintained by the Newton Chapter. This year the draperies needed to be renewed and the chairman of the Gray Ladies, with the approval of the Executive Committee, arranged for new ones. The following letter, just received from Bedford by Mr. Donald Angier, Chapter Chairman shows best how much the generosity and interest of Newton are appreciated:

"Seldom, if ever, has a gift to the hospital been so well received or delighted so many people as that of the beautiful new curtains on the Newton Ward. Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr. selected the materials after our approval, and the curtains are now the source of great satisfaction and enjoyment on the part of the men who occupy that ward. The men display them proudly to the visitors, and have even told many of the personnel of the hospital to 'come up and see what is now the prettiest ward at Bedford.'"

"We owe much to the Red Cross of Newton Chapter for the attractive furnishings which they have from time to time provided. And once more we thank the Chapter and Mrs. Moore for the care and attention given to this latest project. The results are even better than anyone could hope for, the ward now presenting a cozy, cheerful appearance which helps the morale of a great many men."

"Will you thank the Chapter for us and assure them of our appreciation." Very sincerely, EVELYN DAVIS,
Recreational Aide.

Childs, Holden, Needham Speak

cause he knows why he has done so. The former Mayor alluded to the rumor that Mr. Collins will be Mr. Needham's secretary should the latter be elected Mayor.

Replying to the statement made by Alderman Floyd at a Needham rally on Tuesday night in which Floyd said that Childs had vetoed the zoning ordinance in 1922, Childs said that he vetoed the first zoning ordinance because they were unreasonably strict, but that when the ordinance had been rewritten so that it was reasonable, he signed it. He said that during his term as Mayor the gross debt of the city was reduced and that when he retired from office in 1925 Newton ranked 10th among cities in this State in relation of total net debt to valuation; now it ranks much lower—18th. Childs said he would have replaced the old, wooden school houses before he would have built the costly structures at the new city hall site.

Referring to the accusation made at Newton rallies—that he had wrecked the police department—Mr. Childs retorted that the Newton police department was wrecked 30 years ago, but its efficiency was restored when Alonzo Wood became Mayor the following term. Childs said—"When I was Mayor a patrolman was a patrolman, a sergeant was a sergeant, and the Chief was Chief. They were not errand boys for the assistant Mayor. He said that if elected Mayor he will continue the good things started during the Weeks administration and cut out the bad features. He will have no assistant Mayor, and any citizen who desires to come to City Hall and see him can do so, and no appointments will be necessary."

Childs said he will keep taxes as low as reasonable economy will permit, and he will see that streets and sidewalks are cleared of snow after storms, and that he will be a Mayor for all the people all of the time.

Smith Neutral In Mayor Contest

At rallies on Wednesday night Franklin E. Smith, member of the School Committee from Ward 1, and candidate for re-election, stated that he had not authorized the use of his name as an endorser of Daniel Needham for Mayor. Mr. Smith said that inasmuch as the Mayor is a member, ex-officio, of the school committee, he believes that the School Committee is supposed to be non-political, and he is therefore, neutral in the Mayoralty contest.

Dedication of New Carr School

The Frank F. Carr School on Nevada st., Newtonville, will be formally dedicated on December 16. Walter R. Amesbury, chairman of the Newton School Committee will preside and addresses will be delivered by Mayor Weeks, Supt. of Schools Warren and others. The public will be given an opportunity to inspect the building during the evening.

Cars Crash At Newtonville

Cars driven by Esther White of Madison ave. West Medford, and Dr. G. K. Coons of 379 Commonwealth ave., Boston, collided at Washington and Walnut sts., Newtonville, early last Friday morning. Catherine Rice of River st., Waltham, and Mary Messenger of River st., West Newton, passengers in the car driven by the White woman, claimed they received injuries.

Auto Stolen At Brae Burn

The automobile of Mrs. Benjamin Rae of 333 Otis st., West Newton, was stolen from a parking space at the Brae Burn Club on Wednesday afternoon. It was later found abandoned in Nashua, New Hampshire. When the car thieves took the Rae car they left in the parking space a car which had been stolen earlier that day from Longwood ave., Boston.

Doris Burdick At N'ville M. E. Church

Doris Burdick, silhouette artist of Malden, spoke on "Silhouettes—Past and Present" at the afternoon session of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church on Wednesday. Wearing a pale yellow smock with black buttons and a black velvet beret, the speaker created a pleasing atmosphere which was enhanced by an exhibit of charming silhouettes. She said this art of shadowgraphs dates back to Ancient Egypt, the term silhouette being first used in the eighteenth century and named for Etienne Silhouette, a Frenchman. The art was first used in plays in China and later in Versailles to entertain the royal children of France.

The women of the Association met at 10 o'clock to sew for the Red Cross and for the Cooper Community Center with Mrs. Robert E. Meeker in charge. The Executive Board met at the same hour with Mrs. Carl S. Ell, the president in the chair. Mrs. C. E. Thyng, president of the Woman's Bible Class reported an average attendance of 57 for November and announced the annual party for Dec. 20. Plans were made for a trip to the Wilbur Health Home in Natick Dec. 21 when a party will be given the fifteen girls who live there. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Ralph C. Thomas and her group.

Candidates At Rallies

would make a good representative for the people of our city.

I know of your fine past record as a public official and I heartily endorse your present candidacy for Alderman-at-Large. Donald M. Hill, present Ward Alderman, and the other candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, said that he has been a resident of this city for 28 years, has gained valuable experience in his four years' service on the Board, has cooperated in keeping the tax rates low, and that he has endeavored to serve all without discrimination.

Roger J. Gardner, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, said that he has been a resident of Newton for 27 years, his business is located here, and he has an intimate knowledge of local conditions. He said that the care of the needy must be met, but beyond that there is need for intelligent economy in the cost of administering government. He said that residents of Newton should be given equal opportunities for employment in our municipal positions and that meetings of the Aldermen should be conducted in the open. He urged that the Aldermen be elected by the voters and not selected by a few. Paul M. Goddard, also a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, defended the practice of the Aldermen meeting as a committee of the whole by saying that in this way matters can be better discussed than by political debates in the open. Mr. Goddard said he has endeavored to serve all the people since he has been a member of the Board, and will continue to work for the best interests of the city.

John Brocklesby, candidate for Ward Alderman in Ward 4, appeared to plead for election of Dennis M. Cronin as Alderman-at-Large from that Ward. Mr. Cronin has been confined to his home by illness for over a week. Others who spoke in Cronin's behalf were Alderman Atkins and Henry L. Morrison. Fireworks at this rally were furnished by Alderman George E. Rawson and James M. Manning, his opponent for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7. Manning has been criticizing Rawson for opposing the granting of a permit for a rectifying plant at the Martin Manufacturing Company property in West Newton, which he claimed would have given employment to about 300 persons. Rawson stated he had made a careful investigation of the employment possibilities at the proposed liquor industry, and found that only 26 persons would be employed. He commented that Manning must either be dumb or wilfully misrepresenting facts. Manning, who followed Rawson, heatedly resented the suggestion that he is dumb. He renewed his advocacy of the establishment of a comfort station at the site of the old fire station in Newton Corner, and the need of a parking space at Newton Corner.

Francis Frazier, candidate for the School Committee, told of his long experience as a teacher, his knowledge of educational matters and his desire to serve the people of Newton as a whole, instead of doing the bidding of a small group which has in the past usurped the control of the schools of Newton. Mr. Frazier told of the fact that Newton's schools take more than one-third of the city's revenue, and that competent men should be elected to the School Committee. He refuted the contention that he "is tooting his own horn" by saying he is only appearing before the voters to state his qualifications, as every candidate should do, and he is not attempting to get elected through the endorsement of a group of influential citizens.

Joan Crawford brings a new kind of picture as well as a new leading man to the Paramount Theatre this week starting Sunday for four days with her new production "I Live My Life." The story is novel, dramatic and at times uproariously funny. The leading man is Brian Aherne, the distinguished English actor, who with this picture comes into his own as a leading man. Supporting the leading players is a superb cast. Frank Morgan is at his fumbling, mumbling best as the well-meaning father. On the same program is none other than the favorite radio star Jack Benny in one of the season's greatest films "It's in the Air" with Una Merkel, Nat Pendleton, Ted Healy and Mary Carlisle. Starting Thursday for three days, Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper are again united in their new picture "O'Shaughnessy's Boy." The picture is described as a dramatic, human interest story of father love told against a background of universal appeal—the circus with all its paths, humor and spectacle, abundantly punctuated with sure-fire animal thrills. The companion picture will be Dorothy Wilson and Preston Foster in "The Last Days of Pompeii."

Starting Sunday, Dec. 15, for four days will be Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in "Top Hat."

Boy In Court After Car Crash

William Flaherty, 16, of 23 Fayette st., Cambridge, was arraigned in the Newton court on Monday charged with using an automobile without authority, and with driving without a license. His case was continued until Dec. 20. On November 27, a car driven by young Flaherty hit a tree on Washington st. opposite the Woodmont Golf Club. The youth and a companion were knocked unconscious and were taken to the Newton Hospital. The car was the property of Flaherty's father and the latter claimed his son took it without permission.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

At the Thanksgiving assembly program on Wednesday, Nov. 27th, Mary Louise Underwood was chairman. Gerard Callanan read the Governor's Proclamation and Genevieve Hanson told of the origin of the day. A violin selection was given by Jean Melcher accompanied by Mary Louise Shadman. The Bigelow Trumpeters, Virginia Weston, Ruth Meredith, Roger Walen, Robert Hanson, John Carley and Richard Daniels played a selection. A group of ninth grade girls, Marjorie McMullin, Harriet Tashjian, Barbara Ford, Jeannette Baker, Ruth Meredith, Frances Carroll, and Lillian O'Hara presented a Thanksgiving skit. The final number was an Indian scene during which Robert West told of the Indians and their customs. Those taking part were John Engel, William Mackin, Neil McLellan and Edward Lopez, Jean Goodale beat the tom-tom for the Indian dancers who were Helen and Doris Maloney, Dorothy Bishop, Jean Jensen, Lisa Cedrone, Antoinette Nardone, and Mary Tedeschi.

The Bigelow-Warren soccer games resulted in a 0-0 tie score for the varsity and a 1-1 tie for the junior varsity.

The first number of the Bigelow Banner for the year was issued the day before Thanksgiving.

At the assembly on Nov. 20 a variety program was presented at which Robert Wilson announced the numbers. Katherine Hogan and Annetta Wallace did a tap dance. Mary Louise Shadman rendered a solo accompanied by Harriet Tashjian. Russell Dexter coached a skit which was acted by Gerard Callanan, Roger Patterson, Richard Daley, Robert Davenport, and Edward Schwartz. Ruth Wiles and Eunice Shamlian offered a vocal duet and Eleanor Luchini a song and dance. Robert Gallant recited "Darius Green and his Flying Machine." A Spanish song and dance with Barbara Stewart, Corinne Boyd, Jane Mansfield, Ruth Wiles, Eunice Shamlian, Allan Burgess, Edward Schwartz, Norman Donnelly, Richard Bolin, and Joseph Kearney as the chorus and Katherine Hogan, Annetta Wallace, Rita Holden, and Eleanor Luchini as the dancers concluded the program. In this last number Albert Tashjian played the violin, John Howard the guitar and Clinto Wilson the traps.

Day Jr. High School

Interest in the various clubs of the F. A. Day Jr. High School is very high. The Harmonica Club, under Miss Doran's supervision, has Rosario Tedesco as president; Robert Hayes, vice president, and Robert Hunter, secretary. The Book Club has one leading official, Roberta Ward, who has the title of Librarian. The club is sponsored by Miss Seale. The Radio Club, Mr. Read and Miss Spelman supervising, has Miriam Cronan for its president, and Phyllis Patrie serving as both secretary and treasurer. The Hiking Club, under Miss Pratt, elected Mary Welch president and Marguerite Battista secretary. The officers of the Coast Guard Club have most imposing titles: Dick Rennard is captain, Fred Spaulding, first mate and Setrak Chinnian, boatswain's mate. Mr. Pollard trains this nautical crew. The Dance Club, with Miss People as faculty adviser, has Marjorie Wellman wielding the gavel, and Helena Haskell keeping the records.

Mr. Burkhard has initiated a new system of corridor passing. Pupils are asked to walk through the halls in twos, hugging the walls as much as possible. In this way there is a free space in the middle of the corridor which aids in relieving confusion, and has made the passing of the school through the corridors considerably improved. Pupils are also reminded to observe the Cloverleaf method in their passing—the same method which the traffic engineers of Massachusetts are now using. Under this system, there is no direct intercepting of traffic—the process is gradual. So the pupil is urged not to rush in front of an approaching fellow-pupil but to walk to a vantage point, wait if necessary, and then proceed.

A radio program in honor of the 100th anniversary of Mark Twain's birth was broadcast Tuesday under the guidance of Miss Doran. It was an unusually fine performance. Those who took part were: Jane St. George, announcer; Billy Galupe, Donald Koughan, Donald Abbot, John Fairfield and Emmanuel Civetti.

use bad weather as an excuse for not voting, it never discourages me from performing my duty as a citizen. Why I hope there will be no snow on the ground and no extremely low temperature is this: I want to mark my ballot in as quiet surroundings as possible. If people come in to the polling precinct, stamping the snow from their feet and clapping their hands to get them warm, it will send me haywire, I know. My municipal meditations demand a noiseless voting booth, otherwise my ballot will be thrown out as improperly marked.

Old-Fashioned Gentleman

It may be that reference in this column, not so frequent at that, to modern fashions among the best dressed of our male population has created an impression that I have taken the matter very much to heart. Well, friends, I have nothing to back but I hope I am impartial. Indeed, I know I am, but I want it understood. Now, as proof of my willingness to commend the man who dresses well, if not according to the fashion plates of 1935-36, let me tell of a recent discovery.

It was in this very State of ours and not as remote from the city as you might expect. Seated in the directors' room of the local bank was a man of advanced years, meaning more than 70. He was a substantial citizen, as you might expect, but that wasn't what impressed me. He wore the regulation dress of a country banker of 50 years ago and more. There was the black string necktie, the square-toed shoes, the watch in a chain; the heavy gold watch-fob, the ivory-headed cane and the black suit and overcoat. A picture of the old days, yes, but also an important part of the new. Maybe old-fashioned to some but as far as I was concerned I felt he would inspire confidence if I were a depositor in that bank.

Arrested After Car Hits Truck

Lawrence Page of 63 Bigelow rd., West Newton, was arrested Saturday night by Patrolman J. F. Monroe after the car he was driving had collided at Commonwealth ave. and Auburn st., Auburndale, with a truck driven by William McKenzie of 25 Bemis rd., Newtonville. McKenzie reported that Page was driving on the wrong side of the street and the vehicles collided head-on. In the Newton court on Monday, Page was charged with drunkenness and was given a suspended sentence of one month in prison.

Automobile Accidents

Cars operated by Charles Pfeiffer of Needham and William Clark of Amherst collided Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Brookline and Vine streets, Oak Hill. Mrs. J. VanComfort of Oakdale st., Jamaica Plain, a passenger in one of the cars, was injured and was taken to the Newton Hospital.

A car driven by Daniel Lupo of Waltham st., Watertown hit Francis O'Brien of 323 Nevada st., Newtonville as the latter was crossing Watertown st., Nonantum Sunday afternoon at 1:15. O'Brien received an injury to his head.

Scout Plan For Training Leaders Begins

Gunnar Berg To Speak At Council Meeting

Mr. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., announces the fall meeting of the Newton Council to be held at the Levi Warren Junior High School at 6:15 on Dec. 19, 1935. The speaker of the evening will be Mr. Gunnar H. Berg. Mr. Berg is one of the finest speakers in connection with Scouting that we have had the privilege of hearing for a long time. Mr. Berg is a graduate Scoutmaster, a Commissioner and is now a member of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, and is directly responsible for Volunteer training.

The plans for the supper meeting are in the hands of the committee under the leadership of Mr. William V. M. Fay, with him on his committee are Mr. Samuel P. Allison of Wellesley Hills, John M. This program is open to Scoutmasters who have completed five years of leadership as Scoutmasters and have taken certain training courses as well. ## Restaurants Not To Sell Beer On Sundays

The Newton Board of License Commissioners held a meeting on Dec. 11th and voted that no restaurants in this city shall be permitted to sell beer on Sundays after Jan. 1st, 1936. Yesterday the following letter was sent by the Board to owners of restaurants holding licenses to sell alcoholic beverages:

"The Legislature, during the 1935 session, made the following amendment to the Liquor Control Act: 'Upon an application for a restaurant license, the local Licensing Authorities may, in their discretion grant such a license authorizing the sale of Alcoholic Beverages on all days of the week or one authorizing such sale on secular days only, and the decision of such authorities as to which of the two types may be granted upon any particular application shall be final'."

At a meeting of the Board of License Commissioners of the City of Newton held on December 11, 1935, it was unanimously voted that all restaurant licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages to be granted for the year 1936 shall be for secular days only. In other words, no licensees after January 1, 1936, will be permitted to sell alcoholic beverages on Sunday.

By reason of this change, however, it was also voted that the license fee for those restaurants dispensing wine (Continued on Page 12)

Christmas Health Seal Campaign

Nearly $3000 At End of Second Week

As usual, the 1935 sale of Christmas Seals, is directed by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, through members of the federated clubs, in the different parts of Newton.

The sale of the Seals is carried on entirely by mail. Preparation of the appeal letters, folding stamps, and enclosing letters, stamps and return envelopes require very careful handling and considerable time.

Revising address lists each year is another time consuming task. Banking is done each week, with duplicate slips—another careful proceeding.

At the close of the Sale the income is turned over by the Newton Trust Co. to the Newton Welfare Bureau where a separate Health Fund account is kept.

To add to assurance that the Health Fund is wisely expended by an organization well equipped for that cause, the Health Fund is used only through advice of the Health Committee of the Welfare Bureau.

Members of the Christmas Health Seal Committee are: Chairman, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett. Vice Chairman, Mrs. H. Reginald Bankart.

Mrs. Bradley I. Hill, Auburndale. Mrs. Fred W. Allen, West Newton. Miss Grace L. Rogers, Newton Centre. Mrs. Beverly G. Secord, Newton. Mrs. Ernest F. Doyle, Newton Upper Falls.

Mrs. David F. Hill, Newtonville. Mrs. Hiram Miller, Newton Highlands. Mrs. R. Jackson Cram, Newton Lower Falls.

Mrs. Horace E. Jacobs, Chestnut Hill. The report of sale of Christmas Seals at the end of the second week is as follows:

Childs Defeats Needham By 4144 Majority; Holden Gets 649, Drake 19 Votes

Guzzi Wins In Ward 3—Cronin Victorious in Ward 4 Alderman-at-Large Fight—Smith Re-Elected to School Committee—80 Percent Vote

Edwin O. Childs was elected Mayor of Newton on Tuesday by a majority of 4,144 votes over General Daniel Needham. Childs received 14,830 votes; Needham, 10,686; Holden, 649, and Drake 19. The total number of votes cast was 26,435; about 80% of the entire registration. The small vote received by Mr. Holden was a disappointment to his political supporters, but proved that most of the popular Alderman's friends realized that the real contest was between Childs and Needham, and gave their first choice vote to either one of these two. Unlike the contest between Weeks and White two years ago, when there were many more Weeks workers at the polls and many more automobiles at their disposal than White had, Mr. Childs had as many workers and motor vehicles busy in his behalf on Tuesday as did General Needham. The voting at most precincts in the city was not as heavy up to noontime on Tuesday as it was two years ago, but from 4 o'clock until the voting booths closed at 8, many thousands of ballots were cast. Childs carried every Ward except Ward 6. Needham ran ahead in the following precincts—Ward 2, Precinct 4; Ward 3, Precinct 2; Ward 4, Precinct 3; Ward 5, Precincts 2 and 3; Ward 6, Precincts 1, 3 and 4. Childs was given a sweeping majority in the Nonantum section where he resides. In Precinct 1 of Ward 1 he obtained 915 votes to Needham's 76; and in Precinct 3 of Ward 2 the vote was—Childs, 706; Needham, 45. Second choice votes were as follows—Childs, 1264; Drake, 199; Holden, 1717; Needham, 778.

The large majority received by Mr. Childs proved again the popularity of the man who was elected to the office he held for 16 years prior to his retirement as Mayor six years ago. An intensive campaign had been conducted for Mr. Needham almost since his candidacy was announced last January, and the full strength of Mayor Weeks' organization was used in the effort to elect its candidate. All the candidates for Alderman-at-Large endorsed by the Weeks organization won easily with the exception of George A. Bacon in Ward 4. He was defeated by Dennis M. Cronin by a small majority. The contest for School Committee between Franklin E. Smith and Francis P. Frazier of Ward 1 was close; Smith winning by 1358 votes. Carl F. Schipper won the contest for Ward Alderman in Ward 2 over three opponents and John F. Brocklesby was elected Ward Alderman in Ward 4 by a narrow margin of 97 votes over Ralph Weston. One of the most bitter contests of the day was that for Ward Alderman in Ward 3 where a determined attempt was made to defeat the present incumbent, Alfred Guzzi. The latter waged an aggressive fight, had dozens of automobiles at his disposal, and emerged a victor over Algonon McCarthy by the large majority of 999 votes.

In the contests for Alderman-at-Large, Waldo Weldon, although defeated by Frank T. McCabe, carried Ward 1, the home Ward of these candidates. Henry I. Morrison, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2, despite a vigorous campaign, ran 5000 votes behind Donald Hill who has served the past four years as Ward Alderman. In Ward 3, Benjamin J. Bowen had no opponent. The outstanding contest in the Alderman-at-Large fight was in Ward 4 where Dennis M. Cronin was the victor. Cronin, who has served competently as Ward Alderman, had conducted a well planned campaign and polled 539 more votes than Bacon. John Shade Franklin, the third candidate, polled 379 votes and was a deciding factor in the contest. John Temperley, candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 5, received the largest total of any aldermanic candidate, 14,200, and was re-elected for a fifth term. Paul Goddard won by a large majority for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 6, and George Rawson, Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7, was re-elected by 3534 votes over his aggressive opponent—"Jimmy" Manning.

James P. Akins won a one-sided victory for Ward Alderman in Ward 1 over Pasquale DeLuca. The victory of Carl Schipper in Ward 2 over Clarence F. Lodge was by a margin of less than 200 votes. Former Alderman Daniel O'Connell with 1137 votes, and Harold Jones with 634 votes were undoubtedly deciding factors in this contest for Ward Alderman. The fact that Guzzi received more votes for Ward Alderman in Ward 3 than Childs did for Mayor, and McCarthy received fewer votes than were cast for Needham, showed that some of Needham's supporters voted for Guzzi. The victory of Brocklesby in Ward 4 was the result of persistent work by the winner and many of his friends. Clifford Walker swamped Robert A. Quint for Ward Alderman in Ward 5 by a vote of 3176 to 972; Keller defeated Burns in Ward 6 by a majority of 850 and Melcher led Sutcliffe in Ward 7 by over 400 votes.

When the polls were closed at 8 the regular precinct officers were assisted by many extra counters in tabulating the vote and by 10 o'clock most of the precincts had sent in returns on the mayorality contest. When it became evident that Childs' victory was assured, the former Mayor went to the scene of his life-long social activity, the Nonantum Boys' Club at Dalby st., Nonantum. There he was given a wildly enthusiastic reception by the boys and girls of that district, and an impromptu automobile parade proceeded over Nonantum street. Mr. Childs then went to his headquarters at Newton Corner, made a brief visit at the home of Henry I. Morrison, and then went to Elks' Hall on Centre st., where hundreds of his admirers cheered him. Thomas L. Ryan, Exalted Ruler of Newton Lodge of Elks, introduced a number of Mr. Childs' supporters who expressed their appreciation of the candidate and their pleasure at his victory. The Mayor-Elect extended his gratitude to all who had worked in his behalf, and to those who had voted for him, and stated that he had just as kindly feelings as ever for those who had opposed him.

Youthful admirers of Mr. Childs toured the city in trucks and cars until long after midnight. One of the trucks carried a wooden coffin in which reposed a "corpse" labelled "The Machine." The "coffin" was borne upstairs to the Elks' Hall for a brief visit. The celebrators obtained firecrackers which were exploded at various points, and sky rockets were set off at Nonantum.

When the official returns showed that he had won the contest, Mr. Childs issued the following statement: "The people rule and they have spoken. I am grateful for their confidence. I shall try to be the Mayor of all, and to serve them to the best of my ability." General Needham made the following statement: "It was a clean-cut fight and Ned Childs earned the victory. I am grateful to all who aided me in my campaign."

On Wednesday morning Mayor Weeks sent a letter to the Mayor-elect saying:

"Dear Ned:

"Congratulations on the splendid victory which you won at the polls yesterday. As my successor in office on January 1st next, you have my best wishes for a most successful administration of the city's affairs."

"If I can be of service to you before or after you take office, I hope you will not fail to advise me, as I shall be most happy to co-operate in any possible way. With kind regards, believe me,

Sincerely yours,

SINCLAIR WEEKS.

THE VOTERS CHOOSE

The voters of Newton have shown their confidence in Edwin O. Childs by electing him again as Mayor. The plurality of his total was not only surprising to his opponents but to many of his own supporters as well. General Needham waged a well-organized campaign that most surely would have been successful against an opponent of less personal popularity. Mayor Childs goes into office again with the knowledge that he was the popular choice. General Needham will retain the friendship of thousands of voters. Unlike the campaigns of many cities of the state there was no party politics as an issue. The voters had only to choose between two colorful personalities. The Election proved or re-emphasized certain factors. It showed that Mayor Childs has lost none of the popularity that he enjoyed for sixteen years as the chief executive of the Garden City. It further made it evident that no man, however politically popular he may be, can transfer this popularity to another candidate. Mayor Childs will go into office on January first inspired with the enthusiasm of his supporters and with the best wishes of his opponents. We do not hesitate to express our belief that he will have the co-operation of both friend and foe in helping to maintain the high type of government which Newton has enjoyed throughout its history.

THE FORUM ON UNEMPLOYMENT

On Sunday afternoon the second in the series of forum meetings will be held in the high school assembly hall. Rabbi Israel will discuss some aspects of the unemployment situation. This problem of unemployment is one which many of those in more fortunate circumstances do not realize seriously affects them until they themselves become victims of it. Unemployment, however, does vitally affect us all. As taxpayers we are seeing its results in increased taxation to provide governmental relief as well as the concentration of the burden of taxation upon those who are able to pay. In the everyday world we see its results upon the occupation from which we derive our livings. It makes little difference whether one is a merchant, professional man, or manufacturer the more unemployment that exists the more we are individually affected through the loss of purchasing power by those who are idle. Unemployment is one of the most serious difficulties of our present-day civilization. It controls to a great degree the standard of living. Many brilliant minds, students of economics, scientists, and others are attempting to alleviate its bad effects. The Community Forum is your opportunity to learn the views of those who have a great deal of information on the subject. The Forum gives an opportunity to stimulate interest in matters of community interest. Attend the meeting on Sunday. You will find it most worth while.

OUR BOARD OF ALDERMEN

At the election on Tuesday the voters elected fourteen men to represent the various sections of the city upon the Board of Aldermen. In almost every case the choice was clear cut and decisive as shown by the large pluralities for most of the successful candidates. These fourteen members, three of whom are newcomers in public life, together with the seven members whose terms do not expire for another year, will comprise the legislative branch of our municipal government in 1936. With but three new members it is evident that the members of the Board of Aldermen have the confidence of the electorate and that they will continue to serve the city faithfully and well. We congratulate the members-elect, the three new members as well as the eleven returning members.

TWELVE MORE DAYS

With but twelve more days before Christmas it does not seem necessary to remind our readers to get their Christmas shopping done early. A noticeable increase of deposits in Christmas Clubs at the various banking institutions, a large increase already noted in mail going to foreign shores, and crowds of shoppers seem destined to make Christmas 1935 a better year for Santa Claus than for some time past. The holiday spirit should be brighter also.

CHRISTMAS HEALTH SEAL SALE

The Christmas Health Seal Sale is in its third week. The receipts from this work are entirely expended for local work in the care and prevention of tuberculosis among Newton children. If you have not already done so, send your dollar to the Seal Sale Committee and share in this vital and necessary cause. Need we say more?

Only nine states have more cars registered than Massachusetts, yet thirty-three states have more mileage of concrete roads.

Friday the thirteenth again—the second time in four months.

The next important question—will it be a white Christmas?

Let changes come. Without changes there is no progress.

Newton young people in various colleges continue prominently in many activities at their respective institutions of learning. Miss Rosalind Kenway Lewis, a freshman at Radcliffe, and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Warren K. Lewis of Newton is one of twenty-five of her class given the privilege of attending the annual dinner sponsored by the committee on the encouragement of scholarship of Phi Beta Kappa. This committee is of the Iota Chapter of Massachusetts. The dinner will be held in Agassiz House at Radcliffe this evening. Miss Lewis graduated from Newton High School and was chosen to attend the dinner for the high entrance record she made. At Swarthmore College in Swarthmore, Penna., Miss Deborah Wing, a sophomore, is a member of the women's swimming squad competing in diving. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wing of Magnolia Ave., Newton. At Newton High School she played on the hockey team and was a member of the year book staff. At college Miss Wing also contributes to the Phoenix, college weekly, and has been active in the Little Theatre Club of the college.

Two Newton girls have been serving on committees conducting the annual fair at Marot Junior College in Thompson, Conn., recently. Miss Eleanor C. Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Lane of Somerset rd., West Newton, was on the flower committee and Miss Helen C. Whittemore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Whittemore of 126 Glen ave., Newton Centre, was on the candy committee. Both will return home next week for the Christmas holidays.

At Bowdoin College a Newton boy has won unusual distinction. Claude Rand Frazier, a sophomore, was one of twenty-seven football players awarded varsity letters. Unusual as it is for sophomores to earn varsity awards the Newtonville youth's accomplishment is more remarkable in that six of ten earning letters were lettermen from 1934. Frazier played in three varsity games, Wesleyan, Colby and Tufts, and in practically every junior varsity game. He was one of the lightest men on the squad but proved rugged, aggressive and skillful. His versatile playing on defense as well as offense stood out. He did all of the kicking, most of the passing and a large share of the ball-carrying. A year ago he was outstanding on the freshman eleven and in the spring was the only freshman to earn a varsity baseball letter. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. Warren Huston of Newtonville is continuing his brilliant athletic career at Springfield College and as captain-elect of the 1936 Gymnast eleven should prove as admirable a leader as in high school in 1932. He is turning his athletic talent to basketball and spring will be at his regular shortstop berth on the baseball nine. Perry Elrod as a senior at Brown also stood out above many others. Although the Bears had one of the most dismal records of the season Elrod was one of the largest ground gainers and potential threats while on the field. His defensive playing prevented a number of scores by several of Brown's opponents.

Robert Fyfe of Wyman st., Waban, a sophomore at the University of Vermont, has been elected assistant manager of the 1936 varsity football team there. Robert S. Bourvoisy, a freshman at Colby College, is a member of Tau Delta Phi Fraternity. He is a member of the fraternity soccer team and played in the interfraternity championship series. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bourvoisy of Lowell ave., Newtonville.

Jackson H. Skillings, a junior at Brown, has been awarded the William Easton Louitt Scholarship of $500. The scholarship is awarded annually to a student for "distinguished accomplishment and promise." Skillings attended Newton high and Wilbraham Academy before entering Brown. He resides at 75 Ripley st., Newton Centre. Recently he was chosen for honor study work in recognition of his high scholastic standing. He is also athletically prominent having made varsity hockey team as regular goal-tender as a sophomore. While at Newton high he was all-scholastic choice for this position.

The Newton postoffice is planning to provide users of letter mail with additional conveniences for their holiday mail deposits. A large mail box for letter mail will be placed near the Centre street bus stop opposite the rear of the bank building from Dec. 19 to 23rd. Postmaster John M. Fitzgerald states that this box will accommodate deposits in bundle lots and that it will facilitate the handling of the mail if letters are all faced one way and tied in bundles.

Final papers were passed this week marking the purchase by Temple Emmanuel of Newton of a site of land located at Ward and Ashford sts., for the erection of a Temple, Educational and Community Center. Plans for the new building designed by Carney Goldberg, Rhodes scholar, architect of 792 Beacon st., Boston, involve a structure of Colonial design, considered unique in New England church architecture, which will provide space for religious service, class rooms for religious instruction, and an auditorium for social and community activity.

The Congregation Temple Emmanuel has made unusually rapid strides since its inception a few brief months ago. Starting with a small nucleus of men and women prominent in Greater Boston Jewish activities, the venture met with such favor among Newton civic leaders that already, even prior to the erection of the new building, many of a temple's regular functions are actively in progress.

The Sisterhood, an auxiliary of Temple Emmanuel, numbers close to 150 enthusiastic members. The Temple Sunday School with temporary quarters at 634 Commonwealth ave., has a constantly growing enrollment which now numbers 125 children. The children of members have also organized a Junior Congregation and have elected Udel Rosenberg as temporary president.

The spiritual work of Temple Emmanuel is under the direction of Rabbi Leo Shubow, recently connected with a prominent New York congregation. Rabbi Shubow supervises all temple activities, including the Sunday School and Junior Congregation. The Congregation organization is headed by Ralph Cohn of 528 Commonwealth ave., Newton. The Sisterhood has as its president, Mrs. Ira I. Nelson of 20 Kenwood rd., Newton Centre.

Officers of Temple Emmanuel Congregation are Ralph Cohn, president; George Gordon, vice president; Ira I. Nelson, vice president; I. J. Silverman, treasurer; Herman Levenson, secretary; and Otto Spiller, financial secretary. The building committee includes Ira I. Nelson, chairman; I. J. Silverman, Thomas Spiro, Saul Rotenber, Herbert Copelman, Oscar Horowitz and George Gordon.

60 YEARS AGO

From Newton Republican
Dec. 16, 1876

The young men of Wards 1 and 7 have petitioned the city government for water from the service pipes to flow over the land on the west side of Eldredge st. to the depth of 6 inches for a skating park. We hope the City fathers will accede to the proposal, and then the city will have a glorious skating rink, convenient of access.

Jordan Weaver was fined $10 and costs in the Police Court this week for putting Henry Smith out of the depot, claiming that Smith was a loafer, instead of waiting for a train, as he stated.

Ladies and gentlemen of Newton and vicinity willing to consider the propriety of marking the spot where Eliot first preached to the Indians of America, are invited to meet in Eliot Hall on Tuesday night, December 19, at 7:30. Addresses will be made by Rev. Furber, Rev. Shinn, G. D. Gilman and others. Mayor Speare will preside.

Our streets are being torn up in many places for the laying of water pipes. Many families in the valley who have been using drainage water, are glad of this opportunity to get a pure supply.

The Overseers of the Poor submitted their following statement of their expenses for the year ending December 1, 1876: amount paid hospitals for care of insane, $2391.97; cities and towns for relief of outside poor, $1116.71; State Industrial School, $196.27; medical aid, $911.99; medicine, $97.81; fuel, $1127.13; food for tramps at police stations, $84.93; burial expenses $290; house rent, $86; board for persons, $126.43; food for poor, $2934.85; and to persons, $52.75; total, $9255.64.

The following figures show the railroad freight business of Newton for the years ending September 30, 1876; Newton, 17345 tons; Newtonville, 9,008; West Newton, 13,290; Abundance, 5364; Lower Falls, 5282; Newton Centre, 11,766; Upper Falls, 13,618. Total, 75,673 tons.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 12, 1885

At 7 o'clock p. m. Monday the mercury had fallen to 13 above zero. Many housekeepers found their new water pipes to be frozen. This annoyance is said to be increased by the number of ventilating pipes now considered to be so necessary in first class plumbing. The best method of treating frozen pipes is to place a kerosene oil stove in such a way that the frozen pipe passes across the lighted wicks; open the faucets, the water in the pipe must soon begin to flow.

Fine skating at Bullough's Pond. The water at this pond is very shallow; the section north of the street being mostly a flooded meadow. At Mill street the water is deeper and large ice houses are located on this street.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 16, 1910

The average citizen of Newton hardly knew that a municipal election was in progress last Tuesday, only 2910 ballots being cast out of a total registration of 6597, and 1900 of this number being cast in the three Wards which had contests for ward aldermen. The Republican candidates for Ward aldermen were opposed in Wards 1, 2 and 3, and were successful in Ward 2 where Alderman Avery won by a margin of 27 over Howard O'Grady; and in Ward 3 where George Cox won by 256 over Daniel O'Connell. In Ward 1 John W. Murphy, Democrat, was elected by 234 votes, over Paul Wing.

Mayor Hatfield entertained a number of friends at his camp at Lake Winnepesaukee last Saturday.

At the hearing before the Aldermen on Monday night on the proposed bill to establish a Board of Survey, George A. Ward of Newton Centre said in opposition that it would be an arbitrary act which would put power in the hands of the Board so that a man could not lay out his own property. It would raise a cloud in the conveyance of a title. He said he did not want any Board that can tell him what he can't do with his property. Newton is the hardest place in the world to sell real estate. You can't get an outside builder to come into Newton. It is principally the restrictions and the plumbing and building laws that we are up against.

Phillip A. Goodrich of Waltham, while riding on a tipcart on Commonwealth ave. near Lexington st., Abundance on Monday morning, was thrown from the cart when the horse started suddenly. He received a broken leg and other injuries when the cart went over him. He was taken to the hospital and died that night.

The Mans' Club of the Church of the Good Shepard, Waban, gave a 69 cent chicken supper in Pillsbury gymnasium hall last Friday to about 60 diners.

Powers' Paragraphs

The victory of Edwin O. Childs on Tuesday proves that personal popularity is still a potent factor in politics. Few men in this city have succeeded in recent years in defeating for office candidates who had the support of the well organized machine which was formed more than six years ago. John Temperley was the only candidate for alderman-at-large who overcame at the polls opponents who were on the machine slate, and his strength with the electorate was recognized this year by the Weeks organization when his name was included on its slate without Temperley soliciting such support.

During the six years since Childs retired from office, the former Mayor has indicated from time to time that he would again run. So, when Mayor Weeks announced last year that he would not run for another term, various men in this city were considered as opponents against Mr. Childs, and General Needham was selected over a year ago as the strongest available contestant to run against the former mayor. Those who backed him cannot be accused of not having conducted an efficient campaign. It was well organized. Some errors were made, however. One was the issuance of a statement alleging that 100% of voters belonging to a certain religious affiliation would be with Mr. Needham. Another was the contention by some of General Needham's supporters that Childs did not show proper interest in Newton schools when Mayor. A third error was the radio broadcast from Station WNAC last Monday evening when Alderman Floyd criticised Mr. Childs. Many votes were changed by this broadcast in the opinion of competent observers.

General Needham conducted himself in a dignified and manly manner during the campaign and won many friends, including persons who supported and voted for Mr. Childs. He has not lost prestige by losing to a man of Childs intense popularity. When life-long residents of Newton, men with years of political service as an asset, were acknowledged not to possess sufficient appeal with the public to oppose Childs, General Needham was handed a very difficult assignment, and pulled an excellent vote under the circumstances.

Two years ago when Mayor Weeks defeated Thomas W. White by a large majority, political wisecracks asserted that White, and Edwin O. Childs who supported him, were both dead, politically. For the past six months political enemies of Mr. White have been proclaiming that Childs could not win because the widely known political expert from Newton Upper Falls was managing the ex-mayor's campaign. The election on Tuesday proved that neither Mr. Childs nor Mr. White are political corpses. Both are yet very much alive. Many are now also saying that the defeat of Mayor Weeks' candidate presages the end of the mayor's political career. They are as apt to be as incorrect in this case as they were regarding Ed Childs and Tom White.

Tuesday noon a fleet of seven taxicabs owned by a large Boston company came to Newton to assist in bringing Childs' supporters to the polls. One rumor went around the city that these taxis were provided by Gov. James M. Curley. Another rumor was that Charles J. Innes was the donor of the service of these taxis. As a matter of fact neither Gov. Curley, Mr. Innes nor any other man connected with politics provided the seven cabs. The taxis were provided by a personal friend of Tom White without solicitation on the latter's part, and were not really needed as an ample number of cars had already been provided by Newton residents.

One candidate for office at the Tuesday election who was defeated by a large majority, will, nevertheless, be a strong factor in Newton's politics in the future. Henry I. Morrison of 1071 Commonwealth ave. displayed plenty of ability and energy during the campaign. Automobiles contributed by his friends were of great assistance in electing at least two successful candidates for Aldermen in other wards.

A former resident of Newton Howard H. Murphy of Osterville, Cape Cod, has been in the limelight recently because of his appointment by Governor Curley as Commissioner of Agriculture. By date, the Executive Council have failed to confirm this appointment. Mr. Murphy was formerly a resident of Pine Grove ave., Lower Falls, and several years ago was a candidate for Alderman. An affable man, he dignified the campaign that year by speaking at rallies attired in formal apparel. In his speeches Mr. Murphy informed his audiences that he was a lineal descendant of American pioneers who came to this country years before the Pilgrims, probably the settlement at Kennebunk, Maine. He was formerly engaged in the wholesale grocery business and later engaged in real estate development at Lower Falls, and lectured as a home engineer. His versatility is shown by the fact that Gov. Curley considers him an expert in agriculture.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Nice to Dream About

In fairness to any who may have me on their "to be remembered list," I wish to say that there is one gift which, although it can under no circumstances be called useless, I must necessarily decline. Therefore, it will do no good if anybody should send me a steamship ticket to Bermuda, Panama, South America or a round-the-world cruise or similarly delightful trip. The fact is I cannot possibly get away from the rock-pile. I would be tempted to throw up my job, and if I did I would be worse off when I got back—broke and unemployed. Inasmuch as a bit of travel is to me the ideal Christmas gift, nothing less would satisfy me. Consequently, I cheerfully go without.

Put in His Place

No doubt you have met individuals who are so positive in everything that each utterance becomes virtually a pronouncement. They are incapable of ordinary conversation. No matter how impersonal or trifling the subject, these people challenge every statement and before you know it you are on one side of a terrific argument. As a result you keep out of their way thereafter. Another means of avoiding repetition of such an experience and one usually favored by those of us who at heart are peaceful souls, is to let the person run on until wearied. Nevertheless, they can be effectively squelched without force. I saw it done the other day. One member of a group of men was "laying down the law" when another, plainly bored by the flow of wisdom, interrupted with, "O you know so — much about everything you ought to take the teachers' oath."

Fun of Looking Back

Talking over old-times sometimes has a depressing effect. I don't know why it should except it revives unpleasant memories. My personal experience has been far different as exemplified by a meeting with an old friend one day this week. Mark you, we hadn't met since we were boys, together in another city and if a mutual friend had not been there to introduce us we would never have recognized each other.

It was one of those jolly reunions with a flood of happy recollections. Swiftly did we fire questions such as, "Remember that fat kid you had the scrap with?" "Whatever became of that pretty girl that lived next door to you?" and "Will you ever forget when we crawled under the circus tent and got caught?" These and many others made for the liveliest half-hour's conversation in a long time.

Even after we separated I could not refrain from thinking of that same boy

Glad to Know It

The pleasure and satisfaction that comes of the support of one's contentions was brought home to me by the receipt of a letter from Mr. J. W. Tapper of Newton Highlands in which he said:

"It was a great surprise to me to read in your paragraphs of a high-priced magazine stating that the custom of urging children to learn music is passing out, due to the radio. The reverse is so true that I would like to spike another arrow in your statements. The increase in schools is a fact. While the radio did affect the piano during its newness, it has actually helped the piano, and other instruments as well."

Continuing, he pointed out that as far as piano tuning was concerned, he has now the largest business in his experience. Furthermore, many parents are constantly inquiring as to competent teachers of various musical instruments. Mr. Tapper also sent me the reprint of an article from "Etude" which states that any fear of all music becoming mechanized is of "pure piffle."

Penalty of Pride

It's great to be lucky, but if you get the breaks you must expect to have envious folks make sour remarks. Not everybody can see a fellow mortal fall into a piece of good fortune without a show of envy. An incident of that nature occurred recently in our own city, which is full of good people, according to the candidates in the municipal campaign.

A young man was wearing his new coon coat with silent satisfaction when he encountered a friend in a well-worn ulster. It was one of those days of extremely low temperature. Said the ulster to the coon coat, "Kind o' chilly."

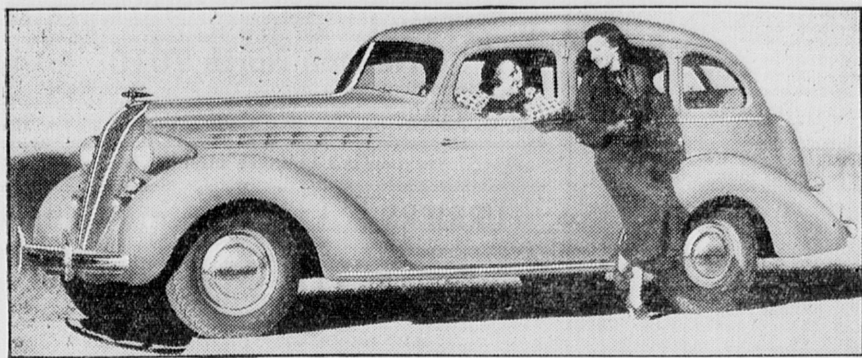

"Is it?" the other queried, mildly interested. "It sure is," came the retort, "but you wouldn't know it with that fur store on your back."

The Public Speaking Class closed its ten session evening course last Friday night. The attendance averaged well and the results obtained by the individual men were very gratifying.

Many of the men evinced a desire to take an advanced course, and if enough enroll to make it possible, the Class will hold its first session on Friday, January 31st, 1936.

Camp Reunion

The campers of Camp Frank A. Day will hold their mid-winter reunion at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Thursday, December 26th. The banquet will be served at 6:30.

This is the period in the season when campers and counselors get together and talk over events of the past season, and swap yarns on what they have done.

The Reunion also marks the preparation of the 1936 season. Applications will be given out and registrations will be accepted for the coming season.

The outstanding event will be a talk and pictures of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. "Bud" Waite, who was chief electrical engineer of the America, and Radio Operator of the Bear of Oakland, will be the main speaker. He will tell the inside story of the battle with the ice, the struggle to transport the six hundred tons of supplies from the ship to the camp over almost impassable ice, the closing in of the winter night, etc. He was the one who established the radio in Byrd's remote shack, and a member of the rescuing party who spent seventy hours on the roof of the Tractor at a temperature of 60 below zero. These and many other experiences will be told to the campers and their parents.

Red Cross Nutritionists Demonstrates Christmas Fruits

The nutritionist of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross has been busy this week with demonstrations of Healthful Fruits for Christmas. Groups of women enrolled in the adult Americanization classes in four Newton schools have prepared under the supervision of the nutritionist, delicious fruit candies which are attractive, easy to make and inexpensive. Considering the speed with which the candy disappeared there can be no doubt of the general approval of these quickly prepared and extremely nutritious sweets. Anyone desiring the recipes for the fruit candies can secure them by calling at the Red Cross office, 12 Austin st., Newtonville.

The holiday season is a busy time for Miss Raymond, the Chapter Nutritionist, who must fit into her already busy schedule of clinics, consultations and visiting the extra classes, talks and activities which are a special part of Christmas preparations. Don't forget to send books to the Newton Red Cross for the Veterans' Hospital for Christmas.

SEC Club To Hear League of Nations Guide

The speaker at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Sunday Evening Club for this Sunday, Dec. 15, acted as guide at the League of Nations Assembly this summer, just as the Italy-Ethiopia war was beginning to boil.

Mr. Theodore Smith is now in the department of English at M. I. T. where last year he sponsored formation of the Technology, modelled after the famous Oxford and Cambridge Unions in England. He is also an active lecturer for the League of Nations Association. He will try to sketch in the background of the League organization and of the dramatic events there which have led to the present situation of world tension. The combination of an interesting subject and a fluent speaker should prove attractive. All college-age young people are invited to hear "League Close-up" at the Central Congregational Church Sunday, Dec. 15 at 8:00 p. m.

Rotary Ideals Explained To Six New Members

The Rotary Club took in six members at the Monday meeting: Dr. Harold D. Choate, Harold W. Batchelder, Percy E. Frost, Ellwood Drake, William N. Rich, and Kurt Theophile. The "charge" as it were, was delivered by Charles C. Dasey of Newton, who is manager for the Cunard Line in Boston and a member of the Boston Rotary Club, and while the talk was directed primarily at the new members it proved an inspiration to every Rotarian regardless of the length of his membership.

Mr. Dasey reminded the group that acceptance of membership in Rotary is the acceptance of a call to service which involves both an opportunity and a responsibility—an opportunity to enjoy the pleasure that comes from associations and fellowship, and the responsibility to shoulder a real share of the problems and burdens in the business or profession of each one and in the local community and world about us. Through sacrifice and service comes the greatest happiness.

Two attributes are of prime importance to members of service clubs: patience with all the weaknesses and foibles of human character and a fidelity to the principles of Rotary, the chief of which is Service. While "Service" is much vaunted and much discussed it really consists very largely of doing well day by day the little things of life. In Rotary, Service is roughly classified into (a) personal service among individuals or in the community; (b) vocational service within one's own business or profession, and (c) international service. In the matter of community service, men are apt in the hustle and bustle of life to take too much for granted the benefits the community confers in matters of education, protection, recreation, health, etc., and to forget the corresponding obligation on the individual to give something of his effort for their maintenance. A man's first duty is to his family; but every man by careful planning can find opportunity for returning something to the community through actual contributions of time, of effort, or of finance. It is the very least through the influence of his sympathetic understanding and appreciation.

Vocational service comprises the opportunities within one's daily work to benefit the workers within a given business as well as those persons, or "customers", on the outside whom it contacts. Tied up closely with this vocational service is the Code of Ethics which has received a good deal of attention at various times within the history of Rotary. The active participation in International Service sometimes seems difficult of attainment to a new member. Mere membership in an organization of international scope is in itself a step; but of greater importance is the cultivation by each and every member of that organization of greater tolerance and understanding and a desire to see and appreciate the viewpoints of other peoples. This would tend to eliminate racial and national prejudices and war. As evidence of tangible progress in such directions, Mr. Dasey cited two clubs famous in Rotary: one in India where there are 44 members of various social levels and backgrounds and religious beliefs; and one in Singapore where some 50 different nationalities, with all that means in customs of dress, food, worship, etc., sit down weekly and mingle freely in spite of all their sharp differences of race and creed and language. These two clubs are outstanding demonstrations of the fact that mutual forbearance leads to mutual respect.

In Rotary, a member doesn't seek friendship but rather he gives it in his service. In so doing, the manhood and honor and finds as a by-product of his giving those friendships which are so pleasant.

The Newton Girl Scouts will hold a rally tomorrow in the Newton High School Gymnasium. Girl Scouts from all villages will play competitive games and Marjorie Collins of Newtonville will receive a Golden Eaglet, the highest award in Girl Scouting. The Newton Bugle and Drum Corps will play and members of Troop No. 10, Newtonville, will present a folk dance. There will be three events for girls from 10 to 12 and three events for girls from 12 to 14. Troop No. 13, Newton Centre, will present a surprise feature.

Members of the Senior troops who will act as aides include: Eleanor Greene, Margaret Messer, Emmaline Conant, Ruth Jones, Peggy Tobitts, Helena Klein, and Marjorie Millard of Waban; Florence Butchart, Florence Capobianco, Dorothy Egan, Enid Lane, Grace Nichols, Mae Schofield, Clara Taylor, Betty Egan, Doris Oldfield, and Helen Oldfield of Newton Upper Falls; Susan Bryant, Marjorie Lawrence, Diana Cunnmer, Miriam Brightman, Victoria Bourque, Marjorie Coughlan, and Joan Cummins of Newton Centre; and Vyriling Rawson of Newton.

Members of Troop No. 10, Newtonville, who will present a folk dance are: Barbara Collins, Katharine Dempsey, Catherine Hayes, Theodora Klein, Antoinette Meyer, and Cynthia Steitz.

Miss Caroline Freeman, Director, will be in charge of the affair and approximately 500 Girl Scouts are expected to take part.

Outstanding Young Violinist At Concert In Wellesley

About five years ago the musical world was startled by the advent of a wonder-child who played the fiddle marvelously. Now, at the age of fourteen Ricci is acknowledged to be a mature artist. He has had the advantage of excellent instruction and is carefully guarded by intelligent parents, who refuse to exploit his genius at the expense of his normal development. Only a dozen concerts a year are allowed him, study and play having had an equal share in the development of this extraordinary boy. At his recital in Alumnus Hall, Wellesley College Tuesday evening next Ricci plays a well-rounded program.

Children Are Christmas Guests

Two Clubs in Newton will entertain children in Christmas Parties during the week, the Newton Community Club and the Newtonville Woman's Club.

The Annual Christmas Party for the children of the Stearns School Centre will be held on Thursday, December 19th, by the Newton Community Club at Underwood School Hall, at 2:30 p. m.

Mr. Elliott Smith, of Newton, Magician and Ventriloquist, will entertain, after which there will be the distribution of gifts from the Christmas tree, for the little Stearns School guests.

Members' children are cordially invited to attend.

Club members will be glad to know that the Children's Movie held at the Paramount Theatre on November 30th was a huge success. Both the moving pictures and the program given in the intermission by the "Hill Billies" were greatly enjoyed by a big attendance. A large supply of candy and popcorn was sold by Girl Scouts.

Mr. Everett Crawford, of Copley street, gave a very interesting lecture based on his recent trip to Germany before the International Relations Study Group, on Monday evening, December 2nd. The meeting was held at the home of the chairman, Mrs. LeRoy P. Gulon, of Oakleigh road, and was attended by members of the Club and their guests.

Tuesday, December 17th, at 2:30 p. m. is a time being eagerly anticipated by sixty youngsters chosen from the different sections of Newton, when they will be the special guests of the Newtonville Woman's Club at their Club House on Washington park, the occasion being the Annual Christmas Party. The hostess, Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, has spared no effort to make this a particularly bright and happy afternoon for the little guests who otherwise would not have their rightful share in the season's joys.

The first part of the afternoon will be devoted to an entertainment by Elliott Smith, a well-known magician and ventriloquist, who specializes in children's parties. His performance of fun and mystery is sure to be enjoyed by both the children and the members of the Club. The lighted tree, well supplied with unwrapped gifts, will be a feature of the platform decoration, so that when the children go to the Banquet Room for substantial refreshments, they will know that Santa Claus has a visit in store for them upon their return to the Auditorium. The same jovial Saint Nicholas who has been present for the past several years, will be on hand again with two small helpers who will assist him, but each little guest will be greeted by name and will undoubtedly receive something which each has named as a desired gift.

Clothing and the more practical gifts which the committee has been busily preparing will be delivered to the homes of the children.

The Flower committee, Mrs. Perez B. Howard, chairman, will have on display for sale attractive Christmas greens so that Club members may be sure that choice wreaths at moderate prices can be obtained at this meeting.

All Club members are cordially invited, but as this Party is solely for a group of needy children of Newton, no other children will be admitted. The Executive Board of the Club urges the members to attend, so that they may appreciate the work of the committee in charge of the afternoon, and participate in the joy of giving and of the cheer that this very worthwhile and gratifying activity of the Club affords some of their less fortunate neighbors.

Wednesday, December 18th, at 11:30 a. m., is the date for the first of the new series of four lectures by Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor, Mrs. Taylor, who for the past few seasons, has been chosen by the International Relations committee, will have for her subject this year "Let's Look at the World." Mrs. Taylor's background and first-hand knowledge of her subject make her talks highly informative and full of interest, and her personality and ability to interpret facts amply justify her popularity and the friendships she has made in the course of her work.

State Announces Radio Plans

The Radio director of the State Federation, Mrs. Eleanor B. Richardson, has arranged what promises to be a valuable feature of club publicity in a series of broadcasts that will reach the various sections of the state.

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole will broadcast over Station WBZ on Saturday.

Community Invited To Creche Exhibit

The Annual Creche Exhibit of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, which presents the spirit of Christmas in its inspiring collection of these rare art works, will be held in the Club Workshop on Columbus street on Sunday, December 15th, from 2:30 to 9.

Mrs. Samuel A. Biggin is chairman of the Exhibit, and the Art committee, which is sponsoring it, will be assisted by the Music committee and the Garden Club.

The Community is invited to share with the members of the Club in this presentation of a key-note of the Christmas celebration and in the caroling in the evening.

Art Critic To Be Speaker

"The Price of Individual Freedom, An Approach to Fine Arts" will be subject in which Miss Dorothy Adlow will speak at the Waban Woman's Club meeting on Monday, December 16th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Neighborhood Club House.

Miss Adlow is the art critic on the Christian Science Monitor and she was sent to Russia for a series of special articles on Soviet Art.

Mrs. Gerald Carper will be hostess for the social hour, assisted by Mrs. Arthur W. Davis and Mrs. Robert W. Adams at the tea table.

Juniors To Hold Annual Bridge

The Junior Group of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will hold their next meeting on Tuesday, December 17th, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Miss Dorothy Scranton, 64 Bonad road, West Newton. Plans for their Annual Bridge will be made and the Scrap Books will be completed for the children at the Newton Hospital.

At the December 3rd meeting of the Junior Group the Welfare committee, chairman, Anne Appleton, made a report on the ages of the children and on the circumstances of the family which is to be helped at Christmas time. Food and Clothing committees were appointed: Food: Miss Constance Brine, Miss Eleanor Tisdale, Miss Anne Woods; and Clothing: Miss Alice Drury, Miss Raymond Harvey, Miss Carolyn Hayden, Miss Claire Holman, and Miss Mary Hurley. Food and clothing for the family may be brought to Miss Anne Appleton, 280 Highland avenue, or to Miss Eleanor Tisdale, 45 Adella avenue, West Newton.

Plans were made for the Annual Bridge Party which will be held at the home of Miss Janet Hickey, Committee for the Bridge are, General committee: Miss Janet Hickey, chairman; Miss Betty Brackett, Miss Barbara Hanson, Miss Louise Martin; Tickets: Miss Constance Brine, Miss Alice Drury, Miss Carolyn Hayden, and Miss Dorothy Stinets; and Refreshments: Miss Betty Brackett, Miss Barbara Hanson, Miss Katherine Herrington, Miss Louise Martin, and Miss Colette Quigley.

Newton Man is Re-Elected
Pres. of Young Republicans

Mr. Roger A. Lutz of 140 Langley rd., Newton Centre, has been re-elected president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Boston. Other residents of Newton elected to the executive committee are George W. Bricker, Jr., of Auburndale; Milton W. Heath of Newtonville, and John Holbrook of Newton Centre.

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of Newton District Nursing Association was held at headquarters on Monday, Dec. 9, 1935. The President Mrs. Arnold was in the chair and 18 members were present.

Miss Nelson, the directing supervisor, reported the work of the District saying that the work was heavier than last year at the same time, having 583 patients this year in November as against 334 last year. The pre-natal cases are heavy at this time. 1320 visits were made in November. A report of a case written by a student nurse was read.

Miss Perry a staff nurse reported attending the Maternity Institute held in Boston to which our four nurses went. She gave a most interesting report emphasizing the great risk in childbirth for women from 15 to 44 years of age. The percent of mortality is somewhat diminishing but there is a tremendous field for improvement.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

COACH SIMMONS WORKS WITH BASKETBALL MEN

Frank M. Simmons, Newton High's basketball coach, does not expect to put a sensational varsity team on the floor this year. Of the team which gave Newton a share in the three-way tie for Suburban league honors last year, only Captain Allan Smith remains. Smith was high scorer last season with a total of 111 points.

Besides Smith, the seniors who may have much to do with the make-up of the team are Donald Colony, Ernie Savignano, Stan Gruber, Pete Donovan, Paul "Red" Dolan, Paul Rich and John Beach. Gruber and Savignano had a smattering of varsity experience last year, as did Donovan, brother of Ellis Donovan, 1934 captain. Don Colony was a prominent second team forward last year, and Beach played with the almost-unbeaten Newton Trade School quintet.

The most likely juniors retained on the squad after the first cut, which reduced the squad by two-thirds, are Leonard LeSourd, Al Coletti and Augustine Desantis. Salvatore "Cut" Marrazzo, basketball luminary, Stan Soshaki of last year's Trade School team, Clarence Cormier, William Loud, James Mosher, Edgar Romilly and Peter Murphy are the other juniors.

Large Sophomore List

There are twenty-seven sophomores out for basketball who have survived the first cut. Many of them are already promising, and come to the high school with reputations from the various junior high schools. E. Legier, William Johnston, Don Enis and Paul Robey are among the sophomore leaders in the early-season workouts.

The remaining sophomores are J. Antonelli, J. Burke, B. Burns, Babcock, Guido Castoldi, P. Chesarone, D. Cedrone, J. Colantonio, P. Connolly, T. Duffey, J. Fyfield, J. Gehling, R. Higgins, R. Howard, D. Tylee, Robert Klein, M. LoChiatto, Don Manchester, E. Mitchell, C. Munson, Jim Regan and T. Smith.

Newton Highlights

In the championship final matches of the Irish-American A. A. diamond belt boxing tournament next Monday night at the Boston Arena, Joe Nolan of Gardner street will be a contestant in the 126-lb. class. Joe graduated from Newton High in June and turned up last fall at New Hampshire University, where boxing is a very popular winter activity. With the sanction of the college authorities, he came down from Durham three weeks ago to compete in the first trial matches of the diamond belt tourney and won two knockout victories in less than three rounds. In the finals Monday night Nolan will be one of four entries, each of whom has won his way through several elimination trials.

Trying out for the hockey team at Newton High is Arthur E. Andres, the fifth Andres brother to go through Newton High. The others, in order, were Robert, Harold, Phillip and Paul. Harold was an All-American center for Dartmouth, and held down a defense position on the Indian's hockey teams for three years. Phil, the next most illustrious after Hale, was a three-sport athlete at Newton and carried on for another year at Worcester Academy. Arthur, the fifth Andres, last winter teamed with Porter Jarrell and Paul Brown in a sophomore forward line.

Penalty shots will play a more prominent part in Greater Boston interscholastic hockey games this year than last. To the existing rules league officials have added several more designed to increase the strength of the attacking team. Throwing a stick to prevent an imminent score or otherwise fouling a player clearly about to score will not only draw a minor penalty but also a penalty shot at the goal. A player making a penalty shot will have only one chance to shoot, and may not pass the nearest Hail of the circle more than once. Also, the rules have been modified to allow a player to carry the puck once behind his own goal to gather speed for a rush, whereas formerly a stalling penalty could be called.

Newton High will have another strong indoor track team, provided Coach Don Enoch and his assistants Charles Considine and Ed Boyle, can pull some middle distance runners out of the hat. This is no small feat at Newton, since there is no cross-country team. Captains Warren Wittens and Ray Huling, a pair of great competitors, will be two-thirds of a team if they do only as well as they did last year. Bob Muther, a junior, won relay and "300" honors last year as a sophomore, and Nat Heard made great progress with the shot. Besides this nucleus, there are other capable performers available, among them Paul Forte, who is said to be a better-than-average sprinter.

ATTENTION NEWTON SKATERS

If you want to skate on Bulloughs Pond or Crystal Lake or Pilsener Cove it is necessary for you to get a permit from the Playground Department at City Hall. The charge for Newton citizens is 25 cents for the season 1935-36. Non-citizens may secure a permit by paying $1.00, a non-citizen's permit for the season 1935-36.

Avoid the rush by getting your permits now at the office of the Playground Department at City Hall. Later on, when the ice permits skating, these permits may be secured at the booth at Bulloughs Pond. But it may be cold and you may have to wait in line for some time if there happens to be a rush.

ALL-SUBURBAN HONORS FOR SAVIGNANO, MILNER

For the second successive year Ernest Savignano, captain of the Newton High football team, was elected a member of the honorary all-Suburban League football team. The election, made by the four coaches of the league teams, took place early this week, sponsored by the Boston Evening Transcript.

Honored equally with Captain Savignano was Howard Milner, 198-lb tackle, who was a unanimous choice for a berth in the line. Co-Captains-elect Brad and Allison Thompson each got a vote from one of the coaches, as did Jim McKewen, Carl Davis and Bob Steinsieck.

Savignano, 175-lb. triple threat, made the team last year with two votes for the quarterback position. In his year's election Savvy got two halfback votes and one for quarterback. Howard Milner got a unanimous vote in spite of the fact that he did not see action against Brookline, and Coach Harry Brown must have based his high opinion of the rugged Newton boy on his brilliant showing in previous games.

Aside from the unanimous choice of Milner and Savignano, Newton boys drew five other ballots. Coach Harry Brown of Brookline chose Howard Steinsieck as a guard, Jim McKewen an end and Al Thompson the fullback. Coach Jack Sheehan of Cambridge Latin picked Carl Davis as one of his guards and Brad Thompson as his center. As is customary, no coach considered his own players in the voting.

HUSTON TO LEAD
1936 GYMNAST ELEVEN

Warren Huston of 102 Court st., Newtonville, has been elected captain of the Springfield College football team for the 1936 season. A triple-threat halfback, Huston has been a regular starter on the Gymnast varsity eleven for two years. He was listed among the high scorers of the nation last fall with a total of 52 points, and was accorded honorable mention in the election of the Associated Press all-eastern team.

Huston was always considered a "natural" in athletics. He was given his start by Frank M. Simmons at the F. A. Day Junior High School in Newtonville, and won letters in four sports at Newton High, where he was captain of football and baseball teams, and played basketball and hockey as well. The 1932 football team, of which he was quarterback, was the most successful in the four years of Ralph Sanborn's coaching, and ended its season with a 6-0 defeat of Brookline High. Twice chosen on all-scholastic football and baseball teams, Huston is still the inevitable criterion at Newton High by which every promising athlete is measured.

Huston plays football and baseball at Springfield. He came to town twice last fall with the Maroon eleven, playing Harvard and Boston College. He did so well in a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team that he was offered a career in professional baseball, but he kept to his earlier decision to go to college first.

Lenient With Reckless Driver

Gerald DeNapoli, 17, of 195 Commonwealth ave., Chestnut Hill was found guilty in the Newton court on Wednesday of driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was placed on probation by Judge Bacon. Recently a car driven by DeNapoli got out of control on Centre st., Newton, near Westey st. and hit another car. The accident was caused by DeNapoli fooling with another youth who was riding on the running board of his automobile. He agreed to pay for the damage to the other car.

WPA Orchestra Gives Concert at Stone Institute

A rare, musical treat was given the ladies of the Stone Institute on Thursday evening last by fifteen members of the WPA orchestra of the City of Newton.

The very pleasing selections, showing a great deal of careful thought and study, were well appreciated by those present.

During the evening the able conductor, Mr. Salzen, gave a short talk on the life and musical career of Stephen Foster who did so much to improve the music of the negroes in the South. He also gave a vivid description of his tragic death.

The evening passed all too quickly, and the ladies are looking forward to another musicale which has been promised them before the holidays are over.

THINK OF A NAME that would describe a marvelous new kind of motor—based on a new engineering discovery—a motor so simplified that it has 509 fewer parts, so powerful that it's loafing at "70" . . . so economical that it permits former small-car owners to change to a big, luxurious car and save gas and oil money in the bargain!

An amazing new kind of motor in an amazing new kind of car! A bigger, safer, more luxurious car built for former small-car owners. Yet, because of its motor, one that they can afford to own and run! It's lower—and wider between the rear wheels in relation to height and length than other cars! It has big, super-hydraulic brakes! And the world's first complete, seamless, one-piece all-steel body! See it! Drive it. Then tell us what words would describe its new kind of motor. The Nash Motors Company, Kenosha, Wis. Nash Automatic Cruising Gear available at sight extra cost.

W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Ivanetta W. Smith, director of Scientific Temperance Instruction of the Mass. Woman's Christian Temperance Union speaking on Alcohol Education at the December meeting of the Newton Union presented significant findings from scientific studies and experiments with alcohol. She stated: Science has proven alcohol to be never a stimulant, but always a depressant and narcotic poison. A poison is anything that absorbed into the blood, harms or interferes with the proper operation of any of the organs of the body.

To intoxicate means "to poison." Alcohol's first and most serious action when taken in any form is on the nervous system affecting especially the nerve centers and thereby it tends to put the nervous system to sleep.

Chloroform, ether, morphine, nicotine are other narcotics, but because alcohol is the only one that is drinkable it is the easiest to take.

The different beverages such as beers, wines, whiskies, contain different percentages of alcohol, but intoxicating amounts may be drunk in any of them. Thus: In two bottles of 4 per cent beer are 8 teaspoonsful, or 1½ oz. of alcohol. In one pint bottle of 8 per cent wine are 8 teaspoonsful or 1½ ounces of alcohol.

In 3 "fingers" (three ounces) 42 per cent whiskey are 8 teaspoonsful, or 1½ oz. of alcohol. Thus a quart of 4 per cent wine is a pint of 8 per cent wine or a few swallows of 42 per cent whiskey contain the same amount of alcohol, which is what does the harm.

Tea was served at the close of the educational talk.

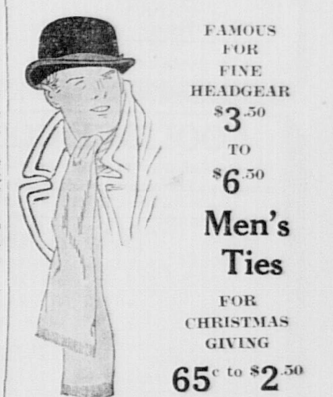

Mrs. Leslie Sanderson and Mrs. Isaac Goddard were the hostesses.

The singing of three beautiful numbers by Miss Ruth Pendleton accompanied by Miss Ruth Leavitt, students at the Newton Andover Theological Seminary, gave real pleasure.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold a regular meeting next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Sarah Hovenden, 60 Austin st., Newtonville. This will be the annual Christmas party. Mrs. E. H. Ashenden and Mrs. Florence Allen will be the hostesses.

Women Show Interest In Nash Contest

Women appear to dominate in the wide interest shown in the Nash $10,000 cash prize contest to name the new "400" series sealed motor, according to Mr. Osterlund of A. Osterlund, Inc., who has reported current findings to the factory.

Although it is an axiom in the trade that women are neither greatly interested in nor have much definite knowledge about the mechanical structure of automobiles, it is indicated that more than 75 per cent of the entry blanks returned to dealers bearing name suggestions have been signed by feminine contestants.

Thus far their contributions have been ingenious, impressive and effective as compared with the men's. It is announced. Of course the fact that 620 cash prizes, starting at $2,500 and descending to $1,000, $500 and $250 are to be paid, is especially stimulating to enterprising women who usually do well in contests, the statistics show.

"The public seems to like this contest," Mr. Osterlund, Nash dealer in Newton Centre, reported, "because it is easy to enter. There is nothing to buy and no red tape to go through. Any Nash dealer will furnish a blank and will gladly show the motor and its characteristics and that is all there is to it. In some cases he may even help with suggestions."

Through the contest Nash Motors expects to obtain a name for the remarkable sealed-in motor recently developed, which will surpass in significance and arresting quality the temporary name, "Monitor Sealed."

The engine is an example of simplification externally, many of the exterior parts and fittings which ordinarily have cluttered the engine compartment having been cast within the motor block. Sustained tests and usage prove the higher efficiency of this type engine as compared with conventional designs, and also establish more economical performance. All this will be illustrated clearly to all prospects for entering the contest, which closes on December 31, by any Nash or LaFayette dealer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 15.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore" (Psalms 121:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it shall come to pass, if thou shalt hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord thy God, to observe and to do all his commandments which I command thee this day, that the Lord thy God will set thee on high above all nations of the earth; and all these blessings shall come on thee, and overtake thee, if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God" (Deuteronomy 28:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, man is sustained by God, the divine Principle of being. The earth, at God's command, brings forth food for man's use. Knowing this, Jesus once said, 'Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink,'—presuming not on the prerogative of his creator, but recognizing God, the Father and Mother of all, as able to feed and clothe man as He doth the lilies" (p. 530).

Whence Came the Christmas Stocking?

STELLA G. McGEHEE, noted expert on Christmas customs, says the Dutch children put their wooden shoes by the fireside on Christmas Eve. The English children had no wooden shoes, so used stockings instead.

HOW THE "COCONUT OIL" SONG OF THE BAHAMAS ORIGINATED

Americans who take the Caribbia cruises to Nassau this winter will hear the "Coconut Oil" song many times. This catchy ditty originated during the war when the Bahamians found it difficult to obtain butter, lard or other fats and as a consequence much of the cooking was done by using coconut oil as a substitute. They got tired of it and the saying, "My mummy don't want no peas and rice with coconut oil," gave rise to the song. It will be remembered that she preferred a "brandy handy all the time".

Newton Cars In Fatal Crash

Two cars driven by Newton residents were involved in a triple crash of automobiles on Lexington st., Waltham on Tuesday morning. A car driven by Andrew Johnson of Arlington skidded on the icy surface of the street and collided with a car driven by Lewis Hamel of 13 Emerson st., Newton. Walter Colson of Arlington, a passenger in Johnson's car was hurled onto the street and killed. Hamel's car, which was being operated under a Maine registration, went over a stone wall and down an embankment after hitting a car driven by Edgar Keenan of 56 Eddy st., West Newton. Hamel received cuts and bruises, and Erlon Ryerson of Waltham, who was riding with him received a fractured jaw and a scalp wound. They were taken to the Waltham Hospital.

Araucanians Descendants of One of Earlier Races

Centered around Temuco in the "Swiss" district of Chile is a settlement of about 100,000 Araucanians. They are descendants of one of the early races which the Spaniards found upon their arrival in the southern continent. During the time of the conquest these Indians were an aggressive, warlike people who successfully withstood the attacks of invaders and held the distinction of being one of the few unconquerable tribes on the continent.

The Araucanians were never brought into subjection by the Incas and were never conquered by the Spaniards. Throughout all the warfare and invasions taking place in the early history of the continent they managed to maintain their independence and were never completely assimilated. They did lose some of their territory, but in the seventeenth century managed to regain it all.

Today the Araucanians, who call themselves Mapuches, meaning "people of the land," are dignified, peaceful people engaged chiefly in agricultural and industrial pursuits—protected by law from exploitation.

Costumes, massive silver ornaments, and coin brow bands such as adorned the first Araucanians still are in vogue among the moderns. The sorceress who cures all ills by driving out devils is still a revered member of the tribe and the songs and dances employed in the religious ceremonies of hundreds of years ago are used in the celebration of today.

Isle of the Ottawas Is Largest in Fresh Water

The largest island in the world, lying in fresh water, is the Canadian "Grand Manitoulin," the Isle of the Ottawas, in Lake Huron. It is nearly a hundred miles long and has an area of 1,073 square miles. It has also been called the "Isle of a Hundred Lakes," for many beautiful lakes both large and small are to be found within its borders.

The spirit Manitou, the Great Master of Life, was believed by the Ottawa Indians to have created their ancestors and placed them on the island in much the same manner as Adam and Eve came to the Garden of Eden.

Champlain was the first European known to have visited these natives. When he arrived at the mouth of French river in 1615, he found some of them drying blueberries, and, because of the way they wore their hair, he referred to them as "the people with their hair done up." He said they were unusually neat and clean, and had their hair more elegantly dressed than had the gentlemen of Paris.

Reason for a Mile

How many yards in a mile? Seventeen hundred and sixty—that's right. But that is an odd number of yards, isn't it? Why not, say, 1,800 yards? It's like this. Up to the time of Elizabeth we used the Roman mile of 1,000 paces ("mille" comes from the Latin for thousand), and each pace was reckoned as roughly five feet. But the people in various parts measured the thousand paces differently, states Pearson's Weekly, of London. To end the confusion that resulted, an English mile was introduced—consisting of eight furlongs, or furrow-long, from the length of a furrow made on farm land. Those furlongs were 220 yards long, so we got our 1,760-yard mile.

Crossing the Date Line

Crossing the equator has nothing to do with a change in time. It is when crossing the international date line, which lies in the middle of the Pacific ocean and roughly corresponds to the one hundred and eightieth meridian, that the traveler loses or gains a day, depending on which way his vessel is moving. It is a purely arbitrary arrangement, made necessary by our method of reckoning time. Sailing west across the date line, a day is lost; crossing it eastward adds a day.

First Charted Weather Records

The idea of recording observations of weather made simultaneously at numerous places and forming these observations into charts was first realized by Brandes, a German physicist, in 1820. These charts were not published. The first that were published were produced by Prof. Elias Loomis of Yale college in 1843, and represented the weather of the eastern United States on February 16, 1842. Telegraphic reports for the purpose of weather forecasting were first suggested in 1842.

Three Names for "Hot Dogs"

That popular American sandwich ingredient, the "hot dog," originated either in Frankfurt, Germany, or Vienna, Austria. It is not known which. It is called "frankfurter" in Vienna and "weinerwurst" in Frankfurt, weiner being the equivalent of Viennese in German. Weiners used to be the common name in America for these sausages before the more expressive "hot dog" was coined.—Capper's Weekly.

Pompeian Red an Old Paint

Pompeian red, a color popular in the decoration of modern rooms, was originally used in houses in the ancient Italian city of Pompeii, which was destroyed by the eruption of Vesuvius 2,000 years ago. The paint, made of a mixture of egg yolk, disintegrated water and ground earth, was found on many walls in good condition.

"Flying Dutchman" Story Told in Drama and Music

The term "Flying Dutchman" refers to the apparition of a Dutch vessel, said to be encountered off the Cape of Good Hope, and regarded as a portent of evil. Legend relates that a Dutch captain, Van Straaten, was condemned, for murder or blasphemy, to beat up against the storms of the cape until Doomsday. Seamen who saw his black spectral ship on the horizon quickly changed their course, and hastened to flee from his fatal influence. The notion that gave foundation to this legend is widespread in German mythology. The same story is localized in the German ocean, where Herr von Falkenberg is condemned to beat about the ocean until the day of judgment, on board a ship without helm or steersman, playing at dice with the devil for his soul. In the form of the legend chiefly current in England, the impious seaman's name is Vanderdecken. Wagner's opera, "Der Fliegende Holländer," Fitch's drama, "The Flying Dutchman" (in both of which the luckless captain's name is "Vanderdecken"), and Marryat's novel, "The Phantom Ship," are founded on the legend.

Variety of Items Used in Making Black Powder

Black powders are made from a variety of materials. In addition to sulphur and charcoal, rosin, pitch, and wood meal are used as combustible substances, while potassium nitrate has been replaced to some extent by other nitrates and chlorates.

The best of explosives are prepared, not by mixing small particles of oxidizing and reducing agents, but by bringing them together as parts of the same molecule. Obviously this gives a much more intimate mixture and has the additional advantage of giving no smoke, since no solid residue is left after exploding.

The most important explosives of this type are gun cotton and nitroglycerin, discovered respectively by Schonbein and Sobrero almost simultaneously in 1846. These materials are prepared by treating cotton or glycerin with a mixture of nitric and sulphuric acids under the proper conditions. By this process a nitrate group, the same as that which explodes the sulphur and charcoal of gunpowder, is attached to the combustible cotton or glycerin molecules.—Chicago Tribune.

Catching Cod Fish

Cod fish off the Newfoundland coast are the oldest in America. Methods used are practically the same as generations ago. Both set-lines and trawls are used. Vessels range in size from the schooner, 125 feet long and over 100 tons burden, with a crew of 15-30 men, to the sailboat manned by two men. On arriving at the fishing ground, a part of the crew throw their lines over the deck, while others bait and put out set-lines and the trawls from the smaller boats and visit them regularly to gather in the fish, which are taken to the schooner, hastily cleaned, salted, and packed in the hold until the "fare" is completed. In offshore fishing, the trawl-net is used in addition to set-lines, and the larger boats occasionally use hand-lines, if the fish bite freely.

Street Two Blocks Wide

Gruyeres, in the canton of Fribourg, Switzerland, boasts but one principal thoroughfare but it's busy at all times. The wide street is about the length of two city blocks. In the center is a large and stately fountain whose dignity gives way on wash-days when all the village housewives gather about it with the family laundry. Nearby is a huge oblong stone in which several depressions have hollowed. Here the grain dealer stands on market days and uses the hollows as measures. The buyer indicates the quantity he desires, the grain is poured into the corresponding hollow and drained into his sack or other container by the removal of a plug at the bottom.

The Improved Order of Red Men

The Improved Order of Red Men was organized October 14, 1833, and was founded upon the manners, traditions and customs of the American Indians. It traces back to the secret revolutionary society, Sons of Liberty, which first appeared in Maryland in 1764, through this to the various Tammany societies into which the Sons of Liberty merged, and finally to the Society of Red Men, formed in Philadelphia in 1813. The Improved Order of Red Men was formed in Baltimore.

An Ancient Red-Haired Race

The remains of primitive races which preceded Inca rule in Peru are evident in the many ruins in the vicinity of Antiquipa. Villages consisting of small, kennel-like houses surrounded by stone walls are found along the seacoast and in the foothills. Excavations in the burial places of this tribe have yielded trinkets of bone and stone, jars, mummies wrapped in coarse textiles and belonging apparently to a red-haired race.

Canadian Defense

Canada has a navy of her own and also depends on the British navy. The dominions provide for the defense of their immediate area, but the general strategic defense of all parts of the British empire is undertaken by the British government. The imperial defense committee co-ordinates the efforts of the various authorities. The Royal Canadian navy was established in 1910.

Many Uses for Bamboo Found by the Chinese

In one sense the Chinese civilization might be said to be a civilization built on bamboo. Throughout a large part of China groves of bamboo grow like trees near the homes of the people. They eat the tender tips of bamboo as we eat asparagus, and use bamboo chopsticks to eat their food. They carry rice in bamboo baskets and sweep the floor with bamboo brooms. They learn to write on bamboo paper with bamboo pens. Houses are made with bamboo poles at the corners, woven bamboo walls and roofs. Shoes and hats are made of the same light, strong material.

Not all Chinese are rice eaters. This is a mistaken impression which gained currency because the first European ships to visit China put in at southern ports, in the rice-raising lands. Millions of Chinese, particularly those in north China and Manchuria, never see rice, but depend on the soy bean and wheat for food. But it is true that many more millions eat rice. Rice grows in very wet land, land that is generally covered with shallow water at planting time. Each tiny rice seed is grown in a seed bed until it is about 8 inches high. Then the tender shoots are transplanted in even rows in the wet fields, back-breaking work, for which the planters receive very poor pay.

Australia Has Variety of Animals and Plants

Australia has more strange plants and animals than any other country in the world. And for a very good reason. In Australia plants and animals are very much like those which existed in the rest of the world millions of years ago.

At some far distant time, Australia was connected by land with Asia, and perhaps with South America as well. Then the bridge of land disappeared beneath the sea, leaving this island continent completely isolated. And while higher forms of flora and fauna developed in Europe, Asia and the Americas, life in Australia went its own way, changing little.

That's why we see in the tropical forests of this country such huge tree ferns as are found only as fossils in the rest of the world. There are lilies and tulips as big as trees. And while there are no native cats, horses, cattle, sheep, lions or tigers, there are such strange creatures as the kangaroo, the duckbill and the anteater. Some of these are connecting links between the animals of today and the huge reptiles that inhabited the earth in prehistoric times.

Australia still has plenty of reptiles—100 varieties of snakes, three-fourths of which are poisonous. There are also several hundred kinds of lizards, some of which grow to be six feet long.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Deserts Are in Two Zones

Deserts, in the popular sense of the word, occur mainly in two zones encircling the world, and corresponding to regions of minimum rainfall. The more extensive extends from near the equator in an east-northeasterly direction across the whole breadth of North Africa, containing the Great Sahara, Libyan and Nubian Deserts; over the peninsula of Arabia, through Persia, Turkestan, the Gobi or Shamo desert, in about 32 degrees north latitude, to the Pacific ocean. The ring is completed by the Great Basin of North America, in 40 degrees north latitude. The southern zone, less complete, comprises the Kalahari desert, in southwest Africa; the interior of Australia, and small districts in the Argentine Republic and in the Andes.

The Appalachian Trail

The Appalachian trail, as conceived by its proponents, is a footpath for hikers in the Appalachian mountains extending from Maine to Florida, a distance of some 2,050 miles. The trail shuns automobile roads and lowlands, the purpose being to provide access to the mountains and wild country of the Eastern highlands for tramp, camping and outdoor recreation. Its route is the crestline of the Appalachian system. With the exception of national and state parks and national forests traversed, the trail is on privately owned land with the consent of owners.

Vicious Fish Menace

One of the most dangerous of the wild creatures of South America is a fish. Strange to say the vicious piranha, as they are called, are not ferocious looking and usually are only 18 inches long. However, they are the terror of river crossings. They are voracious meat eaters and yearly kill hundreds of cattle and horses. Since the fish travel in schools they also have been known to attack and to kill men, stripping the flesh from the body in a few moments.

Poison Ivy and Poison Oak

Poison ivy and poison oak are not the same, although the names are confused in some parts of the country. Since some forms of poison ivy do not climb, and some forms of poison oak do, it is hard to distinguish between them.

Where States Meet

At Harper's Ferry three states meet and the Shenandoah and Potomac rivers join. John Brown's raid on the United States arsenal in 1857 was in this town, and it was in a state of almost constant siege during the Civil war.

Father Catfish Guards Young From All Danger

Few fishes that inhabit our inland waters can compare in ugliness with the common or spotted catfish, so far as appearance is concerned, but even so that model parent the black bass is no more to be admired for conscientious shouldering of family cares than the male catfish at breeding time.

"When the water of the shallow reaches a temperature of 70 degrees F., or over, during the day a feeling for domesticity begins to stir within, and he selects a nesting site," writes E. T. Boardman, aquatic biologist of the Cranbrook Institute of Science, in describing the breeding activities of this species. "In water about a foot deep, possibly with the assistance of the female, the male hollows out a place among the reeds, or other plants, in which to place the nest. When completed, the nest may be approximately 18 inches across and has a bottom consisting of plant roots or debris. In this the female deposits some 2,000 eggs. These are carefully guarded by the male, who not only drives off intruders but also takes the eggs into his mouth from time to time to remove the sediment deposited upon them, and then returns them to the nest.

"If the parent is successful in staving off all casualties, the young bullheads hatch in about five days. Even the fry are occasionally taken into the mouth of their father. When they are strong enough to swim freely they move about in a family group in very shallow water, their father continuing his vigilance for some weeks after hatching, until each sets out for himself."

Fur Bearers of Bolivia Supplied Varied Classes

The llama has the coarsest wool of any of the "Four Sheep of the Incas," says a writer in Military Engineering. The three others are the guanaco, the vicuña and the alpaca. The guanaco and vicuña are found in a wild state from the lofty mountains here even as far south as the cold plains of Patagonia and the islands of Tierra del Fuego. The alpaca and the llama are the only ones content to live with the Indians; tradition says that they were domesticated centuries before the Spaniards came to South America.

Tradition also says that clothes from llama wool were for the common people, from guanaco for the nobles, from alpaca for the royal governors and from vicuña for the imperial Incas themselves. The alpaca's precious coat sweeps the ground; and beautiful ancient textiles from such hair are still displayed among the rarities in various museums.

The Floor of the Pacific

Mountains higher than Mount Everest, huge plateaus twice the width of America and great depths that drop more than six miles downwards—these are characteristics of a new-found "continent." This hitherto unknown territory stretches beneath the surface of the North Pacific. It was discovered by echoes from the depth finder in the U. S. S. Ramapo. The Ramapo was on a survey of the Pacific ocean bottom. It found that the submerged territory is not marked by steep depths in its separation from North America. In fact, it appears to be a raised eastern shoulder of the submerged continent, but the west coast of Asia shows a series of tremendous deeps. From north to south in the west portion of the "continent" is a mammoth mountain ridge with towering peaks which are known to Pacific mariners as islands, banks and reefs.

Early Stock Broking

Stock certificates were a product of the seventeenth century, according to Pratt's "Work of Wall Street." The first great modern company was the East India company, incorporated in 1600, and the Hudson Bay company, soon followed, but it was not until the latter part of that century that the shares of these companies began to be actively traded in. The term "stock-jobbers" was used in England in 1688 and in 1697 parliament enacted a law to license stock brokers and check the evils of speculation. Stock trading came to America in colonial times and the New York Stock exchange was the outgrowth of an agreement signed in May, 1792, by 24 brokers to fix the rates of commission on stocks and bonds.

Royalty's Toys Shown

Toys valued at more than $5,000, 000 were shown in an exhibition of "Children Throughout the Ages" in London recently. Two gold rattles which once delighted the prince of Wales and a fair-haired doll companion of Queen Mary in her baby days attracted much attention. Musical dolls given by Queen Victoria to the prince of Wales and the duke of York when they were babies, Queen Elizabeth and Oliver Cromwell's christening robes, and a skirt worn by Charles I when he was two, were also shown.

Residents Indifferent

Visitors to the Nation's Capital always are struck most forcibly by the complete indifference of residents to such historic places as the White House, Washington monument and the Capitol. How we "walk right by" and never stop to look at the place where the President lives is something at first quite incomprehensible. But, in a week, they are as blasé as the rest of us.—Washington Post.

Salivary Secretion of Swifts Used for Soup

Birds' nest soup, one of the world's costliest delicacies, is obtainable only at risk of life and limb, says a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine. Most of it comes from Sarawak, where in the vast, gloomy, and haunting limestone caves, studded with stalactites and stalagmites, at the head of the Niah river, the swifts that manufacture this epicurean fancy dwell in thousands amid colonies of bats and cockroaches. The edible birds' nests lie on tiny shelves and ledges, situated in the highest and most inaccessible parts of the caves, and are made of a salivary secretion produced during the nesting season.

The actual birds' nesting is performed by Chinese and Malays, who hire the caves from the government for the nesting season at a rental of $400. These men, fearless and agile, swarm up 100 feet bamboo "ropes," carrying candles in their caps to shed light, and working perilously across the ceiling, dislodge the nests with a spade-like stick. As the ground below is soft with guano deposits, the nests are not damaged. The "ropes," made of bamboo rods lashed together, are left standing from season to season, interlacing the caverns like spiders' threads.

Kraft Paper Gets Its Name From German Word

Kraft paper or pulp derives its name from the German word for strength, which is its chief characteristic. According to Witham's "Modern Pulp and Paper Making," the terms Kraft and sulphate pulp are used practically interchangeably. The Kraft pulp is of a dull brown shade when unbleached and is used for the manufacture of products where color is not a consideration and where strength and ability to resist all kinds of wear and tear is desired, as for instance in wrappings and bag papers.

The Kraft process is especially adaptable to the pulping of long-fibered resinous and non-resinous woods, certain kinds of wood that

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The Christmas sale, luncheon and meeting were held on Monday, Dec. 9. The Chapter House opened its door at ten a. m., and at noon luncheon was served. Mrs. Edgar W. Allen, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Otho L. Schofield. Mrs. John P. Holmes was chairman of the sale, which included many and varied articles, some of unusual interest. A Christmas tree for the veterans at Rutland was lighted, and gifts were brought, among them an afghan donated by Mrs. C. W. Williams and made by her during her trip to the Orient. Two other afghans were the work of members of the Chapter under the direction of Mrs. F. W. Bakeman.

In the afternoon the meeting was held. Mrs. J. Walter Allen, Regent, presiding. The chaplain, Mrs. Amos R. Wells, read appropriate Christmas selections, which were followed by the Salute to the Flag, recitation of The American's Creed and the singing of America. Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, recording secretary, gave her report and also that of the treasurer, Mrs. Charles H. Voe. Mrs. Allen announced the appointment of Mrs. Warren D. Thompson as Chairman of Genealogical Records, and also of Mrs. John Pfeiffer as Page. Mrs. John J. Garrison was transferred from the Louisiana St. Clair Chapter of Detroit and was accepted as a member of the Lucy Jackson Chapter. Mrs. John W. Byers was appointed chairman of the Nominating Committee. Mrs. Allen announced a new project for the benefit of the tudent Loan Fund. Any old gold, small pieces of money saved in unexpected ways, food, and "white elephants" are solicited for this purpose and at every meeting there will be opportunity to contribute and to buy these articles. In this way interest in the loan will be shown in a practical manner. The Chapter looks forward to entertaining the State Regent and Vice-Regent at the next meeting.

Mrs. A. D. Salinger was in charge of the entertainment. Two groups of Girl Scouts from Newton Lower Falls and Abundant sang carols. Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown at the piano. There was also general carol singing. Mrs. Salinger read "The Man Who Missed Christmas," by Dr. J. Edgar Park, and a poem, "A Little Fellow's Stocking," by Miss Emily Jordan read a story about a Christmas tree set up by a Puritan mother for her sick child.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

urday, December 21st, in a Christmas program arranged by Mrs. Richardson. Besides Mrs. Poole's message, which will be "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" there will be special Christmas music.

Several broadcasting stations in different parts of the State are co-operating with the women's clubs in giving a fifteen-minute period every week for club interests. Mrs. Richardson has secured clubwomen to direct the programs under her supervision. The names of those who will perform this service for clubs in their districts follow, also the station and the time of the broadcast: Mrs. Harry MacNish, Wednesdays, 2:45 to 3 p. m., over WMEX, Boston; Mrs. Dwight Clement, Thursdays, 9:45 to 10 a. m., over WBSO, Wellesley; Mrs. Roberta Greene, Fridays, 10:15 to 10:30 a. m., over WCOB, Boston; Mrs. Regina Kirkpatrick, Wednesdays, 10 to 10:15 a. m., over WMAS, Springfield; Mrs. Frank Peirce, Tuesdays (hour to be announced), over WTAG, Worcester; Mrs. Myron F. Bullock, Mondays, 2 to 2:15 p. m., over WNBH, New Bedford. There will also be a broadcast from WLLH in Lowell, to be announced later.

Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, president of the State Federation, will be on the air on Friday, December 20th, from 10 to 10:30 a. m., over Station WHDH.

District Director Honored Guest

Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director, was welcomed as guest at the regular meeting of the Abundant Review Club at the residence of Mrs. W. J. Spaulding, on December 10th.

She spoke of the cancer research, the art scholarship to help needy students, and of the veterans, as being three things in which clubwomen are especially interested, and she stated that subscriptions, no matter how small, would be appreciated. She urged the members to give used picture and Christmas cards and various other articles for the work among the handicapped.

She asked those who saw a motion picture that they considered objectionable, please to send a postal card telling what, why, when, and where, to Mrs. Bernard S. Sabean, 247 Ash street, Boston.

The program of the morning was opened by Mr. Roger De Witt, a talented young musician, who played two clarinet solos in a very artistic manner, the Andante, from the Second Sonata, by Brahms; and Rondo, from a Concerto, by Weber. Hearty applause showed the appreciation of the audience. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Nelson Freeman.

Three books on "Russia" furnished the remainder of the program. Mrs. George A. Follett reviewed "Nijinski," written by his wife, Romola Nijinski, an account of the very wonderful Russian Ballet Dancer, Mrs. William N. Tenney told of the hardships of Tchernavin and his family in their "Escape from the Soviet," written by his wife. "The Little Era in Old Russia," by Skarlatina, was interestingly reviewed by Mrs. N. L. Grant, being the story of the first sixteen years of a young girl's life.

Few Wills Are Made, Only Four Are Disallowed

Register Jordan Compiles Interesting Statistics

The first statistics of this kind ever to be compiled, so far as is known, were announced recently by Loring P. Jordan, register of probate for Middlesex County.

They definitely answer questions which have worried mankind ever since man first started to worry; questions which worried the barbarian when the world was young, and, today, worry the average citizen.

Down through the ages man has been gravely concerned about the future of his dependents and the disposition of his property after death. The barbarian's cave, club, etc., usually went to the tribal member who first arrived on the scene, following the demise.

The common practice of the neighbors grabbing everything in sight worried the barbarian's descendants to such an extent that the device now known as a will, a testamentary instrument, first etched on stone, then scratched on clay and now written or typed on paper, was designed to enable a person, while alive, to determine the disposition of his property after death.

Theoretically, this happy invention should have solved man's worries over his real and personal property, but it has failed to do so. Register Jordan's statistics reveal the sorry fact that only about one-half of those who die leaving property make wills.

The other half die as the barbarian did, intestate, despite the fact that educators and men learned in the law have preached the wisdom and necessity of will-making for generations.

But this doctrine has been preached in generalities, without figures which would tend to dissipate the lingering doubts and deeply rooted superstitions which have been a bar to will-making.

Mr. Jordan knew all of the arguments advanced by the educators and the legally-trained in favor of will-making by every person who expects to leave any property, or even if he has merely the hope of accumulating some property, and he knew the unsound beliefs, prejudices, neglect and procrastination which result in 50 per cent of those who have property dying intestate, as the barbarians did.

Impelled by the desire to add something forcible and concrete to the subject, and possessed with a conviction that practical use of the records of his court would help to convince the average man that he should make a will, Mr. Jordan, as a result of 15 years' experience in the registry of probate, and observations as a member of the bar for 25 years, took more than a year compiling statistics, which cover the business of the Middlesex Probate Court during the year 1934.

In view of the fact that they apply to a country of more than 1,000,000 population, they undoubtedly apply generally.

The most important fact established is that out of 1746 wills filed for probate during the year, only two were disallowed, after contest, because the decedents lacked testamentary capacity (were mentally incapable of making a will).

But two other wills were disallowed, which resulted automatically, when the court found, as to one, that it had been revoked by the testator himself, and, as to the other, that the decedent had married subsequent to making his will.

Such information never before has been made available to the public.

It clearly demonstrates, Register Jordan points out, the extreme zealousness with which the courts regard a person's will, and show conclusively that a competent person can make a will with absolute assurance, if it is legally drawn, that it will be probated.

The person who does not make a will because he believes his act will provoke a fight among his relatives can readily see that the bugaboo of fighting relatives is a myth, and that the surest way to control the distribution of one's property is to make a will.

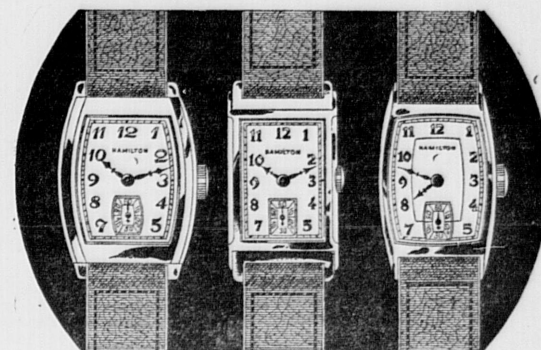

Mr. Jordan's statistics show that of the 1746 wills offered for probate, 1687 were allowed without contest and that only 34 actually reached a trial. Of that number 27 were allowed, the four previously mentioned were disallowed, and decisions are pending in three.

The rich man makes a will. The records show that almost no large estates came before the courts as intestate cases. Thus it appears that the superstitious person, who believes that the making of a will is tantamount to inviting the undertaker to call, is rarely found among the wealthy.

The pious person, who thinks a will will tell the world how much (or little) he left, is as wrong as the foolishly superstitious. Whether you die testate or intestate makes no difference as far as a public record of your assets is concerned, the inheritance tax commissioner will get a detailed inventory of your assets in either event.

Sheer neglect, the putting off until tomorrow of a job that should be done today, is one of the most common reasons, Register Jordan believes, for the fact that half of those who die leaving property fail to leave wills.

Intestate estates are frequently much more expensive to probate than those disposed of by clear, legal wills. Title to real estate is frequently clouded and made uncertain when the owner dies without leaving a will. Intestacy often results in indefiniteness and uncertainty as to the persons who thereby acquire interests in the property.

The obligation placed by the law upon a father to support his children, but not so placed upon the mother, often, in case of intestacy of the mother, works an economic hardship on the father.

It is common practice for the title to the home to be in the wife's name. If the husband dies intestate, the home, already in the wife's name, is her property, and she will inherit one-third of his remaining property, and the children the other two-thirds. Also, she can draw upon their inheritance for their support.

If the wife dies without leaving a will, however, the home and everything else she may own, or which, for convenience, may be in her name, goes one-third to the husband and two-thirds to the children. Because of the obligation imposed upon him to support and care for the children, he cannot resort to their two-thirds of the property, without first going to the probate court and setting up a guardianship, and then, after preparation of technical legal papers, convince a judge that he should have access to their property to use for their support.

Then too, under such circumstances, title to the family home vests one-third in the husband and two thirds in the children. The property cannot be sold without conveying all interests. This makes guardianship necessary, followed by a proceeding by the guardian to obtain leave of court to sell, and, even then, the proceeds of the sale cannot be used for the benefit of the children without further legal action.

Thus, a family of three or four children, each worth a fortune in his or her own right, may look to a penniless father for support and care while the father is faced with expensive litigation if he seeks to remedy the situation by use of the children's money.

All this expense and delay can be entirely avoided by the wife making a simple will, leaving all her property to her husband, except such small gifts as she wishes to make to her children, by specific money legacies.

"The obvious absurdity of dying intestate should impel almost every adult who owns anything to make a will at once," says Register Jordan.

He adds, "Have it drawn by a lawyer, so that the legal requirements may be fully complied with. Drawing your own will is as false economy as attempting to repair your own watch."

No More Coughing or Sleepless Nights

Mr. H. A. Allan, of Sarnia, Ontario, writes: "For years I suffered every Fall and Winter with a terrible cough. I have had many sleepless nights and coughed until tears ran, and my stomach ached. I started again with the same old cough about October first—but after a few doses of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE my cough was gone."

You can't go wrong on Buckley's. Often one or two doses ends a stubborn cough and some of the toughest old hands on coughs leave for good in day or two. 45c and 85c at Walcutt Drug or any drug store. Money back if not delighted.

Health Head Speaks At Welfare Bureau

Dr. Harold Choche, recently appointed Director of Public Health for Newton, was the guest speaker at the December meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Welfare Bureau. Speaking of his work he said that outstanding among his first impressions of work in Newton was the lack of partisan politics in city affairs. He went on to say that this is important in developing a good public health program, as is adequate financial and moral backing. Among the specific needs for good public health work in Newton are more complete records, better milk supervision, concentration on child health in work, pre-school care, and general health education. Through the co-operation with the Harvard School of Public Health, Simmons College, and the Rockefeller Foundation Dr. Choche is planning an exceptional public health program for the city.

Those present at the meeting were: Mr. Elliott B. Church, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Mr. Richard B. Carter, Dr. Sterling Loveland, Mr. Selden Hardy, Rev. John Sheridan, Mr. Clifford Walker, Rev. Raymond Lang, Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Mrs. George W. Auryanzen, Mr. Kenneth Winslow, Rev. John Moses, Miss Louise Sherman, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Malcolm Ball, Mrs. Norman Bingham, Jr., Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Mrs. Earle Parker, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Rev. Randolph Merrill, Dr. George F. H. Bowers, and Miss Dorothy Simpson.

Rabbi Leo Shubow is the spiritual head of the congregation, Ralph Cohn its president, and Mrs. Ira L. Nelson president of the sisterhood which has 150 members. The Sunday School of the congregation which meets at 634 Commonwealth ave., has 125 children in its classes.

For a number of years Mrs. Van Everen was associated with William Elene's Sons Company as buyer. For five years she owned and managed her own store at Newton Corner. For the past two years she has managed the Gross Strauss store at Wellesley. ### To Talk On Unemployment

Rabbi Israel is vice-president of the National Public Housing Council and a member of the Regional National Labor Relations Board. He is a member and former chairman of the National Commission on Social Justice of the Central Conference of American Rabbis. He was a member of the consultative group called to Washington in November, 1934, by the Advisory Committee on Social Security, and a member of the executive committee of the National Religion and Labor Foundation.

In a recent announcement the Forum stated that it intends to be a democratic, non-partisan, non-sectarian meeting ground for all people, in the interests of truth and mutual understanding and the cultivation of community spirit. It stands for full and free open discussion of all vital questions affecting human welfare and for courteous treatment of its speakers regardless of differences of opinion. As an interesting application of these principles, it is pointed out that next Sunday a group from the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville will act as ushers. Thus, including the speaker and the chairman, representatives of three great religious sects will lend their support to the movement.

WHERE CATTLE FAR OUTNUMBER THE HUMAN POPULATION

On Isabella Island, one of the Galapagos group, there are but 115 inhabitants and 40,000 head of cattle. The area of the island is 1,650 square miles.

With The Salvation Army the spiritual purpose is paramount, social service is secondary. But recognizing that the hungry man needs food first, then spiritual guidance, he first gets food.

Arthur Foote To Conduct His Own Composition

Unusual interest has been manifested by the announcement of the reappearance of Rachel Morton as soloist with the Highland Glee Club of Newton at its first appearance of the season December 16th at the Newton High School auditorium. The fact that Miss Morton has already endeared herself to the hearts of Newton residents in an unusually personal way, adds to the great interest with which they await her coming. Now they will hear her radiant soprano voice so remarkable at the beginning of her schooling that the great Jean deReszke made her an honor pupil and taught her without charge. A most pleasing personality, equipped with great artistic ability have won abundant recognition for her everywhere.

There is also another extraordinary attraction in store for those who attend the concert. Arthur Foote, well known composer, has been prevailed upon by Director Ralph McLean to attend and conduct his own composition—"The Bedouin Love Song," famous the world over for 40 years. Seventy-five men's voices will sing it.

The Salvation Army undertakes so large a program of social service, even in normal times, on so small a budget, that it seeks to make as much of its work self-supporting as possible. Some of its services yield no return whatsoever.

Automobile Accidents

A car driven by John A. Curry of 22 John st., Newton Centre and a truck driven by Joseph Pittorino of Liberty st., Waltham, collided on Monday on Mill st., Newtonville. According to a police report made out by Pittorino, the car hit a pole before colliding with the truck. The truck then crossed over a sidewalk and hit a tree. Both drivers received cuts and bruises.

N. E. Conservatory Plans Xmas Orchestral Program

As is their usual custom, the Orchestra of the New England Conservatory of Music, conducted by Wallace Goodrich, Director of the institution, will devote a greater part of the program which they are presenting in Jordan Hall, Wednesday evening, December 18, to music generally in the holiday spirit.

Included on their program are excerpts from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio," George W. Chadwick's charming tone-poem, "Noel," and "Fantasia" for orchestra and piano, the work of Dean Frederick S. Converse of the Conservatory, noted American composer. In this latter composition, Verona Durick, an advanced pupil at the Conservatory, will be soloist.

The musical public is invited to attend these Conservatory concerts, and complimentary tickets may be had on application to the Conservatory.

AMERICA DERIVED FROM THE NAME OF RICHARD AMERYK

In "The Story of Old New York," Henry Collins Brown, the author, sets forth his belief that America got its name from the Cabots, who wished to honor Richard Ameryk, the Englishman who backed them. Mr. Brown states that the name America appeared on maps many years before Amerigo Vespucci appeared as a navigator.

Revere Bus Line Asks For Permit At Oak Hill

Route To Newton Ctr., Beacon St. to Boston Line

About 40 residents of the Oak Hill district came to City Hall on Monday night to attend the hearing on the petition of the Service Bus Line of Revere for a franchise to operate buses in this city between Oak Hill, Newton Centre and the Boston line at Beacon st. The line would start at Dedham and Brookline sts. and operate over Dedham, Parker, Cypress, Centre and Beacon sts. thence along Beacon st. to Cleveland circle, Brookline. Thomas J. Boynton of Arlington, former attorney general of this State, appeared as counsel for the petitioner. He spoke at considerable length and read a number of letters from public officials in Revere, Everett and Arlington commending the Service Bus Line.

He explained that the bus company, which is controlled by George Anzoni, started in Revere 15 years ago, running buses between that city and Everett. Last May it started a line in Arlington. On the proposed Oak Hill line it would operate buses seating 35 persons, and run on a 20 minute schedule. Alderman Temperley asked what the fare would be, and was told 10 cents. Mr. Boynton said a petition containing many names had been filed in favor of the granting of the franchise.

Henry S. C. Cummings, secretary of the Oak Hill Improvement Association, favored the petition. He said that Oak Hill has tried for years to get transportation facilities. James P. Esty of 961 Dedham st. favored the petition provided the buses would run on Dedham st. as far as Brookline st. President Gordon of the Aldermen asked for a showing of hands by those residents of Oak Hill who favor the petition. About 40 persons raised their hands. Richard Taft of Arnold rd. opposed the petition. In

Plan Clearing House For Xmas Baskets

The Newton Community Chest, Inc., has written to all clubs, organizations, churches, and fraternal orders in Newton who give Christmas baskets and other holiday gifts to people in Newton, stating that it is operating a clearing-house, to prevent duplication of giving. On the basis of experience of other Community Chest cities, such a practice has proven very helpful.

The clearing house was started in November and used by some of those to whom its services were offered. Because experience at that time showed several cases of duplication, all above-named organizations and any individuals who are planning to give Christmas baskets and gifts to the needy are asked to co-operate by clearing through the office of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., 93 Union st., Newton Centre, Cen. New. 5120.

In addition to this clearing-house for use at holiday seasons, the Newton Community Chest, Inc., is also planning to set up a social service index, or confidential exchange for use by all the welfare and relief agencies of the city. Both Chest-member agencies and city departments handling welfare and relief. These are common in all progressive cities throughout the United States and Newton will be definitely in line when this index is established. It will be entirely confidential in its nature and operation and will assure the stopping of duplication, closer coordination between all private and public welfare agencies, which are already co-operating splendidly in developing a proper welfare and relief program for the city as a whole.

Floyd To Head Aldermen

Members of the 1936 Newton Board of Aldermen held a caucus on Monday night and nominated candidates for the offices of President and Vice President of the Board. The election will be held at the inaugural meeting on Jan. 1. The only member nominated for President was Charles B. Floyd who has served as alderman-at-large from 1924 to 1935 and was chosen vice president of this year's Board. Donald M. Hill, for the past four years Ward Alderman from Ward 2, received the majority of votes as the nominee for vice president. Dennis M. Cronin, Ward Alderman from Ward 4 for the past three years, received three votes as nominee for this office. Others mentioned for the office were John Temperley, alderman-at-large for the past 8 years from Ward 5, and Paul Goddard who has been Ward Alderman from Ward 6 for 2 years.

Final Drive To Complete Chest Quotas

Community Chest Total Now
About $10,000 From Goal

The 1935 Campaign Committee of the Newton Community Chest, Inc., reports a total raised today of $176,186.91 and that it plans to carry on until the balance of $186,247.20 is raised, so that the goal of $186,247.20 will be reached before the books of the 1935 Campaign are closed. There are still about 1,000 cards outstanding, for various reasons. Of these, the Campaign office has complete "control", for every pledge card was registered with a number and the name and address of the prospect for whom it was made out.

The amount raised represents 94/100 of the goal and about 7% above the amount raised in last year's Campaign. Reports from the National Association of Community Chests in this country and Canada show that the average increase in this year's Campaigns over last year's is 5%, so Newton is running well ahead of the national average today. When the goal is reached, and the Campaign Committee feels that it must and will, because of the need, then the 1935 Campaign will exceed last year's by 13%.

In 1934 the Newton Community Chest raised approximately $165,000 and in 1933 about $172,000.00. Thus the downward trend has been more than stopped.

In addition, there are about 10,000 subscribers this year as against about 8,800 last year or an increase of about 14%.

The following villages went over the top in this year's Campaign, the figures of amounts and percentages being shown in the table appearing below: Newton Highlands, Lower Falls, Upper Falls, Oak Hill, Waban and the Corporations Division. In Newton Highlands, Mr. Kenneth S. May as the Village Chairman and Dr. Mark H. Ward, the Village Special Gifts Chairman; in Lower Falls, Mr. Thomas F. Donahue was the Village

Aldermen Take Action On New Ward Lines

Vote For Legislation To Redistrict City

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted after a long discussion in committee and considerable discussion in the open Board, to seek legislation permitting new Ward lines in this city. The Board passed the following order—"That His Honor, the Mayor, and the City Solicitor be and are hereby authorized to seek legislation in the General Court, giving the city, through its Board of Aldermen, authority to make a new division of the city into Wards." The Board took this action after the Legislative Committee by a vote of 5 to 3 had favored the order.

Alderman Cronin opposed the order. He said that during the past year the committee had considered the Bowen (or assessors') plan, the 3 ward plan and the Colby plan, and tonight this new proposal has been sprung, which will allow the 1936 Board to redistrict the city as it sees fit. He argued it was not fair to take such action at the last meeting of the 1935 Board after waiting for years to do something. He said that inasmuch as the Aldermen did not take action on this in 1934 as they had the authority to do, they should not now seek special legislation, as there is no real demand for the change. Alderman Atkins said he had never heard of this particular order until now, and he raised a charter objection. President Gordon ruled the objection not in order. Alderman Cronin took an appeal from Gordon's ruling asking Gordon to have the City Clerk produce evidence that Atkins was not right in his contention. Gordon replied that he based his ruling on a point of law, refused to recognize Cronin's appeal and quoted the ancient wheeze about "ignorance of the law, etc." City Clerk Grant enlightened Gordon that he would have to recognize the appeal. On a voice vote the Board substantiated Gordon's ruling.

Alderman Holden said he would vote against the order as he believed the 1936 Board should deal with this matter. Alderman Guzzi said that hearings on this matter should have been held the past year in various parts of the city, instead of only one hearing at City Hall, so that more citizens might have expressed opinions on this question.

The Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs held their annual joint gathering Tuesday noon at the Charles River Country Club with an attendance on the part of each group that approached one hundred percent. Entirely apart from the fellowship incident to meeting together, the members were richly rewarded by the thought-provoking talk of Professor Kirtley Mather delivered under the title "The Twilight of Democracy."

Professor Mather remarked on the rather annual pictures of current conditions that have been painted by John Haynes Holmes and Rabbi Edward Israel in the Newton Community Forum Series and said that a number of people had come to him with the question, "What can be done about it all?" His own answer is that we cannot lay out a definite plan along any given line today which will be good for years to come, but that we can through open-minded, scientific observation survey the various trends and with a wise application of the principles of true democracy determine the general direction of a broad area within the limits of which the correct path may be safely developed step by step as we progress. Venturing beyond these general limits, America will find her "Twilight" changing into "Night."

Characteristic of the tremendously strong influences which are increasingly tending to carry the country beyond the limits of this "safety zone" are intolerance and the conception that Force is the major factor in the control of a situation. Striking evidences of this theory are found in politics, in education, in economic life, and even in our very intellectual life itself. For instance, in political affairs, the concept of the Totalitarian State—the State is supreme and the State citizen must obey unquestioningly its every dictate—that concept is gaining ground rapidly. Its development is best seen in Communist Russia and in dictatorial Germany and Italy but it has raised its head in other countries and today there is real danger that our own nation will either drift into it or will consciously adopt the principles. Certainly, the United States is further away from the truly democratic concept than it was a decade or two ago. Potent and current evidence of that is found right here in our own state in the field of education where the much discussed Teacher's Oath has been forced upon all teachers.

Analyzing this Oath Bill for a moment, Professor Mather drew a sharp distinction between a pledge to execute faithfully the duties of a public office and a test of loyalty to one's country. It is perfectly proper that one who, by his very election or appointment has been deemed loyal should take an oath to administer his office faithfully; but it is highly improper to force anyone to prove his loyalty by subscribing to an oath of allegiance. Furthermore, for the state to demand this of its teachers puts the entire educational system by just that much under the control, by force, of the state.

Merry Christmas to all is the thought
Each year at this time spread far and wide.
Rejoicingly we think of the Christ child's birth
Resounding the joyousness of the day,
Yearning for peace and good will, on earth.

Children are eagerly awaiting Santa Claus
His pack always crammed and bulging with toys, Ready to make them happy and glad while they Innocently slumber, nestled snug in their beds.
Starlike their eyes as they see in the morn
The gifts that someone has provided for all.
Many days to enjoy, many months to recall
And inspiring in their hearts the everlasting Spirit of the Christmas dawn.

The greetings of the season we would give
Our friends and readers who in Newton live.

And now our message—it is nearly complete:
Let us forget there are others, too.
Let us make it—Merry Christmas to all of you.

BUSINESS ON THE TURNPIKE

The aldermen are still facing the question of permitting business to encroach upon the Worcester turnpike. It is axiomatic that business will seek to locate in places where many people are accustomed to frequent. However, the turnpike, like many of our more modern highways, was purposely located as far as practical and possible in unoccupied areas in order to avoid the traffic hazards that come from frequent intersections, obscured curves, and other conditions. There are many instances where main arteries, formerly passing through the centers of small villages, have been rebuilt to by-pass these sections. It has always been our contention that to permit the encroachment of business in a general way upon the turnpike would be an unwise course to pursue. For the most part the traffic that uses the turnpike is through traffic—traffic that comes from one side of the city and is endeavoring to reach places on the other side. The turnpike was also constructed for fast traffic. Why add to the already present dangers of handling traffic by permitting business locations along it? The result will only be increased congestion, increased parking, and increased accidents.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND SOCIAL SECURITY

At the Newton Community Forum last Sunday the speaker, Rabbi Edward L. Israel, gave his ideas upon some of the social implications of unemployment. We do not agree with some of the views he expressed, but are in accord with his view that we cannot look forward with a feeling of security with a permanently unemployed class of five or six millions. While we recognize the importance of some form of social security for the unemployed and the aged we recognize many dangers in adopting too rigid a planned economy as was advocated by the forum speaker. It is further true that many of the rights previously considered as inalienable may of necessity be somewhat abridged, but we must maintain the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Under the planned economy as outlined it would seem that we would soon set up a socialistic state. Dr. Kirtley F. Mather in his address to the joint meeting of the local service clubs stands upon solid ground in advocating progress based upon the ideals of democratic government.

TWENTY YEARS OF SERVICE

Commissioner of Education Payson Smith leaves his office secure in the knowledge that he has the full-fledged endorsement of hundreds of thousands of Massachusetts citizens. The political methods which resulted in the failure of the Governor's Council to reappoint Commissioner Smith are clearly evident to the intelligent voter. We have no means of knowing whether or not such action by the council was prearranged, or not, but it will be most difficult to allay the suspicion of such procedure which has arisen from the appointment of a successor to a man who has given loyal and faithful service for twenty years. This is but one of the many instances which is convincing more and more people that a change in the administration of government in Massachusetts is sorely needed.

Have you completed your Christmas shopping?—Only three more days left!

Outdoor Christmas decorations are being installed as Christmas day nears, giving evidence that Newton will once again be among the outstanding communities in Greater Boston for major illuminations. While the many of the present displays are of a commercial purpose, many residential displays will be in readiness for the week-end and the holiday season. Nonantum square at Newton Corner has been dressed up with lighted Christmas trees as have other business sections of the city. Among the most striking and unusual displays is at the greenhouses of Ruane, the popular Newtonville florist, on Walnut st. near the F. A. Day Junior High School. On both sides of the entrance to the salesroom are literally hundreds of Christmas trees, shrubs and greenery, giving the effect of a veritable forest of evergreens. A row of tall trees have been set up with an illuminated star atop of each while the lower branches carry blue lights, making an effective showing. The fronts of the greenhouses have been outlined with strings of blue lights while the ridgepoles have been similarly decorated. About 1400 light bulbs have been used to provide the spectacle which is attracting hundreds of motorists from the Newtons and surrounding localities.

Newton residents are anticipating another reduction in water rates when the Board of Aldermen takes action upon Mayor Weeks' recommendation to this effect at a special meeting Dec. 27th. The reduction from 20 cents to 18 cents per hundred cubic feet is the third during the six years of the present administration. The old rate of 25 cents was first reduced to 22½ cents and two years ago the present 20-cent rate was adopted.

One of the interesting incidents locally in regard to the retirement of Commissioner of Education Payson E. Smith, who was replaced on Wednesday by James G. Reardon, was the vote taken by Newton teachers. The poll was conducted by the Newton Teachers Federation with 474 teachers voting for the retention of Commissioner Smith and 5 voting for the appointment of Mr. Reardon. There were 22 teachers who were either absent or declined to voice an opinion.

The playground department has begun a project at the high school athletic field involving the relocation of the tennis courts. Completion of the work will be delayed until spring when conditions will be more suitable for the construction of the foundations. The tennis courts will then be located behind the wooden stands on the northerly side of the running track, between the stands and the school building, formerly known as the Technical School. Instead of the present five courts there is space for seven which will enable even greater use of the facilities for this sport than are now available. Less than the usual expense is involved in the project as it will be possible to use the material of the present courts as a foundation in the new location while the loam on the new site will be transported to resurface the area now occupied by the present courts. It is planned to lay out another regulation baseball diamond in the corner with the tennis courts now are, with the backstop and home plate towards Elm rd. and the driveway to the rear of the school building. Baseball facilities will thus be enlarged to permit three squads to have their own diamond for practice sessions. This improvement has long been in the minds of school and playground officials and is another step in the development of school athletic facilities.

The other day while walking along Stuart st. in Boston near the Eliot st. garage we heard the unusual noise of the clattering of horse's hoofs. There soon appeared a dappled white horse, drawing a driverless bakery wagon, on a mad gallop towards the congested traffic at the corner of Stuart and Tremont sts. Careening wildly and slewing from side to side the iron-rimmed wheels of the wagon struck sparks from the cobblestoned pavement. Sparks also flew from the horse's shoes. With no perceptible loss of speed the frightened animal dodged between the automobiles of surprised drivers as pedestrian spectators gasped for breath expecting any moment to see animal and wagon crash with an automobile with possible dangerous results. We later learned that the wagon did strike two automobiles, fortunately doing but little damage, finally overturned and the horse finally brought to a halt by an intrepid police officer who was dragged some thirty feet after seizing the bridle. That portion of the incident which we witnessed recalled the thrilling moments when the old horse-drawn fire engines dashed along the street in response to an alarm. Sightings such as these are thrills which the children of today no longer experience for horse-drawn vehicles are almost completely replaced by the motor driven apparatus that congest our highways and bring us many attendant problems.

A number of burglaries in Newton homes over the week-end were reported to the police. Among the houses broken into were those of Wilfred Chagnon, 51 Vernon st., Newton, where a ring valued at $125 was stolen; George Curley, 131 Harvard st., Newtonville, where a platinum watch was stolen; Charles Blume, 246 Linwood ave., Newtonville, where two rings were taken, and James McDonald, 47 Winchester rd., Newton.

Letters To The Editor

CHRISTMAS VS. LIQUOR

To the Editor:
"A Christmas gift of $75 in cash could be put into each family stocking of 5,247,635 American homes now on relief rations with the money which the liquor traffic expects its victims to pay into its cash registers during the last sixty days of 1935." This statement is based upon the official figures of the United States Internal Revenue Department for the first ten months of 1935, which reveal a 15 per cent increase in the sales of legally sold beer and distilled liquors as compared with 1934. Reckoned upon a conservative retail price estimate, the re-established liquor traffic, up to November 1, has this year taken out of the pockets of its patrons for beer and distilled liquor, exclusive of expenditures for wine and imported intoxicants, some $2,009,071,050, approximately $297,831,175 more than in the similar period of 1934. Besides taking out of the people's pockets enough to supply current necessities for more than 5,000,000 families, the thoughtful student of the problem must consider the demoralizing and destructive effects of the flood of 1,256,488,072 gallons of alcoholic intoxicants poured down the throats of the traffic's duped, if not doped, victims.

On the basis of National Safety Council figures for automobile accidents, which for the entire country these of 1934, the year 1935 appears to be destined for at least a 35,000 motor traffic death record. If alcohol was a factor in only 25 per cent of these accidents, a conservative figure between the high and low estimates of various investigators, it means that 8,750 motor traffic deaths have been caused by indulgence in beverage alcohol during the year 1935 which, based upon the National Council's financial estimate of $50,000 loss involved in every traffic death, will aggregate a financial waste of no less than $437,500,000, due to alcoholized drivers or pedestrians during the past twelve months.

That, of course, is but a single item of the indirect cost of the liquor traffic. No adequate appraisal could overlook the steadily mounting cost of crime, disease, spreading moral and social damage inflicted directly upon thousands of addicts as well as upon tens of thousands of innocent wives, mothers and children in homes now, once more, at the mercy of relegalized intoxicants.

STREET SIGNS

To the Editor:
Time and again strangers are hard put to find their way in various villages. They have the name of the street, but very often they are hunting for a private way. Many unaccepted streets have no signs designating their names. In Upper Falls generally, and in other villages, too, the lack of signs puts the stranger at his wit's end. It is said that the postal authorities, as letter carriers often come from out of town—experience delay in mail delivery on such traveled ways.

Metal signs today are relatively inexpensive. Street Commissioner Mac honey has given out that the metal sign affixed to a two-inch wrought iron pipe, all lettered—such as used on public streets—costs only $3. Not much expense is involved for the work setting up the sign. Improvement associations will soon be seeking projects to advance for the betterment of the various communities. Perhaps the matter of agitating for signs on private ways now lacking them, may suggest itself as a worthy effort.

MINIATURE GANGSTERS IN AUBURNDALE

To the Editor:
Is it not about time that hoodlumism is stopped in the Williams School in Auburndale?
As a resident of Hancock st. it has been my misfortune to see a gang of from five to seven boys of varying ages continuously attacking the smaller boys and girls, with no provocation whatever, up and down the street and continuing over upon Woodland rd. This has resulted in torn clothes, black eyes, broken teeth, and now a badly broken arm.
To say nothing of such barbarous behavior, this means loss of school work, torn clothes, heavy expense to the parents, and much unhappiness to the children.
Can it not be stopped? Let us look to our new commitment for a return to the former civilized atmosphere of our community.

60 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, Dec. 23, 1876
Steam Fire Engine 1 and two or three hydrants were busy flowing the two acre lot near Eldridge st. on Thursday for a skating rink.

Diphtheria is raging in Wards 1 and 7 among the children; several deaths having already occurred. Others are still sick with the disease.

A novel feature of the concert at the Newtonville M. E. Church is that of a lady conductress. Mrs. J. S. Bailey of Cambridge who appears before the public in this position shows herself to be a conductress worthy in every way to be the exponent of this new line of talent shown by a woman.

The police court at West, Newton now commences its daily sessions at 8:30 instead of 9 o'clock. This is a convenience to those who wish to use the trains in the forenoon, as when there is little business, parties can be through in season to take the 9:10 train to Boston.

There are 61 boarders at Lasell Seminary and 13 day scholars. The average age is 17 years and 2 weeks; average height 5 feet, 3¼ inches; tall-est girl 5 feet, 6¼ inches; only one under 5 feet in height. The 61 boarders have gained on an average in three months over 6½ pounds per student.

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night received a claim from D. F. Henderson for damages to his wagon and load on Grove st., Newton Lower Falls due to a defect in the highway, as follows—1 axle, $13.90; 4 springs, $38.90; putting on springs, $5; one run pole and repairing side of wagon, $15; painting, $25; three horses and man for one day $8; loss on 26 barrels of apples, $18.20; hiring wagon and trouble, $40.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 19, 1885
Eben H. Ellison of the Newton Bicycle Club won the 1st prize, a pair of Columbia double-grip ball pedals, in the obstacle race at the Massachusetts Club carnival on Wednesday night. In order to obtain it he had to climb over a barricade of settees, carrying his wheel with him; crawl through a hoghead, ride over a tilting board, slip over a constantly revolving hoghead, and climb a slack rope fence.

The sale of farming stock, tools, etc., at Loudholm Farm, Cabot st. next Monday affords an excellent opportunity to secure superior stock at your own prices.

Lasell Seminary girls are now permitted to walk along the streets without being accompanied by a teacher.

Deacon C. G. Upham of Nonantum who for the past 7 years has had charge of Mrs. Allison's farm on California st. will leave for California the first of January. This change is one the people of the North Village Church will regret as he was one of the pillars of the church and his influence will be missed.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 23, 1910
After an investigation Mayor Hatfield has granted a license for a moving picture and vaudeville show in Lafayette Hall, Nonantum. One of the conditions is that no child under 18 shall be admitted unless accompanied by an older person.

The cutting of ice was begun on Crystal Lake last Monday but because of a fall of snow and a thaw it had to be abandoned.

A number of residents of Newton Centre were in the police court last Friday to answer to charges of not having removed snow from their sidewalks in violation of the city ordinance. All but George P. Clark pleaded guilty and accepted Judge Kennedy's offer to continue their cases until April 1st on condition that they comply with the ordinance in the future. Mr. Clark was given a trial on his plea of not guilty. After he had been fined $10, he appealed, but declined to give bonds for appearance in the high court. As he would neither pay his fine nor give bonds he was arrested and locked in a cell. In an hour or so he changed his mind and decided to pay the fine.

From causes unknown a gasoline tank on the automobile of John Cormier, 46 Cook st., Nonantum, exploded Monday afternoon while he was driving on Massachusetts ave. Mr. Cormier was badly burned about the face and body and was taken to the City Hospital.

10 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Dec. 18, 1925
Late Thursday afternoon Serg. Joe Seaver and Officer Goddard noticed an old man sitting on a wall at Central st., Auburndale. He was thinly clad and appeared to be in a stupor. He gave his name as John Carlson and his address as Hotel Dawes, a Boston rooming house. He was 68 years old and had been coming to Auburndale to do chores in any houses where he could find work. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the patrol wagon and died a few hours later of pneumonia.

Powers' Paragraphs

The booby prize this week should go to the Newton Planning Board for the about face action it took on the petition of Augustus Thorndike, Jr., to have land along Boylston st. (the Worcester turnpike) near Hammond Pond at Chestnut Hill changed from single residence zone to business zone. On October 18 the Newton Planning Board reported adversely against this petition, and on November 19 the Board reversed its decision, favoring the change. This turn around is all the more interesting because certain members of the Planning Board who have apparently been persuaded to back down, were members of this Board in 1932, and were outspoken in their criticism of the majority of the members of the 1932 Board of Aldermen who crawled on another phase of this same matter—the change of route of the Hammond Pond Parkway.

The question of zoning this land dates back to June 25, 1928 when a petition was received from James A. Lowell and others asking that land owned by the Boston Ice Company be changed from manufacturing and business zones to single residence. The property had been used for many years by the ice company as a site for its ice houses and stable, but the cutting of ice on Hammond Pond had been discontinued. On October 11, 1928 another petition was received from Mr. Lowell asking for the change. On October 13, 1928 a petition was received from Michael Barry who had obtained title to a small part of the ice company land asking for a permit to establish a gasoline station there. No action was taken by the 1928 Board on these petitions. On February 20, 1929 another petition was received from the Lowell family and others similar to the 1928 petitions, and on May 6th, 1929 the Board of Aldermen voted to grant the petition thus changing all the land formerly owned by the ice company from manufacturing and business zones to single residence zone, with the exception of the parcel owned by Barry. On February 5, 1934 this parcel was also changed into a single residence zone. This parcel had subsequently been acquired by Thomas J. Hynes.

Another, and very important adjunct of this matter was the controversy over the change of route of the Hammond Pond Parkway and the resultant success of those who sought to have this change made, of whom one of the leaders was Dr. Augustus Thorndike. Nearly a generation ago a route for this parkway was planned by Herbert J. Kellaway, a landscape engineer and for many years a member of the Newton Planning Board. The parkway was planned to skirt the shore of Hammond Pond, cross Hammond woods over land largely donated by Edwin S. Webster and emerge on Beacon st. near Hobart rd. This route had the approval of the Metropolitan Planning Board, the Metropolitan District Commission, the Newton Planning Board and the City Engineer of Newton. In 1932 a petition was before the Newton Board of Aldermen asking them to ask for legislation which would permit the consideration of an alternative route for the parkway. This route would be some distance away from the west shore of Hammond Pond and it was desired by Dr. Thorndike and others because they wanted the parkway kept more remote from their estates although the route originally planned would have been at least a quarter of a mile from their residences. The alternative route was opposed before a hearing held by the Newton Board of Aldermen by representatives of the Metropolitan District Commission, Metropolitan Planning Board, Newton Planning Board and City Engineer Morse. It was opposed because it would be much more expensive than the route first planned, because it would necessitate two bad curves and a steep grade, and because it would be longer. Although Mayor Weeks recommended favorable action on the petition entered by the Lowells and others, the Aldermen unanimously voted to give leave to withdraw to the petition. They thought the Mayor was passing the buck. But, he was not. He at once conferred with members of the Aldermen, and at a regular meeting the next week, a majority of the Board met, reversed their action and voted to petition the Legislature to authorize

You've Met Them
"Hi, there! Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."
Everywhere may this greeting abound;
If walking or riding, if purse-prond or broke,
These words have a joy-giving sound.

Some do not feel jolly, with good reason, too,
Their feelings, of course, we should spare,
Tho' letting them know they are not overlooked,
By wishing them heaps of good cheer.

A third group, however, I'd banish at once,
(Their stinky words grate on my ear)
Who say, "O yes, Christmas is certainly grand,
But we're doing very little this year."

Somebody's Call You

It's funny to observe the average human being at a telephone. There are those who make a mighty task of it beginning with a sharp command to the operator and continuing to display rising impatience until the number is received. If the dial system is in effect and the operator is not there to be bawled-out, the speaker, after getting the connection, is more than likely to ask, "Who's this?" Nothing irritates me more than a peremptory request that I immediately establish my identity. The more polite reply is "What number are you calling?" I know a man whose conception of humor is rough and who invariably replies "This is the morgue." That gets them, he tells me, but I have never tried it myself.

At times I have been disturbed by the low voice that seems to insinuate something secret or undercover about the conversation. While the speaker may be most courteous and almost apologetic I cannot help feel that there is a conspiracy on foot and I am part of it.

The biggest "kick" I can register is against the voice who asks "You don't know who this is, do you?" That is a form of jest that also has the effect of flooring me. I try to be considerate and even pretend to be amused while actually I am repressing my emotions which include anger.

Now and then I read of some important personage of whom it is said they have an aversion for the telephone. That, however, is to my mind evidence of temperament and must be supported by wealth or position. They may be said to constitute a privileged group and I am not sure that I do not envy them.

Time to Turn Back

To all who think they know what's better for us than we ourselves and who, I must admit, are often right, I wish to say:
Dear Well-wishers—Modern improvements in everything except Santa Claus, if you please. When it comes to jolly old Kris Kringle I ask that you forget the Marathon of Time and stick to the age-old pattern. No it.

stream-lined, air-conditioned, cellophane-wrapped Saint Nicholas I beg. Though his luxuriant whiskers defy the laws of hygiene and invite dust and microbes, though his waist-line reveals a gluttonous appetite and gross overeating, though his nose suggests many a sly nip of grog, and though his clothes need pressing and cleansing—let him alone! He's the same lovable Santa Claus that children have adored for generations and generations and there's no sense in trying to make him up-to-date. He belongs as much to the past as the present, ay, and the future. He's everybody's Santa Claus and we don't want him one bit different.

Oddments

In Newton, after January first, there will be no alcoholic beverages sold on the Lord's Day. However, we will still have our chocolate sundaes.

The yearning to travel expressed in this column is as keen as ever, although doubtless the inclusion of Soviet Russia in my day-dream itinerary. My wavering is due to the fact that so many members of Congress have been reported as returning of late in a semi-invalid condition, necessitating interviews while lying flat. If it has that effect on Congressmen, who are used to most everything, I do doubt if I could stand it.

On this date, more than three centuries ago, the Pilgrims landed, if my knowledge of the United States history is half as perfect as I think it is. Looking over what has taken place since it must be agreed that a lot has happened in State and Nation that the Pilgrims never dared think of.

More People You've Met

Notions, and by that I mean mental slants and not small articles of merchandise, have a way of popping into the heads of people and often remaining there. We may call them obsessions, although that is rather strong when one finds that the dictionary says it is "an act of the Devil or evil spirit in besetting a person." Nevertheless, there is some twist in the brain which I must leave to psychologists to explain.

The facts remain that a lot of people have their own pet method of mailing letters that nothing will change. One man of my acquaintance insists upon going to the Post Office himself with whatever he wishes to send off. If it happens to be at night or Sunday he still turns aside from the street collection box and walks to the office to deposit it in the big receptacle outside. I suppose this is a way of reassuring himself that he has done his part.

A woman on my street believes implicitly in the letter carrier and watches for him, giving up all duties and interests to be on the alert in order to hand it over herself. Other "fussy" folks have their individual ideas all of which to me seem interesting. And I am not finding fault with them. As far as that goes they have every right. Moreover, they offset those careless people who write letters and leave it to for somebody else to mail or who, when given such a commission, promptly forget to do it.

Four Infernos Limned By Forum Speaker

Unemployment Results Drawn
By Rabbi Israel—Brands
Coughlin as Fascist

Crowding the High School Auditorium almost to its full capacity, despite the inclement weather, a representative gathering of citizens heard Father Coughlin openly denounced last Sunday by Rabbi Edward L.
Israel at the second session of the Newton Community Forum. The attack on the radio priest came in the question period, having been elicited by a query regarding the attitude of the speaker toward Coughlin in view of the presence of the Rev. Jones I.
Corrigan, S.J., as presiding officer at the session.

Stating as his personal opinion that Father Corrigan as well as most other leaders of Catholic thought were opposed to Coughlin's program, Rabbi Israel said, "He is a rank Fascist. He is trying to satisfy everyone and to draw into his movement employee and employer, rich and poor. That is political chicanery. He is flirting between Hearst and Roosevelt. I believe that if the people show they want Roosevelt again, the Rev. Father Coughlin will support him."

In his main address Rabbi Israel drew a sober picture of unemployment conditions in America. "Two blunders are widespread today," he
that the problem of unemployment began in 1929 when the stock market collapsed. Prior to that was an imaginary golden era. But we do not realize what was going on under the surface. In those times at least one-seventh of the population of the United States was living on an income of $500 a year or less. We do not realize that even in those days 40% of the children of the United States were below normal in nourishment and weight. The point I want to bring out is this: that our whole fancied social security of those days was on a false foundation. The second blunder we are tempted to make now is that the depression is almost over.
Stocks are up. General Motors cut a fifty-million-dollar melon not so long ago. Salaries of corporation officials have increased from 25% to 50%. Department store figures and general business are ahead of any year since 1929. We are on the upgrade, so we think. Rugged individualism has again raised its head, and there is a demand in many quarters for the abandonment of all social security legislation and a return to the very system that got us into trouble."

"And yet let us look about us honestly. One-sixth at least of our population is still on WPA or some other means of work relief. Two-thirds of wages today are still below or just about subsistence levels. Anywhere from ten to eleven million people, according to the most conservative estimates are still out of regular employment. One of the very sad things we are facing is that we shall have a greater number of people than ever before in what we call the permanently discarded groups. Even in 1928 and 1929 we had close to three million people who were without regular work. Now there is the danger of stabilizing on a basis of 5 or 6 million people out of a regular life work. As we increase the number of permanently dispossessed in society the security of other elements of society is to that extent endangered."

"What we have really done is to have led ourselves into an inferno like Dante in which the whole is a hell. This is the graphic metaphor used by the speaker. "The first of these hells is the hell of Fascism.
Fascism is born of economic insecurity mixed with the intense chauvinism that is in the ascendancy in the world today. Among those who would form the basis of a Fascist movement we have first of all idle youth. There are 5 to 8 million young people in America who have no real place in the economic life. There is no civilization unless these young people can have a place in life. It is upon the thousands and the millions of that type that Fascism builds its storm troops."

"The second class of potential Fascists is the middle class depression poor. In the depression poor families—those who bear the real brunt of unemployment, there has been a steady decline in the weight of their children to below normal.
The white collar class has seen its security vanish. And American democracy has been built on the strength of its middle class."

"Now we have a tendency on the part of our dispossessed youth and our dispossessed middle class to place the blame for the whole collapse on our system of government and follow any sort of a dream that promises them a mess of pottage. All these things are leading in the direction of Fascism and away from the American tradition."

"The second inferno is the hell of prejudice and intolerance. We create through unemployment a situation which prejudice and intolerance become impossible to cope with. When a man is fighting with others over a job he will employ any type of intolerance that may be possible."

"Next is the inferno of war. Our government can institute a war only up to a certain degree. They have a much more acute problem in other lands. In a country like Germany, Italy or Japan the only way you can give a release to this pressure is by foreign expansion. Realists understand that our peace conferences and our naval conferences are going to amount to nothing until within the borders of each and every land there is some attention to the problem of social justice whereby people will be given the right to work."

"Lastly we have the inferno of individual demoralization. We have done something to millions of people in America. We have made scars on them which can never be obliterated.
Much as it has been criticized, the dole was necessary. Yet I have lately heard the efforts for social security denounced.

"If there is to be any civilization at all it has to be on the basis of the elimination of the social implications I have described."

Asked for a constructive social program, Rabbi Israel said: "I feel that our economic life will ultimately have to become co-operative in its entirety.
I do not think you can reach any conclusion by revolution nearly as well as by steady steps. I feel that the better aspects of the New Deal were a good start. We have to begin with a system first of all of social security. It has to go way beyond our present social security. There will have to be an entrance of government into the field of credit that will release or create reasonable sources of credit for the needs of industry."

"I feel there must be government control and ultimately government acquisition of public utilities and natural resources. There must be an increasing government concern with the whole system of production and distribution. I feel moreover that we have to realize that there is no such thing as an utterly inalienable right of property. I do not mean that there are no property rights but I feel that we have to come to the point that government can lay down the limitations of property rights."

"I feel that by more drastic income and inheritance taxes we must break up the aggregation of wealth into small groups."

Concerning the exact means of effecting these changes, Rabbi Israel said that he had no panacea, or dogmatic system to propose. He stated his belief that they would have to be worked out through the gradual extension of government in the interest of greater social security. He criticized the organized labor groups of America for lack of co-operation in progressive bodies and he accused the National Association of Manufacturers of a total indifference to the difficulties of the unemployed.

A group of members of the Central Club of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, served as ushers. They were Ralph Conant, Ernest Benson, Webster Chamberlain, Walter Phillips, C. W. Loud, Fred Gleason, Chester Merrill, Harold Billings, Henry Whitney, and Howard Waybright.

The chairman of the Junior committee, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, exhibited dolls which have been attractively dressed by Club members, for the Juniors' Christmas Party to be held on December 19th.

The Stearns School Glee Club, arrayed in vestments, sang four Christmas Carols. These children, numbering more than fifty in number, were under the direction of Mrs. Wallace Wales, with Mrs. Flood at the piano. Their childish voices singing the carols, and the wreaths on the walls, brought a feeling of Christmas cheer to the Club meeting.

The president, Mrs. Alfred H. Handley, next introduced Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director, who gave a short talk stressing the friendly spirit displayed by all at the District Conference held in the Newton Centre Woman's Club House in November.

Last, but not least by far, was an illustrated lecture by Mrs. Twining Lynes, entitled "The Wonders of the Alps." Thrown on the screen were scenes of unusual beauty, showing in the same pictures snow flowers and snow-clad mountains. There were also flowers growing out of the ice. Views of Matterhorn were shown, taken at different times of day. The last part of Mrs. Lynes' lecture was composed of exciting pictures of skiing, and of perilous mountain-climbing.

Tea was served by the Social committee, Mrs. Frank G. Dennison, chairman. The pourers were Mrs. L. M. Brockway, Mrs. Joseph G. Armstrong, Mrs. George E. Rawson, and Mrs. Joseph P. O'Donoghue.

Mrs. David Black made a plea for donations of books for the Disabled Veterans' Christmas boxes.

Madame Jarley Visits Towne

Mrs. Jarley, in the person of Adele New, staged an "educational exhibition of life-like figures in wax" at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Thursday evening, December 12th, before an audience of nearly four hundred Club members and friends.

The Club Chorus assembled the costumes and stage properties, and chose to impersonate the following characters: "Goddess of Liberty," portrayed by Mrs. Paul Rokey; "America," Mrs. Ben T. Fawcett; "England," Mrs. George B. Hamilton; "Holland," Mrs. J. A. Austin; "Spain," Mrs. Harry C. Gibson; "Japan," Mrs. Melville Liming; and "Arabia," by Mrs. Frederick W. Swindells. The "Queen of Ethiopia," portrayed by Mrs. R. F. McFee, looked and acted like famous "Aunt Jemima." "Three Little Maids from School," who were Mrs. John Merrill, Mrs. Cyrus Hosmer, and Miss Eastman, sang a few notes. The "Snow King and Snow Queen," who were Mrs. Joseph T. Bishop and Mrs. Archibald Nissen, scattered artificial snow after being "wound up" to perform.

Music had its representation, "Mozart," moving fingers, being directed by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, a Club member and State chairman of Music. "The Human Violin," Mrs. A. G. Armstrong, fiddled a note or two. "The Serenader," Mrs. Leonard G. Roberts, strummed a few bars on her guitar, and Mrs. Harry F. Friedman impersonated the Club Chorus Conductor. A beautiful "Valentine," Mrs. C. F. Waldo, vied for beauty with "Maude Muller," Mrs. Albert T. Carpenter, who moved her rake while her eyes roved in quite another direction. "A Colonial Dame and her Little Girl," Mrs. S. R. MacKillop and Joan Mitchell, wound a strand of yarn, while a real "American Indian," Mrs. Charles Copeland, directed her arrow toward the audience.

A modern touch of character was introduced when "Mae West," Mrs. D. S. Bartlett, issued her usual invitation and swept across the stage in quite realistic manner. An interesting group was brought to the attention of the audience as playing a large part in the advance of medicine: "Lydia E. Pinkham," Mrs. Leigh Tower; "Father John," Mrs. Harold Bowman; and a handsome "Mother," Mrs. Harry Sutton, who offered her babe soothing syrup.

Glee Club Singers In First Concert

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the Highland Glee Club at its first concert of the season in Newton High School auditorium Monday evening. The members were out in full force and gave a variety of well chosen numbers from their large repertoire. The audience strongly indicated a desire for encore after the singing of "The Hundred Pipers," but the length of program would not permit.

Director Ralph C. MacLean received most enthusiastic support from the audience in the first and last stanza of "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful."

Rachel Morton, soprano, well known to Newton residents for the qualities of her heart, also captured the entire audience in an artistic way when she sang first the Aria from Herodiade by Massenet, "Il Est Doux, Il Est Bon"; later, a group of German songs, then in her final appearance a more popular group. Among her encores was "One Fine Day," from "Madam Butterfly," for the audience, and then very graciously she turned to the group of men singers with "My Lover Comes on a Ski," a vivacious, rollicking song that quickens the pulses. Her full, deep voice of remarkable range is used with dramatic power and artistic phrasing.

It was a great privilege for the audience and singers to greet Arthur Foote, composer of "Bedouin Love Song," which he conducted. This dynamic personality is eighty-two, has lived these years in music, and his compositions, both vocal and instrumental, have world-wide recognition. The audience gave him an ovation.

HUNNEWELL BOWLERS NEAR TON—COLBURN'S
414 IS HIGH MARK

The Hunnewell Club bowling team in the Newton league is making an excellent early season start. The local club is in second place, close behind the pace-setting Weston Club team, with a record of ten points won and two lost at the end of three matches. Weston, having lost but one point out of twelve, has a slight edge.

The Hunnewell team bowls the University Club at Boston next week and follows this up in a crucial match with Weston the week following.

Dwight Colburn of the Hunnewell team set a new high three string mark in the opening match two weeks ago with a total pinfall of 14. His individual strings were 142, 132, and 140. Other members of the team are Daniel White, Frank Dennison, Dr. Harold Shedd and Edward O. Loring. This team rolled 1673 to take three of four points from the Boston City Club on the Hunnewell alleys on Wednesday night. The first string total was 582 with individual scores of White 108, Dennison 129, Shedd 115, Colburn 123, and Loring 107. Second string scores were 123, 129, 129, 96, and 121 for a total of 571. Shedd's 120 was the high single of the Hunnewell third string, which was lost by 10 points when Sanderson of the City Club hit 136.

Newton Highlights

In accordance with a suggestion made in this column two weeks ago, the Suburban League is making earnest efforts to expand itself. Principals of Waltham and Arlington High Schools will meet with the league officials soon after Christmas for the purpose of admitting these two schools to the 1936 baseball schedules, and probably to make plans for introducing them into all sports as soon as possible. The loop at one time included Medford, Malden, Everett and Somerville. At present there are four members, Newton, Brookline, Cambridge Latin and Rindge Tech, and the league has championship competition in football, basketball and baseball.

Joe Nolan, Newton featherweight, provided the human interest story of the Irish-American A. C. diamond belt boxing tourney at the Boston Arena Monday night. After burning the midnight oil the night before, Joe took two examinations Monday at the University of New Hampshire, then started for Boston over the road late in the afternoon. Picked up by a fellow student, he arrived in town in time to go on for the 126 lb. semi-final, and knocked out Mike Modica of East Boston in the first round. Bobby Joyce of South Boston got the judges' decision in the final, although the Newton entry had the vociferous acclaim of the crowd. Joyce met and defeated another Newtonian, Al Kerr of Waban, in his semi-final, also by a three-round decision.

Will Newton High have a polo team? It seems very possible, and is indeed part of the ambitious plans of the founders of the South Avenue Polo Club, a new organization dominated by Newton boys. The club riders will inaugurate their winter season tonight in their home field, the indoor ring of the South Avenue Riding Club, Weston, with two club trios battling for the chance to represent South Avenue in their first regular match. Beginning soon after Christmas, matches with leading suburban and outside polo teams will be played every Friday night. Tonight's game will be free to all, if not a free-for-all, and will commence at 8 p. m.

The club riders have been divided into two teams, Cavaliers and Yellow Jackets, for the game tonight. The Cavaliers have William Gordon, I. Nelson Moore, 2, and Robert Morrill, back. The Jackets are William Callahan, I. John Good, 2, and Jack Lewis, back. Lloyd R. Walker will referee. All are Newton residents except Gordon and Moore. Bob Morrill and Lloyd Walker, Newtonville boys, are the two who hope to add sporting prestige to Newton High by representing the school on the polo field. Tally ho!

Elena Ciccone of Newton Centre, a finalist in the girls' national tennis championship last March, will be after her first title in this tournament when play begins at Longwood Covered Courts next Thursday. Virginia Hollinger of Dayton, Ohio, last year's champion, has unexpectedly been made eligible again by a ruling of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, but she will probably not enter the tournament this year.

It seems that Brookline, Everett and Newton will be leading the scholastic track while again in the season. The 1934-5 meets brought out a remarkable array of juniors in the greater Boston schools. Frank Masclanica is still at Everett, and his coach expects him to cut his time to 1:15 in the 600-yard run. Robin Hartman and Tom Guthrie of Brookline are determined to make things hot for Newton again, and Guthrie will be a better hurdler this winter. But Newton, given a sprinter and one distance man, will surely rule the dual meet roost alone again.

Al Carvelli of West Newton and the Boston University hockey team B. U. looked good against Princeton, scoring one goal as the Tigers eked out a 5-4 victory. The week, however, B. U. ran into Harvard and took a 12-1 shellacking. Bob Waldinger of Newton Centre had the pleasure of tending goal for Harvard, which isn't the perilous job that it was a year ago, apparently.

Warren Huston continues to register on honorary football teams. He

NEWTON OPENS ICE SEASON AGAINST RINDGE

Tomorrow afternoon at the Boston Garden, Newton High starts the winter sports ball rolling with the first hockey game of the season, a league contest against Medford. All eight teams in the circuit get under way at the same time, the other pairings being with Melrose vs. Cambridge Latin, Rindge Tech vs. Stoneham, and Arlington vs. Belmont.

Newton has only average strength, and there is no definite forward line combinations as yet, but Captain Ernie MacLeod, high-scoring right wing, is certain to be on the first forward line. In practice sessions at Newton Pond and in the Boston Garden, Doc Martin has been using a variety of forward lines, including Bob McKern, John Blodgett, Paul Brown, John Harrington, Bill Daniels, and Allan Turner, and the first two lines will include Capt. MacLeod and five of these players.

Defense Stronger
Newton is probably as well-balanced a club as any in the league, for the defense appears much stronger than it was at any time last year. George Whitehead and Howie Milner, a bar-chested pair, will be the starting combination tomorrow, with Jack McKern and Minot Chandler as alternates. All these boys are big and willing. Howard Milner, in particular, will bring joy to Newton partisans if the aggressiveness he showed in winning an all-scholastic football berth carries over into his hockey playing.

Don Turner, a brother of Allan Turner, has been giving John Buttrick a run for the goalie job, but the more experienced Buttrick probably will get first call, with Bob Conant next after Turner. Possible forward line combinations are MacLeod, Miner and Daniels, Brown, Blodgett and Harrington, Turner, Fitzgerald and Littlefield, with Porter Jarrell and Arthur Andres as alternates.

Newton's opponents, Medford, lost their valuable rushing defenseman, Campbell, by graduation, but still have Bert Kenty, Clarence Muse, Ed Richardson, Charles Stanley, and a pair of transfers, Jack Brown and Anthony Fichera. Their best three goalies of last year are also still with the team, and their veteran strength indicates a tough game for Doc Martin's team.

was named among the leading candidates for national small college all-American, chosen last week by newspapermen, and was one of the five backs chosen by Eddie Casey, former Harvard and Boston Redskins coach, on his All-New England eleven. The Springfield captain-elect will be the best known halfback in New England by the time Springfield opens its football season next fall.

Horace Wood has made the grade at Colgate, and played right wing on the first line as the Raiders succumbed to the unbeaten Princeton hockey team Wednesday. The score was 10-2 in favor of Princeton, but allowance can be made for the early start the winners got on their own artificial ice.

Allen "Ox" Wilson, tackle, and Captain Ernie Savignano, halfback, were the two Newton High players selected by Captain DeRosa of Everett High for his all-opponent eleven. This is a boost for Wilson, but it is not unlikely that he also deserved the vote of Harry Brown, Brookline coach, in the suburban league elections, since Brown voted for Howie Milner, who did not play against Brookline.

Roger Maynard, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Maynard of 614 California st., Newtonville, has been awarded his varsity cross country letter at West Newton High for the season just ended. It was announced recently. He has been on the team for two years and has also been on the university honor roll. He is a member of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity and is a graduate of the Newton High School.

"The Crusades" Is Film Feature At Paramount

One of the world's most romantic love stories told in the background of one of the most spectacular periods in world history—that is "The Crusades." Cecil B. DeMille's motion picture epic of the conquest of the Holy Land, opens Sunday at the Paramount Theatre for 3 days only.

The cast of more than ten thousand is headed by Loretta Young and Henry Wilcoxon. With battle scenes on a scale hitherto undreamed of, with a story that combines both spectacular action and touching romance, "The Crusades" is one of the most ambitious productions ever to have come out of Hollywood.

The story concerns Richard Coeur de Lion, King of England, who goes to the Crusades to release himself from his obligation to marry Princess Alice of France. En route he marries Berengaria, Princess of Navarre. When the Crusaders arrive in the Holy Land, they find the Saracen forces, under their emperor Saladin, are stronger and offer greater resistance than had been expected. For many weeks, the tide of the invasion is checked at Acre. On the same program will be Chester Morris and Sally Eilers in "Pursuit."

Starting Christmas day Dec. 25th through Saturday Miriam Hopkins and Edward G. Robinson in "Barbary Coast" is the feature. Miriam Hopkins in her greatest role as Swan, a beautiful girl, invades this gold-mining city of love hungry men and becomes hard and cold as the diamonds with which she is decked by Chamalis, the powerful ruthless owner of the notorious Bella Donna cafe, over whose crooked roulette table she reigns. The co-feature on this program will be "The Bishop Misbehaves" with Maureen O'Sullivan and Edmund Gwenn.

Mather Speaks
Of Democracy"

In the field of economics, we have never had a true industrial democracy in this country; and today more and more people are demanding a Fascist control of business by some commission or personal dictator. Again and again it is stated that some 200 individuals actually control the entire industrial life of America. But, entirely within the framework of the present laws and without violating the principles of Capitalism in the least, it is possible to work out an economic democracy that would function and that would save our capitalist system from overthrow by communistic or fascist doctrines. The essential thing here is to broaden out the base of capitalism so that the industrial set-up would involve the savings and interest of millions rather than of thousands.

Co-operative banks and co-operative consumers associations suggest the way. A fundamental principle would be that each member of the firm should have one vote, regardless of whether his investment were $500 or $500,000; and this principle violates but one current concept of capitalism: that the man with lots of money should have lots of power.

In our intellectual life, we find evidences of the same growth of the ideas of Force and Intolerance, although here the action may be of a passive rather than an active nature—a case of drifting rather than of steering. Until very recently we have had plenty of room and plenty of resources in our struggle for development, and we have all been so engaged in carving out an empire that we have not sensed the significant fact that we all wanted to be emperors. The intellectual adventures of democracy have not engaged the serious attention of many.

Fascism and Communism are very efficient—if the leader himself is efficient; and Democracy is admittedly inefficient and slow in attaining its ends. But without exception, the men in other countries, and those within our own country who foreshadow the evils of dictatorship here, have been men without education, background, or ability for ruling wisely—men who were ruling democratically—but men whose prime ability has been their ability to sway unthinking masses, seize power, and rule by absolute, unyielding force. The careers of the "dictators" who are cropping up with increasing frequency in American life parallel closely those of Hitler and Mussolini.

Professor Mather would not sacrifice the democratic state for any totalitarian state, however efficient; but he feels very keenly that the direction and the extent to which we go in preserving our democratic conception of life and government depends upon the quiet persuasive method of education rather than upon the brute force of the dictator. And in this instance he is thinking not of the ordinary school education of young people—for our present situation abundantly proves that education of the youth is not alone competent to cope with the problem—but rather of further education in adult life. This belief explains his great interest in and enthusiasm for the Adult Education movement with which he is so prominently connected in Metropolitan Boston. Largely in the earnest serious study of the problem by adults lies the safety of the democratic ideal. Through such study, we can establish an attitude of mind which will be truly democratic, which will sense that the fundamental principle of democracy is the principle of sharing; and we can preserve the entire freedom of our educational system, of our religion, of our press, and bring about the evolution of industry from the older fascist into the newer democratic conception, and preserve for ourselves the benefits of the capitalist system.

If we do accomplish this, the present "twilight," admitted by everyone, will prove to be the Twilight before the Dawn rather than the Twilight before the Night.

Seek Bus Line

his belief the enterprise is doomed to failure. He said a few years ago the Middlesex & Boston ran a bus line between Oak Hill and Newton Centre, and Oak Hill residents subsidized this line to the extent of 50 per cent of the operating costs. Because of lack of patronage the line was operated only a few months and since then a number of Oak Hill residents have had a subsidized chauffeur.

Leonard C. Hunt of Rosalie rd. opposed the petition. He said that 35 families in Oak Hill hire Earle Hubley of Dudley rd. to provide transportation between Oak Hill and Newton Centre. Hubbell's monthly income from this service is but $254, he averages 2500 miles per month, and works 15 hours daily. Hunt commented that he does not believe any bus line can do this.

John P. Carr, attorney for the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, said this company several years ago operated a bus line between Oak Hill and Newton Centre from the last of April until August 1st. Eighteen trips a day were made, the average number of passengers per trip was 10, and the line was abandoned because of lack of patronage. Mr. Carr stated he does not believe public convenience requires a bus line to Oak Hill, and he expressed doubt if the petitioner can obtain a franchise to operate between the Newton line and its proposed terminal at Cleveland circle. The matter was referred to the 1936 Board of Aldermen.

man Bowen said it is not good form for the Board to take action on this matter at its last meeting. He favored referring the matter to the 1936 Board. Alderman Temperley said the 1936 Board can do as it wishes and can hold hearings. He favored action on the matter. Alderman Hutchinson said that 18 of the members of the 1935 Board will be members of the 1936 Board and the passage of the order would provide facilities for the 1936 Board to act on this matter.

Alderman Colby said he had given more time to a study of this question than any other member because he was interested by the challenge for action after a delay of four years by past Boards. He said the Assessors have stated that their work is impeded by a mixed up condition of this city in blocks and nothing can be done to remedy this until the Aldermen revise the Ward lines. On a standing vote the Board passed the order. Those voting in favor were: Colby, Floyd, Goddard, Gordon, Greenstein, Hill, Hutchinson, Inches, Lyon, McKay, McKay, Meicher, Temperley and Walker. Those voting against were: Atkins, Bowen, Cronin, Guzzi, Holden and Rawson.

IN THE STYLE PARADE

Fashions in motor cars change as decidedly and as much for the better as do clothing styles. Take this from no less an authority than Maxine Brown, known from coast to coast as America's "Sweetheart of the Air" and as the musical comedy star who did so much to contribute to the success of such stage attractions as "No, No, Nanette," and "Plain Jane."

Miss Brown, who played "Nanette," and "Jane," and who now lives in Detroit, waxed reminiscent when she viewed the smartly styled lines of the new 1936 Hudsons and Terraplines. She recalled the first Hudsons as she drove them some twenty years ago, and compared the smooth, effortless acceleration with the lumbering pick-up of a decade ago which, however, was considered quite the thing then.

"I was just a little girl, then," smiled Miss Brown, "but I can still remember what a thrill I got when I looked at the speedometer and found I was traveling 50 miles an hour. That was some speed for those days. And how that car did bounce and roll around. Not much like the smooth comfort that one gets in this car with the rhythmic ride and radial safety control. I remember how I had to pull on that steering wheel with all my might and in this 1936 car—why—I can hold it with just one teeny little finger. And even when I take my hands off the wheel it keeps right on its course with the new Tru-Line steering."

Miss Brown recalled how when she was driving a Hudson of twenty years ago across the country how tired she was with shifting gears all day. "And now, I can shift with just the flick of a finger, without even taking my hand off the wheel, with the new Electric Hand," she said.

Miss Brown earned her title as "America's Sweetheart of the Air," through broadcasting from an airplane piloted by Iver Skirsky on a coast-to-coast trip. She was the first woman to fly from coast to coast.

Corcoran Made Fire Dept. Capt.

Lieut. John E. Corcoran of the Newton Fire Department was promoted to Captain on Tuesday by Chief Clarence Randlett. He will fill the vacancy caused by the advancement of Captain Henry T. Seaver to Assistant Chief. Corcoran was one of the seven lieutenants who recently took the examination for captain and headed the eligible list. Lieut. Daniel Herlihy of Engine 8 was second on the list, and Lieut. Bernard Neville of Engine 4 was third. Captain Corcoran has been assigned to Engine 4. He was born in Newton Lower Falls, 44 years ago, and in 1916 was appointed to the fire department and assigned to Engine 1. In 1917 he enlisted in the 101st Field Artillery and served overseas with the 26th Division. In 1932 he was promoted to lieutenant in the fire department and assigned to Engine 3. He is the son of Daniel Corcoran of Moulton st., Lower Falls, for many years a fireman at Hose 6 and now retired.

Water Rates To Be Lower

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night a communication was received from Mayor Weeks recommending that the rate for water to users in Newton be lowered from 20c per 100 cubic feet to those using less than 1000 cubic feet per day to 18c per 100 cubic feet, and that the rate for each 100 cubic feet over 1000 per day be 12c. The water rate was lowered about two years ago and it was proposed to have the Aldermen take action on the new reduction at the meeting on Dec. 2nd, but the matter was then deferred until the meeting following election.

Big Sales On Cadillac Cars

Hundreds of Cadillac and LaSalle cars are being ordered for delivery as Christmas presents, it is reported by Don E. Ahrens, general sales manager for the Cadillac Motor Car Company.

"One-half of the orders which our dealers have wired to the factory during the last two weeks specify that the cars be shipped in time for Christmas delivery," said Mr. Ahrens. "This circumstance would seem to lend added weight to previous evidence reflected in Cadillac-LaSalle sales during recent months that America is rapidly returning to prosperity standards of living."

"During November we delivered more cars to purchasers than in any month since May, 1934. It was the largest November that Cadillac-LaSalle has had since 1929. Our November business was more than three times that of November 1934. In the last 10 days of the month, Cadillac-LaSalle deliveries to customers exceeded by 74 per cent our retail volume during the entire month of November, 1934."

"Since announcement of the 1936 series of Cadillac and LaSalle cars in October, the factory has received more dealer orders than in any similar period since 1929. A great many of these orders have been for immediate delivery to purchasers who are re-entering the quality field."

"Many of these purchasers probably hesitated during the depression to display before less fortunate neighbors the implied prosperity of Cadillac or LaSalle ownership. The progressive increase in our vital volume, however, indicates that this restrictive influence is disappearing. The fine car definitely is coming back into its own."

"The 1936 LaSalle line and the new Cadillac V-8, Sixty, Sixty-two, were the first cars to reflect the changing trend. This was due, no doubt, to the fact that lower prices automatically have increased the number of persons able to gratify their ambition to own cars of this type. It became necessary to raise the original factory production schedules on these lines almost immediately after they were announced."

"But the swing has continued on upward to include the ultra-luxurious and more expensive Cadillac-Fleetwood Eight and Twelve and Sixty-tens. The factory now has on its books more orders for this class of car than were received throughout the entire year of 1934, or during the first nine months of 1935."

"In order to maintain required production while preserving the unimpaired, precision methods of manufacture that guard the traditional quality of Cadillac and LaSalle cars, the factory personnel was increased during October and November to the highest levels recorded for these two months ever since the Cadillac Motor Car Company was founded."

Downing was fined $100 on the drunkenness charge and $10 on the drunkenness charge, but the fines were suspended and he was placed on probation for 6 months. Downing was arrested on Dec. 11 at 1:40 a. m., in Newton Centre, and the fact that he had spent a week in jail because he could not furnish bail influenced the judge's decision.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 22.

The Golden Text is: "Every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God" (Hebrews 3:4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee; and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee: or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee: and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee. Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the Lord hath wrought this?" (Job 12:7-9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The universe of Spirit reflects the creative power of the divine Principle, or Life, which reproduces the multitudinous forms of Mind and governs the multiplication of the compound idea man. The tree and herb do not yield fruit because of any propagating power of their own, but because they reflect the Mind which includes all. A material world implies a mortal mind and man a creator. The scientific divine creation declares immortal Mind and the universe created by God" (p. 507).

Jonah to Mr. Vann Orr Newinger; property located at 18 Stoneleigh rd., West Newton, leased to Mrs. Capen Wight to Mr. W. A. Hastings.

Early Toll Roads in Ohio

Tolls on the old National road that ran through Ohio were determined by the wear and tear caused by vehicles and cattle passing over it. In view of their weight, cattle were taxed twice as heavily as sheep or hogs, and, according to the tariff of 1845, hogs were taxed twice as much as sheep. The toll on vehicles was determined, not by weight, but by the width of the tires used, for the narrower the tire the more the roadbed was cut up. Wide tires—those more than six inches and later eight—could pass over free, as they served practically as rollers.

Belief in the Horseshoe

Belief in the horseshoe as an emblem or harbinger of good luck appears to be as old as metal horseshoes themselves which date back to about the Second century A. D. Explanations differ as to the origin of this superstition, but one of the common ones is that the horseshoe is supposed to owe its protective powers to its fancied resemblance to the nimbus or halo pictured about the heads of saints or angels.—Pathfinder Magazine.

First Iron Vessel Built in U. S.

The U. S. S. Wolverine was the first iron vessel built by the United States navy. She was launched at Erie, Pa., in 1844, as the Michigan. Her name was changed to Wolverine on June 17, 1905. She was constructed by Stackhouse & Tomlinson, Pittsburgh, Pa., between 1842 and 1844. Her length (B. P.) was 164 feet, 11 inches; beam, 27 feet; mean draft, 9 feet; displacement, 685 tons.

Where Old Festival Continues
At Aix en Provence, France, was instituted the first Roman garrison in Gaul. The church of Monte Sainte Victoire, near by, perpetuates a victory of Marius. Every April 24 there is a procession from Bavenargues to the mountain to light a bonfire. This, the festival of Marius, is one of the oldest still existing.

Birthstone Months

January, garnet; February, amethyst; March, bloodstone; April, diamond; May, emerald; June, agate or pearl; July, ruby or carnelian; August, sardonyx; September, sapphire; October, opal; November, topaz; December, turquoise and lapis lazuli.

Condition of Race Tracks

Officials of race tracks do not know the exact variation of the track from day to day. A fine, dry track is called fast and a wet, soggy track is called heavy. A track half-way between these conditions is called fair.

Washington Leads in Lumber

Since 1904 Washington has held first place, except in 1914, among the lumber producing states, and in 1923, its peak year, produced 7,546,000,000 feet or one-fifth of the entire cut of the United States.

Musical Term "Measure"

The musical term, measure, is a meter unit simple or compound of fixed length (time value) and regular accentuation forming the smallest meter subdivision of a piece or movement.

Magnifying Electrical Current

There is no way of magnifying the light of a candle a thousand times or a million times, but there is a way of magnifying an electrical current billions of times.

Prevalence of Diphtheria

Diphtheria has been present continually in nearly every civilized country ever since the widespread epidemic in the middle of the Nineteenth century.

As Hi Ho Sees "Humility"

"Humility," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is often the disguise of an arrogant spirit waiting to gather strength for a conflict."

Lone Star State

Texas was an independent republic from 1836 to 1845. Its flag bore a single white star—hence the nickname—Lone Star State.

Streets Named for Trees

Although Panhandle (Texas) is a prairie town with no natural tree growth, 16 of its 52 streets were named for trees.

Kinship and Equality

To share ideas with a man is kinship, and to stand on the same intellectual footing with one's fellows is equality.

Tombstones for Footpaths

Tombstones removed from the parish churchyard at Kingston-on-Thames, England, are used for footpath paving.

Emotion Leads

In real life, as in drama, emotion, more than pure reason, hurries into action all human kind.

Baltic-White Sea Canal

The 150-mile Baltic-White Sea canal, built by Soviet engineers, has 12 locks and 15 dams.

Fish With Needlelike Jaws

The needle fish, a deep-sea denizen, has its jaws elongated into needlelike points.

Lucky Beetle

A beetle is said to be able to dispense with food for three years.

First Steamboat in St. Louis

The first steamboat reached St. Louis in 1827.

Sonata Is Composed of Sections and Movements

A sonata is not a simple piece like a dance. It consists of three or even four sections or movements, each more or less independent of the other, states an authority on music in the Montreal Herald. It generally begins with a quick movement, followed by a slow one, and finishes with another quick or bright piece. The three are related by their keys, making one complete piece of music. Symphonies are also composed in this form. Allegro is a common word often met. It is used in a double sense.

A piece of music is frequently called an Allegro, and the word is used to indicate the character of the piece, which should be played in a lively manner. Andante is used in a similar way, but means almost the opposite. The literal translation of andante is "going." It is generally modified by another term, such as "Andante con moto"—with motion and a little life. Allegro is also subject to the same modification.

The Etude, or study, was invented by Bach. It was originally intended for purely technical purposes, but evolved into a beautiful piece, with Chopin, Henselt, Liszt, and others. Some of them are among the most popular of piano compositions.

Bells "Ring for Gofer," a Merchant Who Was Lost

In Newark Parish church "Ring for Gofer" is a custom which has lasted for over 300 years, says Tit-Bits Magazine. It commemorates the night when a wealthy merchant named Gofer lost himself in the forest which then surrounded Newark and was infested with thieves. Suddenly he heard the sound of Newark's bells and was guided safely home by their music. To commemorate his escape Gofer left a goodly sum for Newark bell-ringers, on condition that they "rang for Gofer" every year on Sunday nights in October and November.

The curfew bell is still rung at Bodmin, and also in the very center of London, at Lincoln's Inn. It is rung every night at nine, just as in former days, when all the barristers and students lived in the Inn and were subject to the despotic rule of the Benchers. The luckless student who was out after curfew was severely reprimanded, and for a second offense was liable to be "dismissed ye House."

Chinaware

Haviland china is made at Limoges, France. M. Charles Haviland established his works here in 1840 to make porcelain for the American market. Dresden china is really Meissen china. The Meissen porcelain factory was established by royal patent in January, 1710, by Johann Friedrich Botzger, whose works were equipped in the castle of Albrechtsburg overlooking the town of Meissen, Germany, a few miles west of Dresden, Saxony, France, is the location of the factory making chinaware bearing this name. It was established here in 1756 with the financial aid of Madame de Pompadour, the factory, with the entire personnel, having been transferred from Vincennes.

Takes Earth's Quake Pulse

Records obtained by the large seismograph installed in an underground vault at the Seismological laboratory at Pasadena, Calif., yield new facts about earthquakes which may cause scientists to develop new theories about the interior of the earth. Most seismographs indicate only the vibratory motions of the earth at a given point, but the Pasadena instrument also takes the earth's pulse by measuring the relative movements of two different points. It responds only to stretches or compressions and indirectly to vibratory movements.

Shorthand Systems

The first published system of shorthand which used a phonetic base was that of William Tiffin (1750) in England. Others were Lyle (1762), Holdsworth and Aldridge (1768), Rose (1802), Phineas Bailey (1819), Townsend (1831), and De Stains (1839). These systems culminated in those of Isaac Pitman (1837) and John Robert Gregg (1888), the last two being the most widely used today.

Bird That Never Dies

The phoenix was a legendary bird of ancient times. It was known for its great beauty, and it was said that when it felt death nearing, it built a funeral pyre of branches, set it on fire, and burnt itself to death. But another phoenix always arose from the ashes. According to one account, the Egyptians worshiped the phoenix, believing that it represented the immortality of the soul.—Pearson's Weekly.

Pheasants Poor Mothers

While the incubator is a satisfactory method of hatching pheasants, the hen has many advantages in caring for the little ones. As mothers, pheasants in captivity leave much to be desired. Instead of worrying with a home and family, the real mothers spend their summer roaming in a large field and "looking pretty."

Borneo Has a Flying Frog

A tree frog of Borneo "flies" from tree to tree. Its toes are unusually long and connected by a web which when spread in mid-air offers sufficient resistance to sustain their owner's body until the frog's goal is reached.

Leading Chinese Tongues

Among the most important Chinese tongues in the United States are the On Leong, the largest in the United States because its local chapters include well-to-do merchants; the Hip Sing, the Ming Gai Hong and the Hoy On—the two latter claim to have more than 2,000 years of history. Tong houses are located in San Francisco, New York and Chicago. The Hip Sing is somewhat similar to a labor union, combining the elements of a merchants' association, chamber of commerce, church, fraternal society, city council, judge and jury and public school.

The Laziest People

The Okavango natives of Southwest Africa are said to be so lazy that they do not seem to care whether they survive "lean" years or not—so long as they do not work. Their "labor-saving" devices include: Poisoning water to catch fish quickly; chopping or burning down trees to get fruit; and burning grassland to drive away wild animals. The Okavango natives should be able to grow and store sufficient foodstuffs to carry them through two or three years of drouth, but that they are too lazy and indifferent to do so.

Prince of Wales

An heir to the throne can become king of England without having been Prince of Wales. The title Prince of Wales is merely that enjoyed by the first born son of the British king. King George V. was never Prince of Wales, but came to the throne as the Duke of York, his elder brother having died before King Edward VII.

Population of New States

Congress, in 1872, adopted a measure which declared a new state must have sufficient population to entitle it to at least one representative. At that time 121,425 persons was a sufficient number. However, later congresses admitted Nevada, Wyoming and other states, although their populations were less than this figure.

Greatest Stellar Outburst

The greatest stellar outburst in the heavens occurred in 1572, when a new star appeared in the constellation Cassiopeia. It was so bright that it could be seen during the day. It was brighter than Jupiter or Venus.

Mrs. Thomas Cumner, contributed a lively bit of comedy while "wiping up" and balancing the mechanical-talented cast.

Hilarity reached its peak as one of the most versatile singers, "Signorina Squallini," Miss Martha Wright, after warbling to the close of a few bars, operatically vocalizing, lost her puppet-like balance and slumped upon the shoulders of the page boys, who struggled to reach the wings with her wheeled platform, all the while valiantly striving to keep the beautiful star from falling to humiliating destruction.

"Ye China Doll Dance," by Marjorie Jones, was enhanced by a costume which took the audience back to the days when chime dolls were dressed in colorful suspender-dresses and blouses.

A pleasing touch of artistry in the "famous exhibition" was carried over into the second part of the program when Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, still costumed as a great musician, played "Hungarian Rhapsody, Number 12," by F. Liszt. The Club Chorus, Mrs. Apolline Blair conducting, sang several familiar and varied numbers, bringing the evening's program to a close with "Auf Wiedersehn" and "Good Night." Mrs. J. Arthur Snyder was at the piano.

Various Events

Junior Past Presidents' Club of Twelfth District

Guest night of the Junior Past Presidents' Club was held last Wednesday evening, at the home of Miss Elizabeth Ellwell, 398 Wolcott street, Auburndale.

Dr. Loretta Joy Cummins gave a very interesting talk on "Care of the Skin and Hair" which was greatly enjoyed by the Club members and their guests. A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Several public school teachers from the various districts of Newton chartered the sixty little boys and girls who were the guests of the Newtonville Woman's club on December 17th at the Club House. The entertainer, Elliott Smith, appeared first with his ventriloquist dummy, Charlie, whose remarks and jokes and winking eyes were a source of much amusement. For the second part of his program, Mr. Smith performed some astounding magic tricks to the great delight of all present.

A large and attractively-trimmed tree was the platform decoration. On the floor around the tree were arranged the dolls for the girls and the toys for the boys, and at one side were placed the surprise boxes, one for each child, containing being clothing, books, games and toys.

At the close of the entertainment, the children were given substantial refreshments in the dining-room, after which they assembled for the program of the tree and Santa Claus. It was the same jovial Santa Claus, Miss Marion Drew Bassett, who has filled this role for several seasons at the Club parties, and who was largely instrumental in establishing the Club's Annual Christmas Party.

Miss Bassett's particular work on the Party committee is to superintend the selection of the children invited and to do all in her power to create for them the Christmas joy which will probably be lacking in their homes.

The Club wishes to thank all who have helped to make the occasion one of happiness for so many little ones, and also one of real gratification to the Club for the privilege of sharing with others.

It is called to attention at this time that Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, of 133 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, will be the chairman again for the 1936 Christmas Party, which will be held to receive or to learn of any toys which can be renovated for use at that Party.

ANY TIME DURING THE YEAR.

Anyone who is discarding toys from this time on can assist in the next celebration by bearing this avenue in mind for disposing of them, and send them to Mrs. Johnson.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Friday afternoon, December 13th, the members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club were entertained by the Candle-Light Trio, who were dressed in very lovely costumes after the fashion of the hoop-skirt period. Miss Marguerite Stiles accompanied at the piano and Miss Muriel French and Miss Celestine Powers played the violins.

The program included selections from Sonata, by Loeliet; Lakme, by Delibes; Divertissement Grec, by Gaubert; Serenade, by Hillman; Pastoral from the Christmas Concerto, by Corelli; Suite Antique, by Stoeckel; Divertimento in D, by Varner; Mazurka eleganta, by Bachmann; and Estrellito, by Tonce.

Miss Miriam Cahaline gave original monologues and readings. Gifts of jams, jellies, and cigarettes, and donations of various kinds were received for the War Veterans.

Mrs. D. Webster Anders and Mrs. Ella B. Wogdon presided at the tea table.

Salvation Army Appeals For Xmas Generosity

A plea for Christmas-tide generosity has been made by J. Leonard Johnson, Chairman, in behalf of the Citizens Committee's Appeal for $5000 to support the Salvation Army's humanitarian activities.

"The response thus far," said Mr. Johnson, "has been liberal and encouraging—but when we consider the indisputably worthy and all-embracing nature of the Salvation Army's work among the needy, the response still falls short of what is desirable."

"Many of the people helped by the Salvation Army are in desperate need because of circumstances entirely beyond their control. Others are in need because of faulty youthful training or environment, or because of defects of character. Nevertheless it would be a grave mistake and harmful to society to ignore their need—and no organization can help them with better results to society than the Salvation Army."

"On Christmas morning, after everyone has been remembered—friends, relatives, and family—what could be a finer impulse of the Christmas spirit, and what could more fittingly complete your giving, than to sit down and write out a check to the Salvation Army for those others, the anonymous strata of the poor, the helpless, and the discouraged."

Checks made out to The Salvation Army may be left with the Treasurer, William M. Cahill, of the Newton Trust Co.

A distinctive feature of Salvation Army relief is that it deals out not only such material necessities as food, clothing and shelter, but also intangibles that public agencies are not equipped to furnish—sympathy, encouragement and hope.

Rev. Everett C. Herrick, president of the Andover Newton Theological School, and a member of the Citizens Committee, makes the following statement:

"One of the great agencies for rehabilitation and rescue is the Salvation Army. It has come to be one of our indispensable agencies for the relief of the helping hand and the loving heart. It is not enough to say that it deserves our help, we need it for meeting the problems of human need in which we all have a responsibility."

Salvation Army collectors will continue their house-to-house calls to invite contributions until at least Christmas. They may be distinguished from other solicitors for money by their wearing full Salvation Army uniform, and by their presentation of credentials from New England Headquarters of the Salvation Army, signed by Colonel Joseph Atkinson, and from the Citizens Committee Chairman, J. Leonard Johnson of Newton Centre.

For the coming holiday, the Salvation Army will deliver 2100 Christmas dinners in Greater Boston to investigate needy families—reaching over 12,000 individuals. This

Mather Assailed At Meeting of Newton Legion

At a meeting of Newton Post, American Legion last night James A. Mather, a Newton Centre lawyer and a member of the Newton Board of Registrar of Voters introduced a resolution which criticised Kirtley Mather for his opposition to the teachers' oath and his alleged membership in radical organizations. The resolution called on Mather to resign from the Newton School Committee. After a long discussion the resolution was referred to the executive committee of the Post over opposition of Lieut. Col. Henry D. Comerai and other prominent members of the Post. During the World War Mr. Mather served as Captain of D Company, 74th Infantry, Twelfth Division at Camp Devens.

Newton Dramateurs Win New Laurels

Had the Newton Dramateurs been entirely unknown, their production on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week of "The Devil is Host" would have won for them deservedly an excellent reputation. Alexander MacKenzie, President of the Little Theatre League of Greater Boston, speaking at the end of the first act, told the audience that the work to which they had just listened represented standards of artistic merit to which the League was aiming to assist its member organizations to attain. The audience, which included several visitors from other communities who had come to watch the work of the Dramateurs with critical eyes, was enthusiastic at the close of each act.

The play bore the results of most thorough and intelligent drill under Wm. C. Grabbe, director, and the portrayal by George H. Rand of "M. Duval," the host with clairvoyant powers to expose and straighten out sinful lives, showed high appreciation of the subtle satire of the text. The members of the supporting cast were Robert Currier, Muriel Pearce, Jack Purple, Dan Smith, Louise Adamo, Donald Stimpson, Jr., Kenneth Locke, Celeste Callaghan, George H. Rand and Robert Twetart. The members of the production staff were Stanley Horton, Jr., Richard Gray, Edward Swainson, Adria Saunders, Olive Webster, Isabel Skipworth, Ernest Ward and Pearl Drew.

I., is in charge of the decorations for the annual Christmas Dance that is being held by the students of Damon Hall in Newton this evening, December 20, at the school on Fairmont ave., Newton. Miss Bernice Goldstein and Miss Priscilla Wales are in charge of the favors. Miss Marion Winchenbach of Gardner, Mass., and Miss Sylvia Chase, faculty members, are responsible for the music. Miss Irma Rabinovitz is planning the refreshments while Miss Marjorie Kendrick from Chatham is the treasurer.

In the receiving line will be Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Damon, Dean Joan Damon Richards, Florence Hastings, President of the Senior Class; Margaret Harney, President of the Junior Class.

About sixty carol singers from the school are bringing happiness to the old people at the Annah F. Osgood Home for Aged People in Dorchester and the Mt. Pleasant Home in Jamaica Plain. Mrs. Zula Doane Sanders is in charge of this part of the Christmas activities of the school. Christmas baskets are also being distributed by a committee of students under the direction of Clarice Carroll.

Bruce Resigns As Executive of Boy Scouts

Will Be Secretary of Newton
Community Chest

A hundred and eighty-three Scouters attended the dinner at the Levi Warren Junior High School, West Newton, on Thursday, December 19th. Rev. Carl M. Gates of Wellesley Hills gave the benediction. As this meeting is to be the inauguration of the Norumbega Council Training program, Mr. W. R. Speirs, the Assistant Scout Executive, explained about the training course and a number of the Scouters signed up for the four courses, The Elements, Principles, First Aid and Craft Courses to be conducted in January 1936.

The meeting adjourned to the Assembly Hall of the Levi Warren Junior High School and Mr. A. Leslie Harwood Jr., president of the Norumbega Council Inc., explained the situation concerning the resignation of Mr. L. A. Bruce Jr., who has been Scout Executive of this Council for eight years. Mr. Harwood said:

"We announce with sincere regret that Mr. Lyscom A. Bruce, Jr. has submitted his resignation as Scout Executive of Norumbega Council and that the resignation has been accepted by our Executive Board. We are very glad to state that Mr. Bruce will, beginning January 1, 1936, be the full time Executive Secretary of the Newton Community Chest.

"Mr. Bruce has been our Scout Executive for about nine years. Under his guidance and expert leadership Scouting has developed into a most effective instrument for the welfare of our youth. Not only have our boys the opportunity to train and develop through a program thoroughly adapted for their needs but they are served by a group of volunteers who are a cross section of the best citizenship of our community. The result achieved did not just happen. It is the result of foresight, thought and the capacity to create and put in operation a working plan for boys and men, and the key man in the planning, installation and operation of the scheme has been Mr. Bruce. The sacrifice of very much of his time outside of usual working hours, the desired end has been accomplished. Always working for the good of those he served, never acting with any selfish interest, he is responsible for and has made Scouting in Norumbega. Never more capable than now, he leaves for a greater task. We wish him good speed.

"Mr. W. R. Speirs has for several years been our Assistant Scout Executive. During the past eight or nine months he has had most of the responsibility of Scout Executive and the improvement he has shown during this period has been remarkable. The office of Scout Executive is filled by recommendation from the Local Council, approved by the Regional Office and approved by the National Headquarters. Naturally your Sub Committee considered the availability of Mr. Speirs for the office of Scout Executive. The problem has been discussed with the Regional Office and we have been given to understand that if Norumbega Council desires to employ Mr. Speirs as Scout Executive that the recommendation of our Council will probably be approved by Regional and National Headquarters.

"Professional Scouting however is a career job and experience definitely proves that certain types of training are prerequisites for an efficient executive. Mr. Speirs has only had part of the training which he and others well qualified to judge feel essential. In the final analysis it became a question whether it would be just to our boys—this is the paramount consideration—and whether Mr. Speirs would be fair to himself if he accepted the position. Both Mr. Speirs and ourselves have taken much time to consider and we have each consulted locally, regionally and nationally. He has decided to make scouting a career and it is his decision that it would not be best for him to accept as our Scout Executive in case he was recommended by us and approved by our regional and national bodies. The Sub Committee agrees that he has made a wise decision.

"But Mr. Speirs will remain as our Assistant Scout Executive and will function as Scout Executive until our Executive Board has had ample time to thoroughly canvas the field and select a new Executive and he will remain also until our Regional Office is able to place him in a better field which offers the opportunity that he seeks."

The reports from the various officers were presented. Mr. F. A. Day, treasurer of the Council, presented the financial statement of the year 1935 to date. He explained that as a result of the Payment, the mortgage on the Nobscot Reservation had been paid in full and $500.00 has been placed in the Newton Centre Savings Bank as a backlog for an emergency. Mr. A. C. Blunt, Jr., the Director of the Division of Camps and Camping presented a very encouraging report concerning Nobscot. A new Ranger has been hired who is proving most satisfactory and the attendance at camp has increased considerably this year. Mr. Blunt pointed out that the Norumbega Council led the entire nation for the number of boys registered to attend the Jamboree in proportion to its population. Mr. Douglass Francis, Chairman of the Division of Cubbing, presented a very gratifying report that the Division of Cubbing has increased to a new high membership mark of 300 Cubs. He pointed out that the Cub program as a result of the training that the leaders have received has gone ahead. Mr. G. D. Marcy reported on the Senior Scout program which is now under way. Trained leadership is necessary to hold the older boys not necessarily a new program. Mr. L. D. MacNutt was absent and his report was read by Mr. Harwood. Mr. MacNutt is Chairman of the Division of Examinations and Awards. Advancement is better this year than last.

Mr. W. R. Speirs the Asst. Scout Executive of the Council, thanked the members of the Council for their cooperation during the past six months and commented briefly on the need for training. He said that they should take as their slogan for 1936 — "An Ounce of Training Is Worth a Pound of Messing Around." Mr. Samuel P. Allison, the Scout Commissioner, presented the account of the enrollment of the Council and told about the work of the District Commissioners with their districts. Mr. Harwood then turned the meeting over to Mr. Wm. V. M. Fawcett, Chairman of this Council Dinner Meeting. Mr. Fawcett is First Vice-President of the Council. Mr. Fawcett introduced the Scouts from Troop 1A who, under the leadership of Mr. Edward Patterson, Scoutmaster, presented an excellent, light, skit entitled "The Great Secret." Mr. Peter Hanson and Mr. Donald Fifield of Troop 7, Wellesley, gave an amusing dramatization of "The Value of Leadership Training." Following this Mr. Fawcett presented Mr. Gunnar H. Berg and in doing so he paraphrased Mr. Speirs' remark — "An Ounce of Training Is Worth a Pound of Messing Around," by saying that an ounce of training is worth a ton of enthusiasm and he went on to point out how this was very apparent when you saw an enthusiastic skipper sailing along side of a trained skipper. He went on to tell about Mr. Berg's career in Scouting and how he became the Director of Volunteer Training. Mr. Berg spoke very interestingly and told how the boy urges and boy needs were met and satisfied by the Cub, the Scout and the Seascout program. He went on to point out that training is necessary in order to understand boys and how to give leadership to boys in all phases of boy work. After Mr. Berg closed his talk, Mr. C. Warren Dillaway and his group of singers led the Council in the vespers song which closed the 1935 Norumbega Council meeting and opened the Council Training Five-Year Program for 1936.

Non-Partisans to Form League

A meeting will be held at Elks' Hall, 425 Centre st., Newton, on Sunday at 2 p. m. to organize a Newton Voted Non-Partisan League. The meeting has been called by Henry I. Morrison, who was a candidate for alderman-at-large from Ward 2 at the recent election. He stated at some of the rallies where he spoke that he would endeavor to form such a league to offset alleged machine control of politics in Newton.

the consideration of the alternative route for the parkway. Then it was that certain members of the Newton Planning Board rightly joined with other citizens of Newton in protesting at hearings before committees of the Legislature on the impractical change of route for the parkway.

Powerful influence caused the Metropolitan District Commission to cease opposing the change of route and pushed the matter through the Legislature at a big increase in cost to the public. Subsequently Dr. Thorndike acquired a financial interest in the former ice company land, now owns it and is endeavoring to have it changed from single residence to business zone. If this change is made, business blocks, gasoline stations and what not will abut Hammond Pond, within a few years after the people of Newton and other parts of the Metropolitan District had to pay $40,000 or more for the changing of the route of the parkway near this pond. And this change was made at the insistence of Dr. Thorndike and other residents of Chestnut Hill to preserve the alleged beauty of the pond and its surroundings.

The docket of the Aldermen on Monday night contained a unanimous recommendation from the Claims & Rules Committee giving leave to withdraw on Dr. Thorndike's petition. But this matter was referred back to the committee. It will be interesting to see what action, if any the Aldermen will take on it at a special meeting they are to hold next week. It might be well to recall at this time that those who opposed the change of the parkway route argued that conditions affecting the ownership of the large estates near Hammond Pond would probably be different within a few years.

Mayor Approves Oak Hill Zoning

Last Friday Mayor Zoning signed the amendment to the zoning ordinance creating a business zone at Oak Hill. The Board of Aldermen on the preceding Monday night voted to change part of the single resident district at Oak Hill to a business zone. Because of a protest signed by a large group of Oak Hill residents, the Mayor delayed approving the change. He signed the order when he found that a much larger number of Oak Hillites favored the business section. It will adjourn the proposed parking space and playground in that section.

Noisy Garage Case Not Prossed

Last Friday Edward J. Bushell, assistant district attorney of Middlesex County not prossed a case against Edward A. Hington of 38 Clarendon st., Newtonville. On July 11th, Hington was fined $25 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court after persons residing next to a garage conducted by the defendant at 719 Washington st., Newtonville had complained they had been kept awake and disturbed late nights by a radio in the garage and the noise caused by repair work on automobiles. Hington took an appeal and when the case was called in the Superior court last week, his attorney asked for an examination, and the not prossing followed.

Tells of Trip With Byrd At Camp Reunion

"Bud" Waite Thrills Campers With Experiences

Tales of the land where the night is six months long, where a pall of boiling water freezes solid in seven minutes, where the temperature reads 72 below zero, and where snow is sawed into blocks for shelter were told to 190 boys and their parents at the annual reunion of Camp F. A. Day at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last evening. For nearly two hours Amory "Bud" Waite of Quincy thrilled his listeners with vivid pictures, graphic descriptions, and thrilling incidents of experiences at the "bottom of the world" where he spent many long months as chief radio operator with the second Byrd Antarctic expedition to Little America.

Beginning with the outfitting of the two expedition ships, the "Little Bear" and the "Jacob Rupert" and several exciting incidents of leaks, hurricanes, stowaways which took place on the voyage down the story unfolded step by step. Reaching the Ross ice barrier and unloading tractors, aeroplanes, scientific equipment, gasoline, food supplies for man and beast and the many tons of other essential materials. A description of the land with its mountains of ice and snow, of conditions which are even difficult to realize, and a historical outline of previous attempts to reach the South pole and to explore the surrounding territory gave the story a setting which will long live in the minds of his audience. The trip to establish the advance base where Admiral Byrd later took up his solitary vigil of nearly six months one hundred miles inland from Little America and the necessary precautions which were taken to map out a safe trail were thoroughly explained. Life in the main camp, the failure of Byrd's radio and the trip of Waite and two other members of the party to Byrd's relief were of exceptional interest. The summer expeditions which brought discovery of mountains bearing minerals of many kinds and which have added a great

On Tuesday Chief Randlett announced the promotion of Lieut. Captain Herlihy was born in Salem 51 years ago and came to this city with his parents when one year old. He is the son of Mrs. Catherine (Walsh) Herlihy and the late Jeremiah Herlihy. He was appointed to the Newton Fire Department in 1910 and served with Hose 4 and Ladder 1 for many years. He was made a Lieutenant in 1924. He is married and has four children. Captain Herlihy resides at 724 Watertown st. He headed the eligible list for Captain.

The prohibition of parking on the south side of Beacon st. between Langley rd. and Union st. has been lifted and one-hour parking is now permitted there.

Newton Aviator Has Close Call

Ralph W. Kenyon, 345 Linwood ave., Newtonville, well known aviator, had a miraculous escape from death on Monday when an amphibian plane he was flying crashed near Hudson, N. Y. The motor, located above and at the rear of the pilot's seat broke apart. Kenyon glided the plane about two miles toward a landing and then steered one wing into a tree so that the dangling motor would not crash down onto him. He escaped from the wreck of the plane uninjured.

Award Oak Hill Sewer Contract

Last Friday Supt. of Streets Mahoney, with the approval of PWA officials, awarded to V. Barletta of Roslindale the contract for laying the main line sewer from the Charlemont section near Upper Falls to Oak Hill. His bid was $220,923.40; the lowest submitted. The highest bid on this project was $363,910.48. It is possible that a considerable quantity of rock may have to be blasted. The length of this sewer will be about 1 1/2 miles.

Young Thief Gets Leniency

William Ludgate, 17, of Brayton rd., Framingham, was found guilty in the Newton court on Tuesday of the theft of articles from two Newton homes where he had obtained employment as a window cleaner. On September 12 he took a silver knife and a cigarette case from the home of Mrs. Rebecca Gugenheimer, 39 Crosby rd., Chestnut Hill. Two weeks ago he took a watch valued at $100 from the home of Stuart Stone, 67 Cloverdale rd., Newton Highlands. He sold the articles in Boston and they could not be recovered. Judge Weston sentenced Ludgate to nine months in Middlesex County Prison and then suspended the sentence on condition that Ludgate make restitution to the persons from whom he had stolen the articles.

The Newton School Committee at its last meeting of this year on Monday night adopted a budget of $1,511,322 for the coming year. This was an increase of $43,000 over the budget for 1935. Of the total budget $1,250,000 is for salaries which were increased $14,600 over 1935. Much of this increase in salaries is to meet automatic increases in teachers' salaries, but eight other increases were voted to members of the school staff. The committee did not make public the names of those to receive these increases, but it is understood that some of them are principals of schools. One item that caused a $6000 increase over last year was an advance of 50c per ton in the cost of coal.

Supt. of Schools Warren requested the committee to adopt a rule which will require in the future that teachers who will be appointed to a tenure of office must obtain a certificate of health from the Board of Health. At present only a certificate from any physician is required. Committeeman Mather stated that at the next meeting of the Board he will move that Supt. Warren's request be adopted.

The School Committee authorized the appointment (or election) of Paul Z. Rummel as curator of a newly established Library of Teaching Aids for the Newton School Department at a salary of $510 from January 1 to July 1 of next year. Rummel is a "teaching fellow" of the Harvard Graduate School of Education and is the first to be appointed under an agreement made some months ago between the Newton School Department and the Harvard Graduate School. Harry Bryant, member of the school committee from Ward 2, who voted against the tie-up between Newton schools and Harvard when the arrangement was made, voted for Rummel's appointment because it is a specialized position which perhaps might not be filled by a Newton resident. Bryant stated that had Rummel's appointment been for a teaching position, he would have voted against it. The committee passed a resolution commending the services during the past six years of Walter R. Amesbury who is retiring as a member of the School Committee from Ward 4. The resolution read—"At this final meeting of the School Committee under the chairmanship of Walter R. Amesbury, the School Committee reports its deep appreciation for the service he has rendered as its chairman during the past two years and expresses its great regret that the fine relationship that has existed must now be officially severed."

Fires On Christmas Day

A slight fire occurred on Christmas morning at 11:25 in the home of Burdett Hall, 19 Virginia rd., West Newton. An alarm was sounded from Box 35. Christmas noon a still alarm brought Engine 3 to the home of Lewis Pilcher, 43 Parker st., Newton Centre, to extinguish a roof fire.

MAYOR WEEKS' FUTURE

On next Wednesday afternoon Mayor Sinclair Weeks will retire from city hall, having served as chief executive of the city of Newton for six years. These six years were preceded by several years' previous service upon the Board of Aldermen. Though Mayor Weeks retires from city hall he probably does not intend to retire from public service. It has been strongly intimated that he will be a candidate for the United States Senate. It has also been rumored that he will first seek a seat in the National House of Representatives. The proper time will come when he will doubtless make his intentions and desires public. As alderman and mayor he made many friends, some enemies. He failed to satisfy everyone. Though some seem to think it is possible there is no man in public office who can accomplish such a thing. Although we occasionally differed from Mayor Weeks we feel that he has given the city an excellent administration through a trying period. We know that as he reaches other offices he will bring to the problems that he will then face the sound judgment and study that will be demanded of him. With the New Year we extend to Mayor Weeks our best wishes for the future.

COMMENDED BY ALL

The final meeting of the year of the Newton School Committee was held this week. The members of that committee introduced and adopted a resolution highly commending the personality and efficiency of Walter R. Amesbury, their chairman. Mr. Amesbury has served the residents of Newton for the past six years as the member from Auburndale and has presided as chairman for the past two years. During his two terms upon the school board he had the enviable record of never having missed a regular or special meeting of the committee. His standing among his fellow residents of Auburndale is indicated in the fact that he was unopposed both times he was a candidate. His standing as a committeeman and as chairman are recognized in the commendatory resolution of his association on the committee. Although less tangible we are confident that he has earned the respect and admiration of the residents of Newton and we take whatever liberty may be necessary in expressing their appreciation and thanks for the loyal and faithful services he has rendered.

OUR NEW CITY GOVERNMENT

Next Wednesday afternoon Mayor-elect Edwin O. Childs will again take up the office which he served faithfully for sixteen years. The Board of Aldermen with three new members, eleven re-elected members and seven members whose terms do not expire until next year and the school committee with one new member, two re-elected members and four members whose terms do not expire until later will organize for the coming year. There are many problems in the coming months which will require the study and consideration of the executive and legislative branches of our city government. We take this opportunity to wish for them a successful continuation of the high type of government that has always been characteristic of the city of Newton.

NO SNOW REMOVAL IS UNUSUAL

Although many people like to see a white Christmas and although many persons are able to earn something by shoveling the city has been fortunate in not having to make large expenditures for snow removal so far this winter. With but four days more in 1935 it is quite possible that it will be unnecessary to spend a cent for this work—a most unusual occurrence.

Santa Claus' trail will soon be covered by the usual blizzard of Christmas bills.

Christmas in Newton saw the usual activity with literally thousands of private parties and celebrations in observance of the day. Santa Claus did not forget to provide for many of the unfortunate young and old throughout the city. At the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children in Oak Hill the eighty children who are patients there were made as merry as could be with the attentions showered upon them. Mrs. Nellie S. Smith, superintendent, and the hospital attendants distributed to each child the offerings of individual and organizations who shared in bringing happiness to their charges. In the morning the children awoke to find a filled stocking at the foot of each of their beds which Santa Claus had left. After the nurses finished their morning rounds gifts were distributed to each child. Besides presents from the parents of the children there was a warm sweater for each from Mrs. Matt B. Jones of Newton Centre, oranges and grapefruit from Mrs. William L. Benedict of Chestnut Hill, and apples from Mrs. Frank A. Day of Newton. The Rotary Club of Newton contributed a gift or toy to each child while other toys and candy were presented from the Massachusetts Chapter of the National Park Seminary Alumni, the Newton Centre Women's Club, the Central Church Sunday School, Clarence A. Lindskog of Melrose Highlands, Mrs. Harold Cutler of Beacon St., Boston, and Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller. At noon time a Christmas dinner, the gift of Mrs. Edwin P. Brown of Chestnut Hill, was served.

The Community Christmas trees, private and commercial outdoor illuminations have been the object of vandalism upon the part of youths during the past week and the police have been kept on the alert in an attempt to prevent the stealing of bulbs. Such wanton destruction and misappropriation should be quickly and drastically punished. It seems too bad that parents of these youths either do not take the time or trouble to instill into them the respect for other persons' property as well as to respect the fact that, although the practice has become highly commercialized in recent years, the basic meaning of the Christmas lighting has a meaning in keeping with the observance of the season.

Gradually the large estates, large and older houses of Newton are passing out of existence. Throughout the city one who is acquainted with Newton as it used to be finds a great number of estates divided into single house lots, a large number of the large and older houses have been torn down and the lot either stands vacant or is now occupied by two, three, or more residences according to the size of the property. The changes in the times have rendered useless these fine old houses and mansions. No one wants to live in them. It is not worth the large sums that would be required to renovate the residence so that it would be desirable, and quite naturally they fall into such condition that all that can be done with them is to tear them down. Most of these old houses are extremely well-built, erected by good material and by excellent workmen and although some of the material is salvaged and used in one way or another it is unfortunate that the entire situation just has to exist. A few weeks ago we noted the razing of the old Alden house on Centre st. Now another Centre st. residence, that of the late Dr. James E. Wiley, at the corner of Wesley st. is in the process of being removed. Dr. Wiley had this residence constructed early in the 1900's and presented it to his wife. The interior finishing of the house was of the best. The best woods, with fine and beautiful grain, were selected and used to the best advantage as many of the former patients of the well-known and well-liked physician will recall. A few years ago the property with about a hundred foot frontage on Centre st. and some two hundred and more depth was purchased by Dr. H. H. Powers, former Cornell professor and well-known Newton resident. Recently the buildings on the property were sold to a building wrecking concern and although at some future time it is possible that single residences might be erected there Dr. Powers has no immediate plans as to the future disposition of the land.

Hundreds of Newton men dependent on WPA relief and who with their dependents have been in straitened circumstances for several weeks because of failure of the WPA to send checks, received the back pay due them on Tuesday and Thursday of this week. The Newton WPA workers were more fortunate in obtaining their pay before Christmas than were those in other cities and towns in this State. For the past few weeks these men and their families had to obtain food orders from the Newton Welfare Department.

Miss Florence Alexander of 606 California st., Newtonville, will hold an exhibition of oil paintings in the Art Room of the Main Library from December 30 to January 11.

Miss Alexander is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art, and studied landscape painting in San Diego, California, under Otto Schneider and Alfred Mitchell. She is a member of the Gloucester Society of Arts and exhibited in their show this summer. Miss Alexander held a recent exhibition at the No. 10 Gallery, Newbury st., Boston and expects to hold other exhibits this spring.

From Newton Republican, Dec. 30, 1876

Christmas is always a bright day in Newton and its observance in 1876 was fully equal to that of former years. Many of the church services of the preceding Sabbath were of an appropriate nature, especially at the Episcopal and Catholic churches. On Monday evening several of the churches had Christmas festivals with the time honored Christmas trees. Those Newtonians who are happy in the possession of fine pieces of horse flesh betook themselves to the Brighton rd., or some other favorite sleighing ground for a part of the day, and the streets of the city were musical with the jingle of bells. Very little business was done, the general plan being to thoroughly enjoy the good cheer that comes but once a year.

The capitalists who start and put through to completion a horse railroad which shall connect all the Newtons with each other, and with the steam railroads, will be sure of a good investment.

The evening school held in the Lincoln school house at Newton Corner closed last Friday evening for a vacation during the holidays. The examination of the pupils of this evening school held by the school committee revealed results that it would have been thought impossible to have accomplished in the short time since the school opened on November 1. No department of school instruction deserves greater favor from the citizens than this evening school. During the evening there were readings, songs and speeches by the school committee and friends of the pupils. Interpreted by declamations and dialogues by the students. Prizes were awarded to pupils who had made the most progress during the term. First prize, a Webster's dictionary, was awarded to James Flanagan; second prize, two books, to John Fallon; third prize, a book, to William Manning; fourth prize, a book, Daniel Mahoney; fifth prize, a book, to Louis Brummel, colored.

The committee on finance at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night reported that they had examined the books and accounts of the City Treasurer. They did not find all the vouchers they expected, but do not think there is any evidence of dishonesty on the part of the treasurer or his deputy. They condemned the system of bookkeeping now in use in the Treasurer's office, and recommended that with the new year a new and better system be established.

50 YEARS AGO

From Newton Graphic, Dec. 26, 1885

At a recent temperance address before the young women of Lasell Seminary, many of their number at the close of the lecture pleaded to abstain from the use of alcohol in any form as a drink.

A group of 12 little girls in Newton Centre called the "Country Week Club" held a fair last Saturday in behalf of the Newton Cottage Hospital. They are gratified to report that they secured $150 after all expenses were paid. They gave this sum to the children's ward of the hospital.

The grand event at the high school this week was the prize drill in calisthenics on Saturday evening given by the lady pupils at Elliot Hall. The hall was crowded to repletion, even the standing room being all occupied. On the stage were seated Mayor Kimball, members of the city government and invited guests. At a little after 7 o'clock to the music of the Cadet Band Orchestra, the 68 young ladies marched into the hall and executed a series of military evolutions with a precision and accuracy truly surprising. The several movements were received with unstinted applause; the boys of the respective classes, who were present in force, making the hall reverberate with vigorous "rahs!" The enthusiasm of the boys was boundless. Loyal to their respective classes, they shouted themselves hoarse in behalf of their favorites.

The Newton Club will give a public reception tomorrow evening in honor of Mayor Charles E. Hatfield. The occasion will be notable from the fact that Governor and Mrs. Eben S. Draper will be present and will receive with President and Mrs. James L. Richards and Lieut. Governor Louis Frothingham. The Governor's party will be attended by the military staff. There will be two orchestras and following the supper dancing will be enjoyed until 12 o'clock. The club desires the announcement that the reception shall be intended as an invitation to all citizens of Newton to attend with their families.

Newton Graphic, Dec. 24, 1925

The first community Christmas observance held in West Newton took place Wednesday evening at the Eden avenue playground under the auspices of the West Newton Community Centre, and was successful beyond the fondest expectations of those responsible for it. Mayor Childs in a short address praised the efforts of those who are endeavoring to stimulate community spirit and the proper observance of Christmas.

Powers' Paragraphs

Two hundred and seventy-five men and youths obtained from 3 days to a week's work as temporary assistants during the Christmas rush in Newton postoffices and at additional quarters established in this city. Most of these were residents of Newton, but at the temporary mailing unit at 346 Centre street, Newton, the 75 or so men and youths employed were largely residents of Brighton. Applicants for these postoffice temporary positions were told before Christmas that married men with dependents would only be considered, but many single men and youths were given work. Many of these are in straitened circumstances and worthy of the relief procured. Some youths, however, were given this employment, are sons of fathers who hold positions paying good incomes, and it is neither to the credit of such selfish fathers, nor the politicians and postal officials who insisted in obtaining this work for crime youths, that they kept poverty stricken fathers of families from getting a little much needed cash at Christmas time.

Much ado has been made the past week concerning the hasty departure from this country of Charles A. Lindbergh, his wife and their son, alleged by because of threats received. The press has contained criticisms by meaning the fact that so famous and idolized a character as Lindbergh had to practically flee to England because there is no respect for law and order in the U. S. A., and crime is rampant here. Unfortunately, there is not a great deal of respect for law and order in this country, crime is all too prevalent and there is a growing contempt between politics and crime. One evidence of the latter has been the number of pardons granted to murderers and hardened criminals in late years in Massachusetts.

But, many of the nice, respectable men (and women) who are bemoaning the flight of the Lindberghs are themselves contributors to the sorry condition here which causes law and order to be scoffed at. Crime consists of offenses against the lives, safety and property of people. The worst form of crime is the taking of human life. The most prevalent type of crime in this country today is the reckless operation of motor vehicles which causes the deaths of over 35,000 persons annually in the U. S. A., and serious injuries to hundreds of thousands. In Massachusetts if fewer than 20 persons are killed in any one week by automobiles, public officials "w" about it. And many of the "law abiding" citizens who are waxing indignant about the plight of the Lindberghs ignore automobile laws, drive recklessly, drive under the influence of liquor, contribute to the terrible list of automobile fatalities and casualties. These nice people connive to escape punishment when they violate automobile laws by having their cases "fixed," and have assisted in "fixing" cases for other offenders. Yet, they yap about disrespect for law and order.

It is deplorable that the Lindberghs' first child was kidnapped and murdered. It is also deplorable that threats are being made against their second child. But, if Lindbergh had not been built up into a national idol by airplane interests in this country for propaganda purposes and publicized as no young man in the U. S. A., was ever publicized before, it is more than probable that he and his wife would not have been victims of the criminal or criminals who kidnapped their baby. We won't have respect for law and order in this land and crime will not decrease until most of our people (including the hypocritical folks) co-operate in an effort to lessen the most deadly form of crime that exists here now, slaughter and maiming by automobiles.

PWA projects are supposedly for the purpose of giving work and income to unemployed in the cities and towns which are granted such projects. When such projects are awarded to outsiders, connections at very low bids the result is that local residents do not get employment to a large degree. It is to be regretted, therefore, that one of the PWA projects authorized for Newton, the extension of the sewer from Charlestown to Oak Hill, will be done under contract by a man who does not reside in this city. While he must hire many of his employees through the district office of the U. S. Employment Agency at Waltham, it is more than probable that a large percentage of the men working on this big project will not be Newton residents.

One of the inconsistencies in the present chaotic condition of affairs is—that while most persons have been adversely affected by the collapse of our economic life, many are better off than ever. While millions are in poverty and want, the fortunate minority are enjoying even larger salaries or incomes than before the depression. And some of these are not only working regularly with good pay, but are also drawing appreciable largess from the government. Bounty which is paid largely by the majority of the people who have been taking it on the chin the past 6 years. And these privileged ones include many of our demonstrative patriots.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

"Be It Hereby Resolved—"

New Year's resolutions are in order. The customary form is a mental, oral or written determination to correct faults of character, bad habits or similar weaknesses. Maybe I'm wrong again but the proceedings suggest an inferiority complex. Might not a change be made. There are still a few days to think over that which I offer for whatever it may be worth, if anything. Let each draw up resolutions, stating, "Be it hereby resolved that I readjust my faith in my friends, my family and myself and will valiantly strive to keep going in the future as well, if not better than in the past, etc., etc." It ought not to be difficult to obtain a unanimous vote for adoption.

Here Today—There Tomorrow

The new $1 silver certificate is with us. "The world is" is used in a purely academic sense. What I mean to say is that we, the people, have been furnished by a thoughtful Government with a new note as a medium of exchange. When I had my attention called to the 1936 model it was pointed out that there was an entirely new design on the back; that the bill presents both sides of the great seal of the United States, the reverse of the seal appearing on a bill for the first time. I was interested in the preview of course, but as far as that goes any bill, new or ancient, arouses me and were I to receive one as a gift I would shout with joy. In the present instance I am glad I was not asked to compare the new bill with the old for I could not have done so. The reason is that no bill has ever remained in my possession long enough for me to give it careful study as a work of art.

War Called Off

He might well be called an undecorated diplomat. At least he succeeded in averting trouble and that's what diplomats are supposed to do. There will be no credit coming to him for he will not permit his identity to be disclosed even in this modest paragraph. There was a long line at the parcel post window. It was the day of the biggest crowds and therefore the longest waits. A woman who had previously been thwarted in her attempt to cut into the line, without waiting her turn, was becoming petulant. The mood was somewhat infectious and the man behind her began scowling and mumbling. Pretty soon the woman turned and accused the man of pushing while and retorted that she had stepped on his toes. Both appealed to the clerk who, with abundant worries already, was in no position to referee a scrap. The voices of the disputants grew louder and harsher and everybody

Busy Days For Prophets

The trifling perplexities incidental to Christmas giving and entertaining having passed it is now in order to think about the various kinds of weather to be dished up the remaining months of winter. Every time I read what some prophet has to say I admire his positiveness. Without questioning his powers to peer into the future I am momentarily convinced. The trouble is that I don't stay put, or my mind doesn't.

When I accept the views of the man who tells us we are to have an open, mild and delightful winter I naturally rejoice and express disdain of those who argue that a Southern trip is worth while to escape the rigors of our New England climate. Hardly has the smile settled on my face when I pick up another paper wherein is solemnly proclaimed that we are to have the coldest, longest and stormiest winter in half a century. I shudder at the thought and wonder how we are going to manage.

Few of these prognosticators go half-way. I think that if they did it would be much safer as far as their reputations are concerned. But then nobody would pay any attention to them. That no doubt accounts for the one-sided prophecies.

Never Too Old To Learn

With the young people from college for the holidays many a parent finds that the modern system of teaching is far advanced from the days of their own schooling. Of course, the collegians are pretty much on the go but they do pause long enough to remind father and mother that times have changed and that old-fashioned ideas have no place in the present age. It was with a sad expression that a father told me the other day how his son and daughter had started to set the household straight in a number of matters. "They tell us that the customs we enjoyed are out-moded and that we are way behind in our thoughts and standards," he sighed. "We love them both and, because we want to make their visit pleasant, never argue. They'll be off soon after New Year's and then mother and I will settle back in our blissful ignorance and be happy."

Paramount Offers Star Program For New Year's

Will Rogers' last—and greatest—picture, "In Old Kentucky," comes, starting Sunday, to the Paramount Theatre, Newton, for three days only. Adapted from the play whose humor, sunny romance and tingling horse race drama have made it a favorite of three generations of Americans, "In Old Kentucky" stars Rogers in a role that presents his rich down-to-earth character in its most lovable light.

In the picture, Rogers enacts a shrewd and genial trainer of horses, whose homely philosophy and keen wit sets right all the troubles of the impulsive people about him.

Russell Hardie and Dorothy Wilson play the romantic youngsters of "In Old Kentucky." She is the daughter of old Charles Sellen who is feuding with Charles Richman. Although his daughter fights to win Hardie for herself, it is Rogers, shrewd and that finally brings the boy to Miss Wilson. On the same program is Pauline Lord in "A Feather in Her Hat."

Proclaimed the greatest of all sea dramas, "Mutiny on the Bounty" opens a four day engagement starting Wednesday, January 1st at the Paramount Theatre, Newton.

Aside from entertainment, it presents an authentic visual document of one of the most notable chapters of maritime history—the mutiny on the H. M. S. Bounty one hundred and fifty years ago.

In the annals of the sea there is no more fascinating story than that told of the Bounty which set sail from England in 1771, bound for Tahiti. In charge was Lieutenant Bligh a harsh taskmaster. Storms lengthened the voyage, food ran low and as Bligh's temper increased he egged at his underfed and embittered crew. The golden days that followed the arrival at Tahiti temporarily quieted his men, but shortly after the start of the return voyage Bligh's tyranny brought rebellion to the breaking point and his men rose in mutiny. Then followed adventures that have never since had their equal in naval history; Bligh and his eighteen loyal seamen sailing 4,000 miles in an open boat, escaped mutineers seeking refuge with their native wives; Bligh's return and the capture of several of the mutineers; another shipwreck and Bligh again in an open boat at the mercy of the sea on a 3,500 mile cruise; and the final naval court martial back in England with all its tragedy and faded hopes. On the same program will be Lee Tracy and Grace Bradley in "Two Fisted."

Second Anniversary At Coolidge Corner Theatre

Beginning Friday, December 27th, and for the entire week, the Coolidge Corner Theatre, Brookline, will celebrate its second year of wonder shows, with the greatest of them all. Seven days of fun, joy, drama and the finest of entertainment—two big features each one a show in itself.

First there is the season's outstanding feature "Splendor" starring Miriam Hopkins and Joel McCrea. Written by the famous playwright, Rachel Crothers, this smart, sophisticated story casts the glamorous blonde star as Phyllis Manning, a penniless Southern beauty who marries Brighton Lorrimer, (Joel McCrea) scion of a once-great New York family whose sole remaining assets are their name and their Fifth Avenue mansion. Miss Crothers has written a smart, fast-paced, absorbing drama in "Splendor," and it results in grand entertainment. In the supporting cast there is Billie Burke, David Niven, Katherine Alexander and Ruth Weston.

Then there is "Transatlantic Tunnel," the great drama which has for its principal motif the construction of an under-ocean tube between America and England. Richard Dix, Madge Evans, Helen Vinson, C. Aubrey Smith are in the cast, with special portrayals by George Arliss and Walter Huston. From a spectacular and dramatic viewpoint, "Transatlantic Tunnel" provides entertainment of unqualified excellence.

Every evening on the mezzanine the management is serving gratis to its patrons, White House coffee, Drake Cake and Old Gold Cigarettes. When coffee is poured during intermission, it is a good time to join in the merry throng to while away a few moments between pictures in comfort. Meet your friends on the mezzanine.

Just a reminder, arrange to attend the late New Year's Eve show, come as late as 12:00 midnight and see a complete show. Welcome in the New Year here with a revelry of fun.

"Merry Movie" Program To Aid Carolina Poor

"The Friendly Nurse" will benefit by the "Merry Movies" at the Repertory Theatre, this Saturday, December 28. "The Friendly Nurse" is Miss Lydia Holman who lives in Alta Pass, North Carolina and makes it her life work to look after all the poor folk who need her. She sometimes is dentist, she sometimes is doctor, she always is nurse—she sometimes carries toys and books to children who have never had them—she is always on call where she is needed and goes on horseback through the countryside bringing enormous cheer and useful assistance.

The program which will be given to raise money for this work will begin with "Santa's Work Shop," a Silly Symphony, "The Orphan's Benefit," a Mickey Mouse, "The Great Raccoon," a short story of a raccoon, a skunk, a dachshund, and two boys, "Three Little Pigs," "A New Popeye," "Water Babies," "Jumping Champions," a Grandland Rice Spotlight, and "The Rag Dog," a color cartoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 29.

The Golden Text is: "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee" (Isaiah 60:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God's essential language is spoken of in the last chapter of Mark's Gospel as the new tongue, the spiritual meaning of which is attained through 'signs following.' Ear hath not heard, nor hath lip spoken, the pure language of Spirit" (p. 117).

England Has Wading Ferry

England boasts a sea ferry which wades through the water instead of floating on it. It operates between the mainland and an island a quarter of a mile distant and is in the form of a tractor running on an endless track, the passengers occupying a raised platform above the conveyance which plows through the shallow water between the island and the mainland at a pace of two or three miles an hour.—Popular Mechanics.

Flowers, Feminine, Trees Masculine

All flowers and grasses are considered by the Japanese to be feminine, while trees are masculine. Buds represent the female, and perfect flowers are used to denote the male. It's a man's world, after all, for overblown and withered blossoms revert to the feminine gender. The front of a leaf is masculine, but a leaf turning its back is not; and a large leaf gallantly enfolding a smaller one is considered to convey the idea of a man.

The Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet on Monday, December 30th, with Miss Marion Morse, of 161 Alorton rd., "Portuguese and Spanish Possessions in Africa" will be presented by Mrs. Robert Clark. Mrs. Tudbury and Mrs. Goddard will present Current Events, for the program.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Thursday, January 2nd, the Community Service Club of West Newton will hold a Sewing Meeting at the Unitarian Church at 10 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at noon at a moderate price. There is a great deal of work to be done, and members are urged to attend this meeting.

The Christmas meeting of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held at the Unitarian Church on Wednesday, December 18th, with the president, Mrs. George S. Fuller, presiding. After a short business meeting a very delightful program was given by two talented members of the Club, Mrs. Frank S. Tower and Mrs. Hortense Creede Ralsback, and by Madame Conde, a guest. Mrs. Tower's program of piano music was by various composers, while Madame Conde's songs were chiefly French. Mrs. Ralsback gave a one-act play, "The Last Queen," and also "A Christmas Story."

The Club Exchange table was under the direction of Mrs. Harry F. Morse, and tea was served by Mrs. James E. Esson and her committee.

Newton Community Club

Fifty children from the Stearns School were entertained in Underwood School Hall, by the Juniors of the Newton Community Club, on Thursday, December 19th.

Mrs. Alfred Handley, the Senior Club president, introduced the new Junior president, Miss Barbara Golding, who took charge of the Party.

Following some excellent feats in ventriloquism by Mr. Elliot Smith, of Newton, carols were sung by the audience, with Mrs. Wallace Vales directing and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, Junior chairman, at the piano.

Mr. Smith then continued his program, with examples of magic. By scattering a little "Woode Dust", or waving an "Invisible Chinese Hair," he made a great variety of articles appear and disappear in a most amazing manner. Even a live rabbit and pigeon were made to appear from nowhere. Some of the less credulous children tried to expose some of the tricks, only to be still further mystified. This very entertaining performance was enthusiastically applauded by the Club members as well as by the youngsters.

Refreshments were served to the little guests, and to the children of Club members who were present, by the Juniors.

To the music of a March, played by Mrs. Philip R. Cook, the Stearns School children marched to the platform, where each child was presented with gifts from a very handsome, lighted Christmas tree. Each little girl was given a doll dressed by a Club member, and each little boy a suitable toy. They were also given candy and oranges. This event is the fifth Annual Christmas Party to be given by the Junior Club for the children of the Stearns School District in Nonantum.

amount of scientific data to the knowledge of the Antarctic lands and the showing of many slides brought to a close a most thrilling tale of brave men facing danger after danger. Mr. Waite also showed the clothing which the members of the expedition wore and explained the difficulties encountered from frost forming on the face masks and in the eye holes. He told of the diseases that commonly result from living in the extreme cold and from the lack of proper food and interspersed the entire tale with bits of humor and fun which livened up the long trek into the land of snow and ice.

Camp Director Clyde G. Hess was in charge of the reunion which was attended by a record number. Following the usual banquet Mr. Hess introduced Mr. Charles D. Kepner, chairman of the Camp Committee who outlined some of the new plans for the camp season next summer. He spoke of the expected construction of a rest room for the mothers who visit the camp, a new refrigerator system which was necessary and the possible relocation of the midge camp and a number of other plans the committee has under consideration. Mr. Hess then introduced Mr. Waite whose story of life in the "land below" was received with enthusiasm by the entire gathering.

The most famous sanctuary of old England was the cathedral in Durham. Anyone, irrespective of his crime, was safe from all pursuers when he reached its front door and grasped its sanctuary knocker. ### Early Toll Roads in Ohio

Tolls on the old National road that ran through Ohio were determined by the wear and tear caused by vehicles and cattle passing over it. In view of their weight, cattle were taxed twice as heavily as sheep or hogs, and, according to the tariff of 1845, hogs were taxed twice as much as sheep. The toll on vehicles was determined, not by weight, but by the width of the tires used, for the narrower the tire the more the roadbed was cut up. Wide tires—those more than six inches and later eight—could pass over free, as they served practically as rollers.

Belief in the Horseshoe

Belief in the horseshoe as an emblem or harbinger of good luck appears to be as old as metal horseshoes themselves which date back to about the Second century A. D. Explanations differ as to the origin of this superstition, but one of the common ones is that the horseshoe is supposed to owe its protective powers to its fancied resemblance to the nimbus or halo pictured about the heads of saints or angels.—Pathfinder Magazine.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

HARRINGTON STARS AS NEWTON TOPS MEDFORD

Newton High's untied hockey team made a great start last Saturday at the Boston Garden rink, trouncing a veteran Medford team by 4-1 in the first game of the Greater Boston interscholastic hockey league season. Johnny Harrington, slim left wing of the second forward line, figured in three of the four Newton goals, scoring twice himself on passes from John Blodgett, and passing to Howard Milner for another. Teamwork was the main factor in Newton's surprisingly good showing, as six Newton players tallied five assists on the four goals. Medford jumped into the lead early in the first period on a dubious goal, but Newton tied the score later in the period and kept the game well in hand from that point on. Goalie Herb Buttrick did a very fine job in protecting the Newton net, and played the whole game, as did the new defense combination of George Whitehead and Howard Milner. The Newton defense looked as capable as any of the six which played in the Garden last Saturday. In the other league games played, Cambridge Latin lost 3-2 to Melrose and Stoneham beat Rindge Tech 3-0.

Blodgett-Harrington Teamwork Scores

Ernie MacLeod, Bill Daniels and Bob Miner started for Newton on the forward line, with George Whitehead and Howard Milner on defense and John Buttrick in goal. Things were fairly even at first, both lines starting a bit awkwardly. MacLeod and Daniels combined on a rush, but were stopped. The return rally tested Buttrick, giving him the first save of the season. A moment later Ed Richardson and Medford took Stanley's pass on a rush, but Buttrick failing to cover the puck. The goal judge ruled no goal scored, but finally changed his mind, and Medford had a lead of 1-0 at 3m. 40s. Newton's second line, Paul Brown, John Blodgett and John Harrington was on at the time.

Milner had two chances and Whitehead had one, but the first forward line was unable to break away in the following minutes. Buttrick made several good saves. Blodgett, Brown and Harrington came on for Newton, and at once got a good break at the Medford defense, but Blodgett was tripped. Kenty took the penalty for Medford, and Newton staged a real power play, keeping five men inside the Medford blue line. Three rapid shots were stopped by Dolan, but John Harrington got in close and hit the far corner at 10:17, with an assist credited to John Blodgett. Newton held the edge through the rest of the period, as Richardson drew another Medford penalty, and the first line wings returned to the game. With only two minutes to play, Medford threw caution to the winds. MacLeod had two scoring opportunities, racing in on an unprotected goal, but just wasn't able to find the corners.

Increase In Sales Of Pontiac Cars

Pontiac Motor Company continues to show huge gains in retail sales when compared with similar periods of former years. During the first ten days of December Pontiac dealers delivered 3180 new cars compared with 694 during the same period last year and a total for December, 1934 of 1704.

These figures were given out by A. W. L. Gilpin, vice president and general sales manager who points out that many purchasers are taking advantage of the fall announcements and auto shows to give new cars to the family for Christmas.

Retail sales of Pontiac cars in the last three months this year will practically equal those of the first three months of the year, according to Mr. Gilpin, which is another record achievement. "Similar conditions apparently exist all through the industry," said Mr. Gilpin, "which shows to what great lengths the motor car business has gone to even up the production and sales curves and eliminate those periods of the past when employment has been at a low level."

Frank Battles, Inc., 26 Peabody st., Newton Corner, is the local Pontiac Dealer.

Choirs Sing Carols At Central Church

All of the various musical units of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, consisting of Chancel, High School, Junior and Carol Choirs under the direction of Mr. Joseph R. Ludwigson, Director of Music and Religious Education, combined in singing Christmas Carols at the services held last Sunday morning.

In the evening a pageant of the Nativity "Lighted Windows" was presented. The service closed with the impressive candlelight ceremony. In response to many requests, special musical events are being planned to be presented later on by the Chancel Choir. In accordance with the proposed expansion of the musical program, the organization of a Male Chorus is being considered.

White Wins Turkey In Xmas Bowling Tourney

Daniel White, City Comptroller, won the first prize of a large turkey at the Hunnewell Club last Saturday afternoon in the annual pre-Christmas bowling tournament. Mr. White rolled three strings of 114, 128 and 132 to win the event.

Leod at the blue line. Ernie hustled the puck to the backboards, passed out to Bob Miner, perfectly placed at the net, and Miner slapped the all-important goal home at 1m. 52s. It was smart hockey, swiftly and adroitly executed.

Milner, Buttrick Shine

Harrington, Brown and Blodgett staged Newton's third score a few minutes later, at 5m. 05s, to be exact. John Blodgett battled two Medfordites for the puck at the backboards, passed out in front of the cage, and Bob Miner was right there to seize opportunity by the ears, beating Dolan handily. Howie Milner, showing great improvement over last year, worked himself into scoring territory twice, stinging Dolan with a hot drive from the blue line. He then had a defensive relapse, and his hesitation with the rubber near the Newton goal cost Buttrick a few anxious moments before the period ended.

Ernie MacLeod, Newton captain, lost several chances in the last period, appearing to lose poise every time the goal yawned in front of him. Early in the period, on a rush with Daniels, he was tripped when in the open, but no foul was called. Buttrick made a fine save on the return rush. MacLeod was over the Medford first on two successive solo rushes, but first aimed squarely at the goalie's pads, then missed completely. Blodgett replaced Daniels, who was dazed by a rap on the head. Medford pressed the play at this point, but the Newton defense pair of Milne and Whitehead combined luck and efficiency to prevent any open scoring chances.

John Harrington and Paul Brown came on to team with Blodgett, and Harrington, who seemed to have the magic touch, combined with Milner on a scoring rush. Medford was too eager to score, and there was only one defense man to beat when Harrington broke away with Milner on his left. At the blue line he placed a pass on Milner's stick, and Howie coasted calmly into position, turning to make a low shot across Gladys's shine, making the score 4-1. Allan Turner, John Fitzgerald and Westy Littlefield took to the ice as a third line, but Turner took a penalty for slashing, and the first line wings returned to the game. With only two minutes to play, Medford threw caution to the winds. MacLeod had two scoring opportunities, racing in on an unprotected goal, but just wasn't able to find the corners.

Sacred Dance at Vesper Service In Newton Church

The oldest form of worship is being revived and brought up to date. Next Sunday evening, December 29 at 8:00 p. m., Miss Erika Thimey and a group of Newton and Waltham young people will take part in a vesper service of Sacred Dance at Channing Unitarian Church, Newton. The theme of this service, as conceived by Miss Thimey, centers around the "Attitudes of Prayer" used in religious ceremony. Following the usual pattern of worship and making use of the great religious literature and music the form of worship is freshened and vivified by the use of hands, body, facial expression in an interpretation and symbolization of its meaning.

Miss Thimey who graduated from the famous School of Modern Dance conducted by Mary Wigman of Dresden, Germany, comes to Newton from Chicago and New York where her work has received the praise of liberal religious leaders and many intelligent critics in the field of the dance.

This vesper service is sponsored by the young people's groups of the Waltham and Channing Churches. Ministers of both churches will take part in the service, as well as the chorists and organist of the Waltham Church.

All interested persons are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge as this is considered a regular worship service and not an entertainment.

Annual Christmas Party at Newtonville Church

The Woman's Bible Class of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church School held its annual Christmas Party Thursday evening of last week. The psychology of color played an important part in the development of the story in the one-act play, "Christmas at the Old Folks' Home," which was produced by a cast selected from the class. The dear old ladies of the home, sadly reminiscing on other Christmas Eves in their own homes, were depressed still more by gifts from a local organization, scarfs, shawls, stockings and other articles, all so drab and dreary looking. Another box of bright pretty presents, gifts of a young people's group from the church, which arrived at an opportune moment, changed gloom to gladness. One inmate who had declined an invitation to sing earlier in the evening because she was so "tired and old," was accompanied at the little organ while she sang a Christmas carol. The story ended with the serving of tea by the matron and her efficient maid.

Dr. W. J. Lowstuter, the class teacher, conducted an impressive candle lighting service and introduced the special guests, three young men and their wives from the Boston University School of Theology, who were received for the class by the president, Mrs. C. E. Thyng. Refreshments and a social hour followed.
